Mr. WOOD. The committee will be in order.

It must be obvious to everyone here that the committee is operating under rather cramped conditions. I hope the audience will cooperate with us in maintaining order, without the necessity of calling it to your attention too often.

The quarters here are small and the space is very limited, and it will be very greatly appreciated if people in the audience will refrain from smoking, and certainly from audible conversation.

I will ask the members of the press and photographers taking pictures here to try to disturb the proceedings as little as possible.

Mr. Counsel, are you ready to proceed?

Mr. TAVENNER. Yes, Mr. Chairman. We are ready to proceed this morning with the continuance of the Hollywood hearings.

Mr. WOOD. Let the record disclose that there are present members of the committee Walter, Moulder, Doyle, Velde, Jackson, Potter and Wood.

Who is the first witness, Mr. Counsel?

Mr. TAVENNER. I would like to call at this time Mr. Sterling Hayden.

Mr. WOOD. Is Mr. Hayden in the hearing room?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. WOOD. Will you raise your right hand and be sworn.

You solemnly swear the testimony you give before this committee shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you God?

Mr. HAYDEN. I do.

Mr. WOOD. Have a seat.

TESTIMONY OF STERLING HAYDEN

Mr. TAVENNER. You are Mr. Sterling Hayden?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, sir.

Ronald Reagan-4524

Mr. TAVENNER. When and where were you born, Mr. Hayden?

Mr. HAYDEN. March 26, 1916, Montclair, New Jersey.

Mr. TAVENNER. What is your present place of residence?

Mr. HAYDEN. 10731 Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles 24.

Mr. TAVENNER. What is your present occupation?

Mr. HAYDEN. Actor.

Mr. TAVENNER. Will you please state for the committee your educational background, just briefly?

Mr. HAYDEN. Well, I went to public schools in Montclair, New Jersey up until the time I was ten years old. After that we started moving around, and I finished about half of my second year high school at various places in New England, and then quit and went to sea.

Mr. TAVENNER. How old were you when you went to sea?

Mr. HAYDEN. Fifteen.

Mr. TAVENNER. Fifteen?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, sir.

Mr. TAVENNER. What do you mean, you "went to sea"?

Mr. HAYDEN. Well, I simply left home and started working on ships, and worked seven years sailing vessels, fishing boats, and so forth.

Mr. TAVENNER. You followed that occupation for seven years?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. That was my trade.

Mr. TAVENNER. During that period of time did you become master of ship?

Mr. HAYDEN. When I was twenty-one I finally got a master's license and took command of a ship and started making long voyages.

Mr. TAVENNER. During that period of time did you become acquainted with a Captain Warwick Tompkins?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. I met him when I was fourteen, in Boston, Massachusetts. He had a schooner and I wanted to go to work on it, but he said I was too young. I never got to know him too well personally at that time.

Mr. TAVENNER. After the completion of your experiences at sea, when you became ship master, what calling did you follow?

Mr. HAYDEN. Another fellow and I tried to operate a schooner. We didn't have much success. We lost the ship, finally. I was broke and in New York, and through accident I met a producer with Paramount and made a test and got a contract May 1, 1940, as an actor.

Mr. TAVENNER. And how long did you follow that occupation?

Mr. HAYDEN. Well, ever since, except for the war years. I left Hollywood in the fall of 1941 and returned to Hollywood under contract in the spring of 1946, so I was away for five years.

Mr. TAVENNER. Then you were in Hollywood under your first contract between 1940 and 1941?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, sir. Ronald Reagan-4526

Mr. TAVENNER. Will you tell the committee how you obtained your first contract with Paramount?

Mr. HAYDEN. Well, I was pretty much of a fluke. I had never given a thought to going into the acting profession, but the seafaring thing was washed up, and I simply met a correspondent in Boston who knew a producer, and he told the producer about me, and he contacted me in New York and made a test, a very oad test, but it got me a contract with Paramount and I went to work as an actor.

Mr. TAVENNER. While you were on the West Coast serving under this first contract, was Captain Warwick Tompkins on the West Coast also?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. He had at that time, I believe in 1938 or 1937, he had shifted his base of operations from Boston to San Francisco, therefore he was in San Francisco in 1940 when I first got out there.

I felt kind of lost in Hollywood, not really being an actor by inclination, and one time when I was feeling particularly low I decided to pay him a visit. I went to San Francisco and saw him. He at that time, or previously, had become, I believe, an open and avowed Communist. He made no bones about it. He talked about very little else, and he started to deluge me with propaganda.

Mr. TAVENNER. Were you a Communist at that time?

Mr. HAYDEN. No. It had never entered my head.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you recall meeting any other persons at that time who you either knew then or have found out since were members of the Communist Party, through your connections with Captain Tompkins?

Mr. HAYDEN. On one of those visits, I believe probably that it was in 1941, while he was in San Francisco living on his ship, he said he wanted to introduce me to what he called, and I quote, "an old warrior in the class struggle," "Pop" Folkoff. I met him at a luncheon. I thought he was a retired tailor at that time. What he was, I don't know to this day. Who else I may have met that year, I don't remember too clearly.

Mr. TAVENNER. During your first contract in Hollywood, did you join any particular unions or groups?

Mr. HAYDEN. I joined the Screen Actors' Guild, as every actor does. That was all.

Mr. TAVENNER. What was the way in which Captain Tompkins went about consulting with you regarding communism? Tell us a little more in detail about that.

Mr. HAYDEN. All right, sir. If I may change the word, I wouldn't say he consulted with me. I think he recognized I was at a peculiar stage in my life. I was sort of betwixt and between. The sea had always been my calling. This was now denied me, or I had denied myself it. I was feeling restless and dissatisfied in Hollywood. He used the device of talking and talking, and asking why I didn't read more. I had never thought in political terms at all. That was another world, which I am not particularly proud of today.

Mr. TAVENNER. As I understand, your work in Hollywood was interrupted by your service during the period of the war?

Mr. HAYDEN. That it was.

Mr. TAVENNER. Will you tell us the circumstances under which you left Hollywood?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. TAVENNER. But before doing that, had you been engaged in the production of any particular movies prior to your leaving Hollywood?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. I made two pictures. I had only been in Hollywood two weeks when I was cast in second lead in "Virginia," and a short while later in "Bahama Passage."

All during the summer of 1941 I was churning inside, thinking about the war. I would like to claim, but I can't claim, I knew this country was in danger, but I knew something was going on, and I wanted to get in it.

In August 1941--I have the date here so I can give it to you exactly--it was September 15, 1941, I went to the heads of Paramount and said I would like to break my contract and leave for an indefinite length of time. They wanted to know why. I didn't know what to tell them. I said I didn't want to act, I didn't know what I wanted to do, I just wanted to leave. So I did leave. I went East.

I contacted Colonel Donovan, who was then Coordinator of Information. I knew him through his son, who had sailed around the world with me in a schooner. He said he was setting up an organization in which men would be needed to train American troops, or volunteers, because this was prior to Pearl Harbor, in guerrilla warfare, and one of the men thought it a good idea to go to England or Scotland.

I went to Scotland and trained with the Argyll and Southernland Highlanders three months, went to England, went to a parachute school, broke my ankle on the sixth jump, and came back to the United States. I was unable to continue with the training because of my broken ankle, and I did not want to be placed in some administrative capacity, so I went to the Elco Boat Works in Bayonne, New Jersey, and worked with test crews.

Then I was offered a commission as ensign in the Navy, which I declined because I thought I should have a higher rank, since I had been master of ships. I thought I could operate a schooner to the West Indies, because of the shortage of cargo vessels.

Mr. TAVENNER. Was that during the period when the waters in that area were infested with German submarines?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think there were quite a few down there, yes. So I went to the West Coast, bought a half interest in a schooner, and hauled freight for the War Shipping Administration through the late summer and fall of 1942. This was rather a lucrative thing, really.

Mr. TAVENNER. How lucrative was it?

Mr. HAYDEN. If things went smoothly and efficiently, without any trouble, which was not all of the time, we stood to gross between $8,000 and $11,000 per voyage. We were taking detonators and explosives, the theory being it was better to put them on a small vessel, so if it was lost it wouldn't make much difference, rather than put them with the cargo on a large ship.

In October of that year I met with a bunch of Marines in the West Indies, and it entered my head to enlist. I sold the schooner, went to New York, enlisted, and went to Parris Island. That started another phase. Shall I continue?

Mr. TAVENNER. Yes, I would like a full statement of your record.

Mr. HAYDEN. I went through boot camp at Parris Island. At that time two men were selected out of each company for OSS at Quantico. I changed my name to John Hamilton. I changed it because I wanted to get away from Hollywood as much as possible. When I was in boot camp there seemed to be a good deal of curiosity about Hollywood. I changed my name. I was commissioned as Second Lieutenant. I went back to OSS. I don't know the exact date that the Coordinator of Information became OSS,

The OSS shipped us first to Cairo. We were supposed to go to Greece, but we were shipped to Bari, Italy. I went to Bari, and then began a long term of duty with the Yugoslav Partisans there.

Mr. TAVENNER. What was the general character of your work with the Partisans of Yugoslavia?

Mr. HAYDEN. It varied a good deal. They claimed they wanted supplies. The first assignment I had, the first day I arrived in Bari, was to coordinate the handling of a fleet of 28 or 30 schooners. Two weeks later I was placed in charge of the port at Monopoli, Italy. We built up the staff and operated these schooners across the Adriatic. I don't remember the exact dates, but we would frequently go off on reconnaissance expeditions along the coast, along the mainland, trying to get new routes. We got up to Trieste on one trip.

Along about the middle of spring,--

Mr. TAVENNER. Let me interrupt a minute. Will you go back and try to fix the date when you began your assignment at Bari and took over control of the Port at Monopoli?

Mr. HAYDEN. I would say that was the first of December, the first week in December, let me say.

Mr. TAVENNER. Of what year?

Mr. HAYDEN. 1942.

Mr. TAVENNER. And then try, as nearly as you can, to coordinate the narrative with dates.

Mr. HAYDEN. All right, sir. I would say we were in Monopoli six weeks to two months, and during that period of time I made two or three reconnaissance expeditions over into Yugoslavia.

Mr. TAVENNER. What was the purpose of those?

Mr. HAYDEN. To find a more efficient route of supplies to the Partisan forces in the interior, to get the supplies through the German blockade to the forces fighting in the mountains.

Mr. TAVENNER. That means you had to pass a German sea blockade as well as a land blockade?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, it did.

Mr. TAVENNER. And your work was behind the German lines?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, it was, particularly later on when we were working in the interior. At that time we were operating along the periphery of the coast, more or less.

Before I got in the work on the interior, I was put in command, told to take a small fishing boat and operate it across the Adriatic. We could carry five to six tons of supplies, medical and other supplies, into Albania, islands off the Greek coast, and Yugoslavia. I think we made eighteen or twenty trips before the "E" boats patrolling the coast really got wise to what was going on, and it became unhealthy. That operation was abandoned probably early in the summer of 1944.

The next step seemed to be to supply them by air, so we were flown in to various places in Bosnia, in Slovenia, -- I beg pardon. We never could get into Slovenia by air, so we were ordered to march into Slovenia. We had guides and they would take us through swamps where there was no liaison, and we tried to lay out an airfield to bring supplies through.

Mr. TAVENNER. How long did you continue in your work with the underground in Yugoslavia?

Mr. HAYDEN. Until late in November of that year, when I was sent home for a 30-day leave in the States.

Mr. TAVENNER. During the period when you operated with the underground in Yugoslavia, will you tell us just how close your relationship was with the leaders and the rank and file of that movement?

Mr. HAYDEN. Well, of course, being a very junior officer myself, I was a second lieutenant at that time, most of us were lieutenants, we didn't actually come in contact on an operative level with the so-called "brass." We established a tremendously close personal feeling with these people. We had enormous, I would say unlimited, respect for the way they were fighting. I think that respect was reciprocated. We tried to do the best we could. We got quite steamed up by it. I myself was steamed up considerably by it. I had never experienced anything quite like that, and it made a tremendous impression on me. We knew they were Communist-led, we knew they had commissars, but there was very little discussion of that. We couldn't discuss those things very much because we didn't know the language.

Mr. TAVENNER. And you were fighting a common foe at that time?

Mr. HAYDEN. That we were, and I think we conducted ourselves fairly well.

Mr. TAVENNER. You say your relationship with the Partisan movement had a deep effect upon you. What do you mean by that?

Mr. HAYDEN. Precisely this: As I have, I believe, mentioned, in 1940, when I was still an actor, and in 1941, I had had conversations with this man Tompkins. I wish I could describe my first reaction, because I think it would be typical of the experience so many people have had. I was appalled at the idea of what he was telling me about, but I did listen. He would give me literature, propaganda, and I would scan it briefly and burn it up.

When this Yugoslavia thing came up, I wrote to him. I began writing, "Maybe you were not so wrong. These people are doing a magnificent job." I thought I had better figure this thing out.

He, in turn, reciprocated by, I would say, bombarding me with Communist literature-- People's World, Daily Worker, New Masses, and others I can't remember. I was impressed by the fact that the reports of that thing printed in the United States in this literature were accurate as regards the Partisans in Yugoslavia. Apparently the people in the States knew this. This had an effect on me because it made me conscious of what these people knew that apparently the rest of us didn't know. That was about the size of it at that time.

I engaged in quite a lot of correspondence with Tompkins at that time. I was all steamed up. We all were. I can remember in the interior of Yugoslavia when the crews of planes would leave their shoes, anything they could spare, with the Partisans, they were that impressed, and I don't think a G.I. impresses too easily as a rule. This had a strong emotional impact on all of us.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did you have political discussions with the Partisans or any groups of them?

Mr. HAYDEN. No. I would honestly say not at all; not at all. Once in a while when we were back in Italy we would sit around and a few at Bari headquarters would talk a little bit about what was going on, but we never got very much involved in it. I remember a couple times when I would have a story in some of this literature Tompkins sent me, I would show it to them, and they were very pleased. There were no involved or detailed political discussions at all; not at all.

Mr. TAVENNER. Will you tell the committee what the final result and effect was upon you of the correspondence you were having with Captain Tompkins and the experience that you were undergoing in Yugoslavia in working with the underground?

Mr. HAYDEN. The final effect?

Mr. TAVENNER. Yes.

Mr. HAYDEN. The net result?

Mr. TAVENNER. Yes.

Mr. HAYDEN. Well,--

Mr. TAVENNER. Let us put it this way: What was the effect at that time?

Mr. HAYDEN. At that time--I am glad you put it that way--there was a sort of thing churning inside me that I didn't know how to handle, but it seemed there was something in this world that I ought to find out about. That was the net result of the whole thing.

When I got home on leave in December 1944, one of the first things I wanted to do, on a purely emotional basis, was go back and see Tompkins and talk to him about this thing, which I did. I flew out to the Coast and basked in the reflected glory of the Partisan movement. Tompkins sort of showed me off as an exhibit.

Mr. TAVENNER. Before leaving the Yugoslavian section of your testimony, were you recognized in any way by the Government of Yugoslavia or by the Partisans for your services in working with the underground?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. TAVENNER. What was it?

Ronald Reagan-4537

Mr. HAYDEN. I was given a decoration called the Order of Merit. I haven't picked it up yet, but I have the citation. I guess it is at the Embassy. I don't know where it is. The medal itself, I don't know where it is, but I have in my files the citation, the Order of Merit, which I think came for the same operation for which I got a Silver Star.

Mr. TAVENNER. Was that the second highest decoration that could be awarded to a person of a foreign country, foreign to Yugoslavia?

Mr. HAYDEN. I am not sure of that. I have heard that it was, but I am not sure at all.

Mr. TAVENNER. So you received a Silver Star as a decoration?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, sir.

Mr. TAVENNER. And in addition the other decoration which you mentioned?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, sir.

Mr. TAVENNER. On your return to the United States for your 30-day leave, did you again see Captain Warwick Tompkins?

Mr. HAYDEN. That was the first thing I did. I didn't know where I was going to be sent. The Yugoslav situation seemed to be more or less under control at that time. They had gotten the Partisans a great deal more equipment and built them into some semblance of strength, so some of us were sent back to the States, and I was anxious to get in the same kind of work somewhere else. I didn't know where, but I hoped it would be possible to get into guerrilla outfits, because it is very interesting; it is stimulating; it is better than a lot of duty could be.

So I contacted Tompkins. Subsequently, through him, I contacted people in New York who I thought would know about guerrilla outfits elsewhere, as they had had accurate dope about Yugoslavia.

I flew out to San Francisco, met Tompkins, and for five or six days I was on a merry-go-round. He took me around and I talked ad nauseam about Yugoslavia, but they were apparently interested. I met a great many people, some of whom may or may not have been Communists. Some I know now were. At that time I wasn't paying too much attention to that.

Mr. TAVENNER. Let me ask you several questions in detail about that. You were the guest of Captain Tompkins on your trip to the West Coast at that time?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, I was.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you recall whether, on the day after your arrival there, you had dinner with three individuals, including Captain Tompkins, one of whom was Isaac Folkoff?

Mr. HAYDEN. I remember having dinner or lunch with this fellow called "Pop" Folkoff, yes.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you remember where that lunch was held?

Mr. HAYDEN. I do not. Ronald Reagan-4539

Mr. TAVENNER. Was there some other person present at that luncheon with the three of you?

Mr. HAYDEN. I vaguely recall that there was, but I am not sure.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you recall his name?

Mr. HAYDEN. No, sir, I do not.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you know a person by the name of Baroway?

Mr. HAYDEN. I have heard the name.

Mr. TAVENNER. Leo Baroway?

Mr. HAYDEN. I have heard the name. You mean at that time, was this the man in question?

Mr. TAVENNER. Yes.

Mr. HAYDEN. I could not say.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you know whether or not Isaac Folkoff was a functionary in the Communist Party at that time?

Mr. HAYDEN. I do not. I had the idea that he was in some way retired from the "struggle" at that time, as they put it, but from what I have heard since, this is open to question.

Mr. TAVENNER. Will you describe what else occurred on that trip, where you went and what you did while you were a guest of Tompkins'?

Mr. HAYDEN. Well, I wish I could remember everything. I can remember a few incidents, but I don't mean to convey the idea that this is all that happened. We were on the "go" all the time. We went from place to place. Either at that time or on a subsequent visit he took me to the offices of the Daily People's World. I remember meeting Bill Schneiderman and Harrison George. I don't remember anyone else. We went to San Francisco and went aboard a Russian vessel and had a drink. It was all on a social basis.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did you on that occasion meet a person by the name of Steve Nelson?

Mr. HAYDEN. I met Steve Nelson. I don't remember if I met him then or after the war. I know I met him either in December of that year, 1944, or after the war when I saw Tompkins again.

Mr. TAVENNER. In other words, it was either the latter part of 1944 or the latter part of 1945 or early 1946?

Mr. HAYDEN. Or early 1946, yes, sir.

Mr. TAVENNER. That you met Steve Nelson?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. TAVENNER. Regardless of which may be the correct date, will you tell the committee the circumstances under which you met Nelson?

Mr. HAYDEN. It was at a party, or rather a group get-together or gathering in someone's home in Oakland or in San Francisco one evening. There were ten or fifteen people sitting around. Nelson was one of them. I remember being introduced to him because he was supposed to be an outstanding

Mr. TAVENNER. An outstanding figure in what capacity?

Mr. HAYDEN. In their world. I don't remember exactly what I was told he had done that made him outstanding, but I remember Tompkins saying to me in the car, "Steve Nelson will be there. He is quite a guy," or something like that.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you know whether he was the organizer for the Communist Party for Alameda County at that particular time?

Mr. HAYDEN. I didn't know that.

Mr. TAVENNER. Can you recall in whose home you met Nelson?

Mr. HAYDEN. Usually it was at the home of Tompkins' brother-in-law, a doctor whose last name slips me this minute. I can't think of it.

Mr. TAVENNER. Is it Dr. Lyman?

Mr. HAYDEN. Dr. Lyman is right. Frequently when I was in San Francisco visiting Tompkins we would go see Tompkins' sister and brother-in-law.

Mr. TAVENNER. Is that Dr. Ellwood W. Lyman.

Mr. HAYDEN. I know it is Ellwood.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you remember anything that took place at that meeting attended by Steve Nelson?

Mr. HAYDEN. I vaguely recall that they asked if I would say a few words about Yugoslavia, and I did. What I said was in the same vein as what I have said here today except at that time I was fresh from the place and was talking on that basis, you might say.

Mr. TAVENNER. How long did you remain as the guest of Captain Tompkins?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think five or six days.

Mr. TAVENNER. Then you returned to the East Coast?

Mr. HAYDEN. Then I returned to Washington, D. C.

Mr. TAVENNER. When you returned to Washington did you bring any Communist Party literature or documents with you?

Mr. HAYDEN. I may have. I think every time I ever saw Tompkins I would end up with, if not an armful, at least a handful of pamphlets, so I probably had some with me that I was going to read in the plane or carry with me; I don't know.

Mr. TAVENNER. Will you give the committee your best opinion as to the effect of this trip upon you, that is, the trip when you were the guest again of Tompkins'?

Mr. HAYDEN. Well, I was at that time, I think, trying to look ahead, figure out what I wanted to do after the war. I didn't know if I wanted to go back to Hollywood or not. I felt a sort of reluctance to accepting what seemed to me to be the very lucrative and easy life Hollywood had offered me before and probably would again. I think the main thing was, it planted a seed in me that said if I could do something about the conditions of the world I could probably justify my position as an actor with a good salary and good working conditions. This wasn't concrete, but it was something boiling inside of me.

MR. TAVENNER. What did you do when you went back to New York?

Mr. HAYDEN. I remember I went back to OSS headquarters, and my future assignment had not been determined, and it seemed to me that inasmuch as the Communist press had analyzed Tito accurately, they might know of other guerrilla outfits such as the Partisans.

I wrote or wired Tompkins asking who I could contact in New York, and he wired me to contact V. J. Jerome in New York. I picked up the phone and called the Daily Worker office and I said, "This is Lieutenant John Hamilton, U. S. Marine Corps. I would like to talk to V. J. Jerome."

There was some consternation at the other end of the line, and I was told if I was in New York later to call again, which I did. Jerome said we could meet at the Golden Eagle Cafe on West 12th Street just off Fifth Avenue.

I went in and sat at the bar. About half an hour later a man scuttled through the back room and I thought, "This must be Jerome." I looked at him. He looked at me. I walked up, introduced myself, and sat down. My purpose was to find out if he had any idea where there were other guerrilla movements going on. He wouldn't talk to me. I think he was suspicious. I got nowhere that day.

I called and talked to a man named Joe North, whom he had mentioned to me. I went up and talked to him in this building that I guess was headquarters for the whole caboodle. There was general conversation. Nothing constructive came out of it whatsoever, as I recall.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did you also go see a person by the name of Allan Chase, who is an avowed Communist, having been a candidate for Congress on the Communist ticket?

Mr. HAYDEN. I met him. I think even prior to my trip to see Tompkins I had met him. I didn't know until you told me that he was an open Communist. I didn't know he was a Communist. I thought possibly he was. He was particularly interested in the situation in Spain. He talked about that angle of it, the fact there was a movement in there, the remnants of a movement in there, and I met friends of his at his apartment near Central Park, and so forth and so on.

As nearly as I can recall, I went back to Washington and talked to someone in OSS, and talked about the possibility of going to Spain. They said there were already men in Spain. They said I would be sent to Paris. I went to Paris and was attached directly to the First Army Headquarters.

Mr. TAVENNER. You referred to having met a number of Allan Chase's friends. Was communism discussed with his friends?

Mr. HAYDEN. No. Communism was never discussed. Communism per se was never discussed to the best of my recollection. There was a discussion of the war going on and the role in it of the guerrillas.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did you meet any other Communists while you were in New York?

Mr. HAYDEN. Not to my knowledge. The only two I met that I considered Communists were V. J. Jerome and Joe North. I thought possibly Chase was connected, but I didn't know.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did you make any connection, or attempt to make any connection, with the underground in Spain after you arrived in Paris?

Mr. HAYDEN. No. When I went overseas I had two or three letters of introduction from friends of Chase to be used in case I got into Spain. I don't remember what I did with these letters. As soon as I got to Paris I was told to get into a Jeep and go to Belgium, which I did, and I guess I threw the letters away or burned them; I don't know.

Mr. TAVENNER. What was the nature of your work in Belgium?

Mr. HAYDEN. OSS detachment, G-2 headquarters. The work at the detachment was in two levels: First, on an operational level, to infiltrate German civilians or German prisoners who had indicated a desire to work with the Allies back through the lines; and the thing I became particularly active in was, Colonel B. A. Dickson was anxious to find out if there were any guerrilla anti-Nazi elements that were liberated as we went along that we could contact. I had a team of six or eight men, American Army personnel, who spoke German. We worked together quite closely, and went to Marburg, Germany, which is where we were on V-E Day. We didn't meet many anti-Nazis that I remember.

To follow chronologically, after V-E Day I returned to Paris and was told to take a photographic team, consisting initially of two or three photographers, and make a photographic study of all the parts of Northern Europe, including Germany, Denmark, and Norway, which we did. This occupied us for quite a long period of time. We covered almost all of Norway, all of Denmark, all of Germany, and at that time I was sent back to the States and discharged.

Mr. TAVENNER. During the time of your second assignment on the German front, what was your connection with Captain Warwick Tompkins? Did you continue to obtain Communist literature and propaganda from him?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think I kept in touch with him. I think I kept writing to him. I was still fired up by the Yugoslav thing and so on. I kept up a desultory correspondence with him, and I presume he continued to send me Communist newspapers and literature. I don't remember, actually.

Mr. TAVENNER. When was your assignment terminated?

Mr. HAYDEN. Well, let's see. I was discharged the 24th of December, 1945. I think I returned to the States the end of November. Actually, I tried to find a record of that and couldn't.

Mr. TAVENNER. What did you do upon arriving in the United States?

Mr. HAYDEN. As soon as I was discharged I sort of cast about for something to do. At that time I remember there were two forces working inside me. One was to go back to sea; and the other was this political thing. At that time, I would like to say--and this is accurate to the best of my recollection--it had never occurred to me to join the Communist Party. It had never occurred to me. It seemed this whole thing had introduced me to a new world that up to that time I had never known.

I tried to raise money to get a schooner. I couldn't raise the money. Then someone in Paramount contacted me to sign a new contract. I said, "O.K. Here we go."

Mr. TAVENNER. Who was that?

Mr. HAYDEN. Russell Holman of Paramount's New York office.

Mr. TAVENNER. Was that prior to your leaving the East Coast for the West Coast?

Mr. HAYDEN. We made the deal in New York. I then went out to Nevada, where I got a divorce from my then wife, Madelaine Carroll, and then went to San Francisco and spent six weeks with Tompkins, and then reported to Paramount in Hollywood.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did Holman know of your past associations and connection with Captain Warwick Tompkins?

Mr. HAYDEN. I doubt that he did. He may have. I don't think he did. I don't know. I am sure that everybody I saw at that time, I talked to them about this Yugoslav thing. What came out of the conversations, I don't know.

Mr. TAVENNER. At the time of your second employment by the moving picture industry, did your employer have any knowledge, as far as you know, of your associations with other Communist functionaries in California, such as William Schneiderman and Isaac Folkoff?

Mr. HAYDEN. No. I think that was more or less lost in the shuffle of the war. There was so much going on, and I was fortunate enough to come out of the war better, publicity-wise or otherwise, and they felt I had done pretty well in the war and let it go at that. There was no detailed analysis of what happened.

Mr. TAVENNER. As a result of your signing the contract in New York, you went to the West Coast. At that time, did you see Captain Warwick Tompkins again?

Mr. HAYDEN. I saw him as soon as I left Nevada. I returned to Hollywood by way of San Francisco and spent some time with him on his schooner there. I don't remember how long.

Mr. TAVENNER. What was the date?

Mr. HAYDEN. I would say it was approximately the last week in March, 1946.

Mr. TAVENNER. What occurred on the occasion of this visit to Captain Tompkins?

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't remember anything in particular. Yes, one thing. He said he wanted to write a book about me. He was a very good writer. He had written for yachting magazines and had written several books with no political content whatever, and he thought it would be a good idea to write a biography of my life, and the slant he wanted to give it was, "The Development of a Typical Non-Political American Youth into a Militant Participant in the Class Struggle," something like that. I said O.K.; O.K.

So I went down to Hollywood and purchased a boat which I lived on, made my home on. Shortly thereafter, I would say in April, possibly the latter part of April or first of May, for three weeks he came on the schooner with me and took notes copiously. He followed me wherever I went on the boat, and eventually he got 75,000 words written on the story before I "came to" sufficiently to call on him one day and call the whole thing off.

Mr. TAVENNER. When was it you called it off? It was quite sometime later, I suppose?

Ronald Reagan-4550

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, it was a long time later; a long time later.

Mr. TAVENNER. Before we go into that, I would like to know what occurred in the meantime. After your arrival in Hollywood, did you become associated with any particular organizations there?

Mr. HAYDEN. I joined the Communist Party.

Mr. TAVENNER. You joined the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. TAVENNER. Will you tell the committee the circumstances leading up to your actually becoming a card-carrying member, or dues-paying member, of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, I will. As I began to operate around and move around Hollywood, I continued to talk, I would say almost incessantly, about this thing built up in me in Yugoslavia and the feeling I wanted to do something for a better world. That is a cliché expression, but I think it is accurate.

Through Tompkins I was put in contact with a woman, Bea Winter. One day she said to me, "Why don't you stop talking and join the Communist Party?"

I clearly remember my first reaction, which was, "This is ridiculous." However, I went ahead. She had a paper which I signed. I don't know whether I signed Sterling Hayden or John Hamilton. John Hamilton was my legal name. I know I signed one of the two names, and was almost immediately accepted into the Party.

Mr. TAVENNER. How do you spell Bea?

Mr. HAYDEN. B-e-a.

Mr. TAVENNER. How was she employed?

Mr. HAYDEN. She was a secretary in the office of my agent.

Mr. TAVENNER. What was the name of your agent?

Mr. HAYDEN. Berg-Allen Berg, Inc.

Mr. TAVENNER. Is that agency in existence today?

Mr. HAYDEN. It has since become amalgamated or merged with the William Morris office.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you know whether Bea Winter's membership in the Communist Party was known to the agency?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think it is safe to say it was not, or she wouldn't have been employed there.

Mr. TAVENNER. How is she employed now, do you know?

Mr. HAYDEN. I have heard she was secretary to a producer. I can't think of his name.

Mr. MOULDER. Mr. Tavenner, will you fix the date when he joined the Communist Party?

Mr. TAVENNER. Yes. Can you fix the date when you joined the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. As nearly as I can remember--and I have no record of it at all--it was approximately between the 5th and 15th of June, 1946, but that may not be accurate.

Mr. TAVENNER. Over how long a period of time were you acquainted with Bea Winter?

Mr. HAYDEN. Prior to this?

Mr. TAVENNER. Both prior and subsequently.

Mr. HAYDEN. I had known her before the war when she was with the Berg-Allen Berg Agency. Nothing political was ever discussed. I saw her again after the war, and I believe it was Tompkins who told me she was very active politically. Then began the political phase of the association, you might say.

Mr. TAVENNER. How long were you acquainted with her after you became a member of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. She was a member of the cell or group that I was assigned to up until the time that I broke with them, which was in December of that same year, 1946.

Mr. TAVENNER. To what group of the Communist Party were you assigned upon your first joining the Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. I was told that for security reasons I should not be with any prominent people in any phase of endeavor at all in the motion picture industry, but should be with people known as back-lot workers, carpenters, electricians, and so forth and so on.

Mr. TAVENNER. Will you explain that a little further, about security? Security for whom?

Mr. HAYDEN. Security for me, I presume. It was never discussed very much. I believe this cell was composed primarily of people from Universal, RKO, Columbia and Paramount, but these people were never known to me by their last names. It was only first names. Everybody called everybody else comrade.

Mr. TAVENNER. How many composed that cell?

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't know what the official membership was, but an average meeting would have from ten to twenty-two or twenty-three people. I think they were happy if they had more than eight.

Mr. TAVENNER. Who were the officers?

Mr. HAYDEN. When I first joined there was a man who functioned as secretary, whose last name I do not know, whose first name was Hjalmar.

Mr. TAVENNER. How do you spell it?

Mr. HAYDEN. H-j-a-l-m-a-r.

Mr. TAVENNER. How was he employed?

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't know. I don't know how he was employed.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you know by whom he was employed?

Mr. HAYDEN. I couldn't say for sure, no. I was going to say I thought he was at Paramount, but I am not sure.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you know where he lived?

Mr. HAYDEN. I have no idea, although I may have gone to his house. I went to different houses by address. I don't know if I ever went to his house, though it is likely I did. He functioned as secretary. He kept records, collected dues, and so forth and so on.

Mr. TAVENNER. To whom did you pay your dues?

Mr. HAYDEN. To him.

Mr. TAVENNER. What were your dues?

Mr. HAYDEN. The same as everybody else. They were computed on a percentage of salary, but I was not included in the percentage deal. I paid what everybody else paid. It seems to me it was $1.75, $2.00 or $2.50 a month.

Mr. TAVENNER. Can you recall the names of anybody else who were members of that group?

Mr. HAYDEN. I remember the names Bernie and Frank. I never knew their last names. I knew Bea Winter, of course.

Mr. TAVENNER. Was she a member of that same group?

Mr. HAYDEN. She was.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you know how Bernie was employed?

Mr. HAYDEN. I do not.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you know where he lived?

Mr. HAYDEN. I do not know that. I don't think I ever went to his house.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did you say a person named Frank?

Mr. HAYDEN. Somebody named Frank.

Mr. TAVENNER. Are you able to identify any of these people by any manner to the committee, as to how they were employed and where, or where they lived, that might lead to a discovery of who they actually are?

Mr. HAYDEN. Only the man named Bernie, from the way he conducted himself, I would say he was employed in a white-collar capacity. He was more of an intellectual type than the others. He frequently would hold a discussion on the dialectical phases of communism, and so forth and so on.

Mr. HAYDEN (continuing). All the rest seemed to me to be employed as back-lot workers.

Mr. TAVENNER. Can you recall the names of any of the persons in whose homes the meetings were held?

Mr. HAYDEN. No, because when a meeting broke up somebody would say, "We will meet next Friday night at such and such a time at such an address." I would write down the address. I wasn't sure whose house it was.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you know an individual by the name of Abe Polonaky?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. The meetings were frequently held at Abe's house.

Mr. TAVENNER. Was he a member of this group?

Mr. HAYDEN. He was later. About the time I terminated he began to show up at meetings. In the early stages of the proceedings he did not sit in on these meetings as I remember it.

Ronald Reagan-4556

Mr. TAVENNER. Was he known to you as a member of the Communist Party, from your association with him?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. TAVENNER. Is he currently a writer for Twentieth Century-Fox?

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't know who he is writing for. I don't know anything about him.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Counsel, will you suspend for a moment?

Mr. TAVENNER. Yes, sir.

Mr. WOOD. Let the record disclose that the number of committeemen in attendance has been reduced, and that there are now present members of the committee Walter, Moulder, Potter, and Wood, being less than a quorum. By virtue of authority vested in me under the resolution creating this committee, I hereby establish a subcommittee to proceed with the hearing until a quorum returns.

Mr. TAVENNER. Will you give any further information you have as regards Abe Polonsky and his activities in the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. In all honesty, I know little on that score. Initially I had the feeling he was involved elsewhere. While the meetings were held at his house, he was seldom present until two or three months had elapsed, after which he began to appear fairly regularly, and after that functioned as sort of head of the group. Outside of that, I know nothing of his activities.

Mr. TAVENNER. Were you acquainted with Robert Lees?

Mr. HAYDEN. Robert Lees was a member of this group.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did he meet on more than one occasion with this same group?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, he did.

Mr. TAVENNER. How often do you think he was there while you were there?

Mr. HAYDEN. I could only guess, and I don't like to guess on things like this. I would say ten or twelve times.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you recall whether you met at his home on any occasion?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think we did on one occasion.

Mr. TAVENNER. What was the purpose of the holding of these meetings for this particular group that you were assigned to?

Mr. HAYDEN. The over-all purpose was simply that these people were Communists and they met to discuss what was going on. In a meeting the discussion would usually be split up into what was going on in the industry that concerned them, and then part of the meeting would be devoted to the world situation, theoretical diagnoses, and so forth.

Mr. TAVENNER. In other words, part of the time was devoted to the study of the principles of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. TAVENNER. How long did you continue in that cell?

Mr. HAYDEN. That was the only cell I ever belonged to.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did you have any particular assignment while you were a member of that cell?

Mr. HAYDEN. After about-- and here, again, I do not remember the date. It wouldn't be hard to fix it, because sometime the latter part of that summer or early in the fall the Conference of Studio Unions, which is a sort of amalgamation of locals in the industry, went out on strike. At that time the focal point of interest became the prosecution of this stand that these people had taken.

I was told that it would be very helpful and important if the Screen Actors' Guild could be swung into line in support of this strike.

Mr. TAVENNER. You were told that by whom?

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't know; somebody in this group.

Mr. TAVENNER. It was a Communist order or suggestion?

Mr. HAYDEN. That is the way it came to me.

Mr. TAVENNER. It came to you in a Communist meeting by members of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. So I went first--and I don't remember who told me to go to it--to a large cocktail party where 60 or 70 people interested in this phase of endeavor, you might say, were present, and through this initial meeting I began to meet a group of actors and actresses who all felt the same way. This was a very loose category of people, however.

Mr. TAVENNER. Was that the group with whom you were directed to work?

Mr. HAYDEN. No. I still attended meetings with this same group, but they told me I should be concerned primarily with actors, and they thought I should contact the Screen Actors' Guild for support of the position of the Conference of Studio Unions, and I was told to associate with these people.

Mr. TAVENNER. Who were working for the same purpose?

Mr. HAYDEN. It coincided. I would like to say at this point, there were a great, great many people involved here. I don't know what percentage of the actors and actresses involved were a long, long, long way from being Communists in any sense of the word, so far as I know.

Mr. TAVENNER. You have given a list of the persons connected with that movement to the investigators of this committee, have you not?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, I have, to the best of my recollection.

Mr. TAVENNER. Are there any of that group whom you can identify as members of the Communist Party, to your knowledge? I am not asking you for names of people generally who were with you in this project, unless they were known to you to be members of the Communist Party.

Mr. HAYDEN. I understand. I wouldn't hesitate to say Karen Morley, inasmuch as in 1947, a long time after I had completely severed any and all connections with any form of Communist activities or endeavor, she came to me and asked me to come back, so I certainly think it is safe to assume that she was a member. Over and above that, it would have to get into the realm of conjecture, which, frankly, I am somewhat doubtful of.

Mr. TAVENNER. I don't want you to go into the field of conjecture.

Mr. HAYDEN. No.

(Representative Doyle returns to hearing room.)

Mr. TAVENNER. Now I want to ask you a few more questions about this meeting which you were directed to attend in carrying out your Communist Party obligations. You said there were 50 or more people present, as I understood you?

Mr. HAYDEN. There were 60 or 70 people there.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did that group narrow down to a comparatively few who actually functioned?

Mr. HAYDEN. I would say there was a nucleus that would attend meetings more regularly. When there were gatherings to see what could be done, there were certain people who would appear more regularly. There were people on the periphery, on the edge, who would be there sometimes; and other people were there more regularly.

Mr. TAVENNER. How frequently did you meet to work on that enterprise?

Mr. HAYDEN. I would say once or twice a week.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did Karen Morley meet with you?

Ronald Reagan-4561

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. TAVENNER. Where were these meetings held?

Mr. HAYDEN. Some were held at Karen Morley's house. Some were held at a house owned by a man named Morris Carnovsky, who, I might say, was never present. And others were held at homes which I only knew at that time by address.

(Representative Jackson returns to hearing room.)

Mr. TAVENNER. Are you acquainted with a person by the name of Lloyd Gough?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. TAVENNER. G-o-u-g-h, is that the correct spelling of the name?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think it is.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did he attend those meetings?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, he did.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you have any knowledge on your own part as to whether or not he was a member of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. Well, I would say it would probably be safe to assume that he was.

Mr. TAVENNER. I don't want you to assume it.

Mr. HAYDEN. I have absolutely, categorically, no knowledge that he was.

Mr. TAVENNER. Are you acquainted with Howard da Silva?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did he attend those meetings?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. TAVENNER. Have you any personal knowledge as to whether or not he was a member of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. Only in his behavior before this committee.

Mr. TAVENNER. I understand that you withdrew or terminated your connection with the Communist Party the same year in which you joined it?

Mr. HAYDEN. That is right.

Mr. TAVENNER. Will you tell the committee what led up to the termination of your relationship with the Communist Party, and whether your break was an actual break and a final break with the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. Thank you very much. That I would like to do.

As I think is abundantly clear--and I don't make any apology--I do not mean to imply that I was dragged into the thing in any way, shape or manner. I went into the thing voluntarily. Certainly I think it was the stupidest, most ignorant, thing I have ever done, and I have done a good many such things, but I did go into it with a very emotional and very unsound approach. I hadn't been in very long--I would say it took me three or four months to realize the true nature of what I had done.

I would like to say at this time, without launching into a long dissertation on this thing, that one thing that decided me once and for all against the whole business was the manner in which everything is predetermined. I think I had become susceptible to and, in a sense, perhaps, a victim of the idea that they had a form of democracy in mind. That was in my mind during the Yugoslav days and the time I joined. I found the belief is that they have the key, by some occult power, to know what is best for people, and that is the way it is going to be. I think any Communist or pseudo-Communist who pretends it is other than this is falsifying the fact.

When I learned about this and began to think about it and digest it a bit, I decided to get out, and I got out.

I would like to take this opportunity, if I may, to briefly state for the record a sort of synopsis of my complete association with anything that was Communist or might be construed as Communist front. I would like to lump it and say categorically that is all there is to it, and anybody who insinuates it is not, is mistaken.

I belonged to this cell that I mentioned.

Mr. TAVENNER. First let me ask: Have you become a member of any other organizations since you terminated your relationship with the Communist Party which has been cited as a Communist front, or has had Communist Party leanings, so far as you know?

Mr. HAYDEN. I know of one instance, and I would like to set that straight. There was an outfit in Hollywood, the Committee for the First Amendment, formed in October 1947.

I broke once and for all with the Communist thing in December 1946. Actually, the break coincided with the fact I was living on my boat in Santa Barbara.

That summer my wife and I went East, on the coast of Maine, and when we came back I had a call from Alexander Knox saying this Committee for the First Amendment was being formed, and would I join. I said I would think it over.

I was told who was sponsoring it, spearheading it. I thought it over very carefully, and I assured myself--I may be wrong, but my conclusion was that this was in no way a Communist front at that time.

So I joined, and I came to Washington in the fall, I think October of that year, 1947.

I would like to go on with the people who did join. I think you are probably familiar with the membership list of that organization, and if it has since been determined that this thing was spearheaded by Communists, believe me these people didn't know it. The people who lent their names and gave money to this Committee for the First Amendment, to the best of my knowledge certainly had no idea that it was a Communist front, any more than I had.

That is the one thing which, as you said, has been cited.

Mr. TAVENNER. Who were those who spearheaded the Committee for the First Amendment, to your knowledge?

Mr. HAYDEN. The first name that comes to mind is Humphrey Bogart, and his wife. It would be hard for me to remember. I wish I had a list. I know it runs into hundreds of so-called Hollywood names. I know there was a tremendous gathering at Ira Gershwin's house at which a couple hundred people were present. The spokesmen were John Huston and Phil Dunne. It is common knowledge all the people who flew East at that time.

Mr. TAVENNER. I interrupted you in the course of your statement.

Mr. HAYDEN. I would like to go on and sum this thing up once and for all, if I may.

I did belong to the Communist Party from June until the middle of December, 1946.

Mr. TAVENNER. When you joined the Communist Party, were you advised by anyone that to do so would improve your chance of promotion in Hollywood?

Mr. HAYDEN. No, I was not. On the contrary, I had certain reservations in my mind and I kept pretty quiet, I kept completely quiet, about my association with the Communist Party. I didn't think it would help me in any way, shape, or manner; on the contrary.

Mr. TAVENNER. In the course of your experience in Hollywood, did you at any time become acquainted with any Communist activity on the part of any high official of the motion picture industry?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, there was one instance. Shortly after I joined, I would say in July, Bea Winter said there was an important man who would like to come and talk with me. We met at the restaurant Victor's on Sunset Boulevard. He came in. I don't know the name by which he was introduced to me. After reading certain newspaper stories subsequent to this event, I figured his name was John Stapp. I know he was introduced as John.

Mr. TAVENNER. S-t-a-p-p?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. I think he has other names. He asked what made me think I wanted to be a Communist.

Mr. TAVENNER. Was he a member of the Hollywood motion picture industry?

Mr. HAYDEN. I have no idea.

Mr. TAVENNER. Well, possibly from my question it might have been misinterpreted. He was a high functionary in the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. I was told he was an important man.

Mr. TAVENNER. But not in the Hollywood motion picture industry?

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't think he was in any way employed in the industry; not in any way.

Mr. TAVENNER. Go ahead with your experience.

Mr. HAYDEN. With John Stapp?

Ronald Reagan-4567

Mr. TAVENNER. Yes.

Mr. HAYDEN. He asked why I had joined, and I went into the Yugoslav thing. He asked if I had any militant trade union background, and I said I did not. The conversation was more or less parallel with the conversation I had with Jerome, where I figured he was doing some calculating. He didn't say anything to me at all. I think he said he doubted that I would make a good Communist, but I am not sure.

Mr. TAVENNER. Going back to my original question, did any knowledge come to you at any time of activities on the part of any high-ranking official in the Hollywood motion picture industry that would indicate Communist Party membership on the part of any such individual?

Mr. HAYDEN. No. I think of nothing whatsoever in connection with that.

Mr. TAVENNER. Were you acquainted with Edward G. Robinson?

Mr. HAYDEN. I met Mr. Robinson backstage at a rally for Israel one evening, and chatted with him a couple minutes before he made a speech.

Mr. TAVENNER. Did he attend any Communist Party meetings which you attended?

Mr. HAYDEN. No.

Mr. TAVENNER. Please proceed to sum up what you had in mind saying.

Ronald Reagan-4568

Mr. HAYDEN. I mentioned the cell, which lasted for five or six months.

There was the activity in this minority group within the Screen Actors' Guild.

As soon as I got back in Hollywood I joined the Hollywood Independent Citizens' Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, HICCASP. I paid dues through December. I never participated in a single thing in their behalf.

I joined the American Veterans Committee at the same time. I made two speeches for them on Yugoslavia, one in Pomona and one in Santa Barbara. I spoke on the fighting in Yugoslavia.

Then there is the Committee for the First Amendment, which I suppose could be construed as such since it has since been cited as a front organization.

And as I indicated earlier, this is the total, without reservation or limitation.

I have a brief list of contributions which I wanted to put in.

Mr. TAVENNER. What were the organizations to which you contributed?

Mr. HAYDEN. I contributed $100 to HICCASP.

$300, one check, to Abe Polonsky. As I remember, this was for the families of the strikers in the CSU. That may be wrong. It may have been for the Communist Party.

I paid my Communist Party dues.

I paid my AVC dues, $2.75 per month.

I paid my HICCASP dues.

I once gave Tompkins $75 for the People's World when they were trying to keep on printing.

That was the total.

Mr. TAVENNER. Were all these contributions made prior to your leaving the Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. Except for $100 to the Committee for the First Amendment.

Mr. TAVENNER. You have indicated that after your relationship with the Communist Party was severed, that Karen Morley came to you and asked you to come back into the Party.

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. TAVENNER. Will you give the committee the entire transaction as it occurred?

Mr. HAYDEN. She came to our house. I had remarried in June of that year. She came to our house, I believe, right after or before the Committee for the First Amendment was formed. She came and said she wanted me to consider coming back in, and I said, "There is nothing to be considered. This is it. There is nothing to discuss" and so forth and so on.

As she left the house I took her out to the front hall, and she said, "I hope you realize that having made that decision, it will be extremely hard for you to ever get back in." And I said, "Nothing will please me more." That ended it.

Mr. TAVENNER. During the course of the conversation, was anything said about your becoming a passive member?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. I forgot that. She said, "Since you don't want to be an active member, will you contribute money?" I said, "No."

(Representative Velde returns to the hearing room.)

Mr. TAVENNER. In other words, in Hollywood there is such a thing as a passive membership, or a contributing membership, without attending meetings and so forth?

Mr. HAYDEN. That is the way I understood it.

Mr. TAVENNER. Do you know of any instance in which that type of membership is being maintained?

Mr. HAYDEN. I do not.

Mr. TAVENNER. You have cooperated with the committee by telling the investigators, in advance of this hearing today, what you have known of communism in your own life and in Hollywood. Have you taken any other action besides that which would indicate good faith on your part in the break which you claim you have made with the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. I believe I have. One month after South Korea was invaded, through my attorney, a letter was sent to Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, Federal Bureau of Investigation, in which was set forth the fact that for a period of five to six months I had been a member of the Communist Party, and with the world going the way it was, it seemed entirely probable that a conflagration would develop, and I hoped, if that was the case, my services would not be denied, if the Marine Corps could use me, on the basis of this mistake I had made.

I have a photostatic copy of that letter I would like to produce or read for the record.

Mr. TAVENNER. Suppose you produce it and read it into the record.

Mr. HAYDEN. (Reading:)

July 31, 1950

Federal Bureau of Investigation,
Washington, D. C.

Attention: Mr. J. Edgar Hoover.

Dear Sir:

This office has a client who has discussed with us a problem which I believe can only be answered through your organization.

In June of 1946 this young man, in a moment of emotional disturbance, became a bona fide member of the Communist Party in the State of California. In November of 1946 he decided that he had made a mistake and terminated his membership and his association with the Communist Party. Ever since November of 1946 this client has had no connection whatsoever with the Communist Party or with any organization affiliated with it.

The gentleman in question is an American born citizen with a distinguished war record. He enlisted in the Marine Corps as a private and received his termination as a captain. Because of his distinguished services he received the Silver Star medal with citation from the Commanding General, Mediterranean Theater of Operations, United States Army. The citation recognized his gallantry in action in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations with the United States Marine Corps Reserve.

Our client is not engaged in any activity where security is involved. However, since the commencement of the operation in Korea, he has felt that the time may come, in the near future, when his services might be of aid to the United States. He is concerned with the fact that his brief membership in the Communist Party, as aforesaid, may operate to prevent the use of his services.

In addition to the foregoing, he is married and has young children. If his services are not needed by the United States, conditions may develop so as to require an answer in connection with ordinary employment to the query: "Are you now or have you ever been a Communist?"

Our client can, of course, answer honestly and frankly that he is not now a member of the Communist Party. He could not answer the rest of the compound question without (a) either lying, or (b) if he told the truth he would probably find himself unable to earn a living.

While it must be admitted that a mistake was made in 1946, it does appear that justice requires some method by which one mistake does not operate (a) to prevent the United States from making use of the services of our client, (b) to prevent our client from earning a living.

He is perfectly willing to submit to any interrogation or examination by the Federal Bureau of Investigation so that that organization may be convinced of his sincerity and of the truth of all the statements related herein.

The purpose of this, of course, is to permit our client, if the compound question is asked him, to say in answer to the question, "Please inquire of the Federal Bureau of Investigation." The Federal Bureau of Investigation could then notify the prospective employer that there was no reason for not employing our client.

We would appreciate hearing from you at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely yours,

GANG, KOPP & TYRE

By Martin Gang

Mr. TAVENNER. Was a reply received from the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. I have that here.

Mr. TAVENNER. Will you read it into the record?

Mr. HAYDEN (Reading:)

August 15, 1950

Mr. Martin Gang
401 Taft Building
Los Angeles 28, California

Dear Sir:

Your letter of July 31, 1950, has been received and I want to thank you for making these facts available to me. I have given your letter careful consideration and I am fully cognizant of the problem which confronts you and your client.

I regret to inform you, however, that it has been a longstanding policy of this Bureau not to grant a clearance to any person and I am, therefore, unable to assist you in the manner which you suggest.

Ronald Reagan-4574

May I suggest, however, that inasmuch as this Bureau has primary investigative jurisdiction of matters concerning the internal security of our country, it is considered advisable that your client furnish our Los Angeles Office with details concerning his membership in the Communist Party together with the nature of the Party activities during that period.

In order to comply with this request may I suggest that you contact Mr. R. B. Hood, Special Agent in Charge of our Los Angeles Office, 900 Security Building, Los Angeles 13, California, in order to arrange for an interview of your client.

Very truly yours,

/s/ J. E. Hoover

John Edgar Hoover
Director

Mr. TAVENNER. Did you report as requested in that letter?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, I did. I don't remember just how soon after we received this letter from Mr. Hoover. I believe it was early in August. And subsequently I met with them on two other occasions and discussed the thing in complete detail as I have today.

Mr. TAVENNER. Have you anything further you desire to add?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think we have covered the ground pretty well. I would like to say that I appreciate very much, very, very much, the opportunity to appear here today. I think that there is a tremendous service to be rendered, not only to the country at large but to the motion picture industry and also to those individuals who find themselves in a similar position to mine.

I have heard that there are many, many thousands--I have heard there are hundreds of thousands--of ex-Communists who don't know what to do about it. I would like, if it is not presumptuous, to suggest in all humility that perhaps some provision could be made by law to permit people who had had a similar experience to make their position known and clear, so that they could get this thing off their chest, because, believe me, it is a load to carry around with you.

Mr. TAVENNER. I might say, in that connection, that the Chairman of this committee, in a broadcast not long ago, invited those who were in this category to make that fact known to this committee, and they would keep it in confidence if that was desired, but to make known their participation so that it would be a matter of record now as to just what their participation had been, and there has been a very fine response to that.

Mr. HAYDEN. I didn't realize that.

Mr. TAVENNER. I have no further questions, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Walter. Ronald Reagan-4576

Mr. WALTER. I would like to ask a question about this Committee for the First Amendment. What representations were made to you concerning the need for an organization to protect the First Amendment to the Constitution?

Mr. HAYDEN. As I recall it, the basic premise of the organization was that a man was entitled to whatever political beliefs he might have, and that nobody could inquire into them. I think that this was the idea they had in mind at the time.

Mr. WALTER. That is all.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Doyle.

Mr. DOYLE. Mr. Hayden, in reference to your last statement, I believe you said you are very, very grateful to the committee for the opportunity to get this thing off your chest. Then you added, "Believe me, it is a load." What did you mean by that?

Mr. HAYDEN. Well, conditions, of course, it seems to me, from my personal experience, were a great deal different in 1946 than today. As I have indicated, I went into the thing of my own free will, impulsively, stupidly, but I did get into it. When I realized I was wrong, I got out.

Mr. DOYLE. What happened to cause you to come to the conclusion you had committed error?

Mr. HAYDEN. One of the prime things was taking refuge in certain amendments to the Constitution. At that time I was pretty much of a greenhorn, but as soon as I realized the Communists were taking refuge under the amendments to our Constitution that they under no circumstances would permit others to take,--

Mr. DOYLE. Taking refuge from what?

Mr. HAYDEN. Taking refuge in the Fifth Amendment or the First Amendment and considering that their political connections could not be questioned.

Mr. DOYLE. What led you to believe they were taking refuge in the First and Fifth Amendments?

Mr. HAYDEN. I believe in this investigation certain people have stood on the Fifth Amendment.

Mr. DOYLE. That is only in the last year or so.

Mr. HAYDEN. That is right.

Mr. DOYLE. And you resigned from the Communist Party in 1946.

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. DOYLE. That is four years ago. What did you discover prior to the time you resigned which caused you, if anything did cause you, to come to the conclusion that you could not consistently continue longer as a member of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. One thing was when I became aware of the totalitarian idea of communism, which had been obscured by the fog in the war years.

Ronald Reagan-4578

Mr. DOYLE. I believe you testified when you accepted Bea Winter's invitation to join the Communist Party, the meetings of the cell indicated, did they not, the totalitarian nature of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, they did, but, unfortunately, it took some time for my awareness of this to overcome the initial headway I had built up.

Mr. DOYLE. When you say you discovered the totalitarian nature of the Communist Party, what do you mean by that? What does "totalitarian nature of the Communist Party" mean to you that caused you to resign?

Mr. HAYDEN. That a very few people, or a certain group of people, know what is best for the majority, and the will of the majority has no bearing on what is done for the majority. That, I believe, is wrong.

Mr. DOYLE. Did you discover at any time that the Communist Party was encouraging devious ways to upset or overthrow or overcome, by force if necessary, the republican form of Government that we have under our Constitution in the United States?

Mr. HAYDEN. I certainly believe that to be the case.

Mr. DOYLE. When did you come to that conclusion?

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't remember the exact time.

Mr. DOYLE. Approximately?

Mr. HAYDEN. Approximately at the time I severed my connection.

Mr. DOYLE. That was when? You might have testified to that when I was out of the room voting.

Mr. HAYDEN. December 1946.

Mr. DOYLE. As I say, I had to go out of the room to vote, so I didn't have the benefit of hearing your full testimony. I left the room just at the time you were testifying that Ben Winter was a member of a cell with you. So I don't know if you told the names of other members of that cell, or those whom you know as Communists.

Mr. HAYDEN. To the best of my knowledge I did.

Mr. DOYLE. Was that question asked, Mr. Counsel?

Mr. TAVENNER. Yes, and his answer was he knew them only by their first names with the exception of two, Abe Polonsky and Robert Lees, whom he identified.

Mr. DOYLE. Were the members of this cell all men?

Mr. HAYDEN. No; men and women.

Mr. DOYLE. About what proportion?

Mr. HAYDEN. Two-thirds men and one-third women.

Mr. DOYLE. How many members in the cell?

Mr. HAYDEN. There were from ten to twenty-three or twenty-five.

Mr. DOYLE. How often did they meet?

Mr. HAYDEN. Weekly.

Mr. DOYLE. Did they have a regular meeting place?

Mr. HAYDEN. It was at a different house almost every week. Several meetings were held at the house of a man named
Ronald Reagan-4580

Abe Polonsky.

Mr. DOYLE. Were members of the cell all actors or actresses?

Mr. HAYDEN. None of them were actors or actresses.

Mr. DOYLE. You were an actor?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, I was. As I said, I was told when my application was accepted that I would be put in a cell of back-lot people.

Mr. DOYLE. I believe you said they were carpenters, electricians, and so on?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. DOYLE. Didn't you recognize some of them by name? They were all in the industry, weren't they?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, they were all in the industry, but it is a large industry. There are 20,000 to 30,000 people in the industry, I believe.

Mr. DOYLE. And you associated with those people in that cell from what date?

Mr. HAYDEN. About the first week of June.

Mr. DOYLE. Until December 1946?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, sir.

Mr. DOYLE. Then it is your testimony that from June 1946 to December 1946 you associated weekly with members of the cell at meetings, and you only know the names of two members of the cell?

Mr. HAYDEN. We met two to three months on this basis, at which time I was put in touch with a group of actors and actresses trying to swing the Screen Actors' Guild in line with a strike then in progress. I then met very infrequently with this initial cell.

Mr. DOYLE. Did you ever receive any literature from Tompkins or anyone else which, in printed form, made any declaration or stated any policy or objective that caused you to conclude that the Communist Party, of which you later became a member, was interested in revolution against the American form of government?

Mr. HAYDEN. As I recall, it was always couched in other terms. I think a more perceptive person would have seen it. I did not at the time.

Mr. DOYLE. You believe the literature you received from Tompkins did advocate the overthrow of the American form of government?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think that was the ultimate objective, yes.

Mr. DOYLE. Do you have any of that literature now?

Mr. HAYDEN. No.

Mr. DOYLE. Do you know where any of it could be had?

Mr. HAYDEN. No. I know it used to be out in plain sight in some of the book stores.

Mr. DOYLE. Can you identify any of those book stores by name or location?

Mr. HAYDEN. I cannot offhand,

Mr. DOYLE. Do you think your memory could be refreshed?

Mr. TAVENNER. What was your question?

Mr. DOYLE. My question was whether or not the witness now recalled the name or location of any book stores which carried Communist literature which the witness states he now realizes advocated the overthrow of our American form of government.

Were any of them in Hollywood?

Mr. HAYDEN. I remember a book store, I don't know if it is in existence any more, the Lincoln Book Store, I think it was. I don't know where it was.

Mr. DOYLE. When was that?

Mr. HAYDEN. 1946.

Mr. DOYLE. Did you ever receive literature from that book store?

Mr. HAYDEN. I went in there once or twice.

Mr. DOYLE. Did they ever hand you some literature for free distribution?

Mr. HAYDEN. There was a lot of throw-away stuff on the table, as I remember it.

Mr. DOYLE. You stated you came to think there was a great service to do the country and the industry. I suppose you were referring to the moving picture industry. Does the moving picture industry, in your judgment, need any service in connection with who are and who are not Communists and who were Communists previously, and if so, what service?

Mr. HAYDEN. My thought on that was simply, as I guess is common knowledge now, there is a great furor in Hollywood about the whole situation. My idea was that if ex-Communists, or people who had been affiliated with Communist fronts, felt they could stand up and be counted and be judged on the facts, it would clarify the situation.

Mr. DOYLE. Is it or not a fact that the moving picture industry or colony has been pretty actively endeavoring to clean up the situation?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think that would expedite it.

Mr. DOYLE. You haven't answered my question.

Mr. HAYDEN. I am sorry.

Mr. DOYLE. I will ask it this way: To your knowledge has the moving picture industry been endeavoring to clean up its own house?

Mr. HAYDEN. I certainly think it has.

Mr. DOYLE. Do you think it is doing a pretty good job of it?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think it is, so far as I know.

Mr. DOYLE. I take it your voluntary testimony this morning is what you feel should be done by other former Communists who happened to be engaged in the art of acting?

Mr. HAYDEN. That it is. That is up to them, but that is my reaction.

Mr. DOYLE. As you testified, I quickly made notes of this part of your testimony: "I was boiling inside. If I could do something about conditions, it might justify my being an actor with high income and pleasant working conditions." Do you recall stating substantially that?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, sir.

Mr. DOYLE. What were the conditions that you were boiling up inside about, that you wanted to help correct?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think it was a peculiarly personal thing with me. I came into the industry with an irregular background, with no background in the conventional way of earning a living, having always been at sea. I suddenly found myself making a lot of money and not doing a great deal of work for it, and I felt a responsibility I should have had earlier as an American citizen. I had never thought politically before. All of this came to focus at one time, and, unfortunately perhaps, the increment that set it off was my experience in Yugoslavia.

(Representative Kearney enters hearing room.)

Mr. DOYLE. At that time you were not interested in any economic conditions facing our country; it only involved your personal boiling up inside?

Mr. HAYDEN. That is very close to being correct.

Mr. DOYLE. Am I correct?

Ronald Reagan-4585

Mr. HAYDEN. You are very nearly correct.

Mr. DOYLE. It was a personal matter?

Mr. HAYLEN. Yes.

Mr. DOYLE. When Bea Winter in June 1946 handed you an application and asked why you didn't join the Party-- I believe that was your testimony?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. DOYLE. And then told you you could not be a member of a cell where all members were actors, for security reasons, didn't it then occur to you there was something phony or dangerous about the Communist Party, when, for security reasons, you could not belong to a cell where actors belonged?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, it did.

Mr. DOYLE. What occurred to you?

Mr. HAYDEN. As I said before, it was a rash move, an impulsive move, but I was under such a head of steam at the time I simply did not think the thing out very carefully. I went ahead anyway.

Mr. DOYLE. In other words, you were so enraptured with the Partisans of Yugoslavia, their bravery and heroism, and you had so tied yourself up with Tompkins and others, that you could not immediately withdraw from the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. I could have withdrawn, but I couldn't see clearly at that time. I think that is accurate.

Mr. DOYLE. Did it ever occur to you, between June and December 1946, what the security reasons were? What security reasons did you discover, if any?

Mr. HAYDEN. My feeling on that was simply that at that time I was employed by Paramount, and I felt that had it been known to Paramount that I was a member of the Communist Party, that I would no longer be employed by Paramount.

Mr. DOYLE. You stated Captain Tompkins got some 75,000 words written on your biography before you "came to" sufficiently to go to him and call the whole thing off.

Mr. HAYDEN. That is right.

Mr. DOYLE. I think that is the substance of your testimony?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. DOYLE. What was it that caused you to "come to" sufficiently to go to this long-time friend of yours, adviser,-- He had been an adviser, I take it?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. DOYLE. What gave you the backbone to go to him? What did you discover about the 75,000 words?

Mr. HAYDEN. The first draft he had knocked out actually fell by the wayside when I realized what I had done. It was not the book. I never read the book.

Mr. DOYLE. Was the book published?

Mr. HAYDEN. Heaven forbid! No.

Mr. DOYLE. Was it ever reduced to typewritten form?

Mr. HAYDEN. Only the first draft. My wife has frequently suggested I get it back. I don't know what happened to it.

Mr. DOYLE. Do you feel if you made a demand on Tompkins for it you would get it back?

Mr. HAYDEN. I have no idea,

Mr. DOYLE. Did you accept money or anything of value for the script?

Mr. HAYDEN. Nothing whatever. I have heard since he has been expelled from the Party. I don't know anything about that.

Mr. DOYLE. That is all, Mr. Chairman. Thank you very much.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Moulder, do you have any questions?

Mr. MOULDER. Not at this time.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Velde.

Mr. VELDE. I want to preface my questions by stating that, speaking for myself only as a member of the committee, I certainly appreciate your cooperation with the committee in giving us so many details as you have concerning your affiliation with the Communist Party. However, it occurs to me that the names of your associates in the Communist Party are, for some reason, a little bit obscure, and I can understand why that is so. I know you have been through a lot of questioning, both by our very able investigators and by FBI agents, and the questions I ask you are for the purpose of prodding your memory and not for doubting your testimony.

I wish you would go back and review your associations in Yugoslavia, and name the persons you were associated with there who were in the Partisan movement at that time.

Mr. HAYDEN. The first names that come to my mind are Colonel Manola, who at one time functioned in some executive capacity in Bari headquarters in Bari, Italy; and Colonel Sergei Mackiedo, who was the man who notified me I had received this decoration from the Yugoslav Government.

Mr. VELDE. Were they American citizens?

Mr. HAYDEN. No. These are Partisans. Do you want American citizens?

Mr. VELDE. I want both.

Mr. HAYDEN. These two are Partisans. I can remember a man named Ivosevich, who was first mate.

Mr. VELDE. I wonder if you would spell that?

Mr. HAYDEN. I-v-o-s-e-v-i-c-h, I think. There may be a "t" in it. And Nikolich, N-i-k-o-l-i-c-h.

Mr. VELDE. Did you meet Tito?

Mr. HAYDEN. I never met Tito.

Mr. VELDE. Proceed.

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't think of any other names.

Mr. VELDE. What about Americans?

Mr. HAYDEN. American OSS officer in Bari, Captain Haus

Tofte; Lieutenant Bob Thompson; Lieutenant Ward Ellen; Lieutenant Benson; Sergeant John Harnicker, Marine Corps; Major Koch; Major Linn Parish, who was killed in Greece. I guess there are a lot of others. Their names don't come to my mind.

Mr. VELDE. For the purpose of clarifying the record for people who may believe you are listing members of the Communist Party, if any of those you have listed are known to you to be or to have been members of the Communist Party, so state.

Mr. HAYDEN. To my knowledge none of them had any connection whatever. These were simply fellow officers or enlisted men with whom I worked.

Mr. VELDE. Was there an OSS officer from Pittsburgh?

Mr. HAYDEN. There were a number from around the Pittsburgh district. There are only three I recall, though there are lots of others.

Mr. VELDE. Were they members of the Communist Party? Can you identify any of them as members of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. No. I have heard subsequently that one of them, George Wuchinich, was in some way connected with the Communist Party. The others were strictly anti-Communist.

Mr. VELDE. Will you tell the committee how you felt, or know, that George Wuchinich was associated with the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't know when or how I heard it, but at some time since the war I have heard that mentioned.

Mr. VELDE. Scuttle butt?

Mr. HAYDEN. Let's say scuttle butt.

Mr. VELDE. When was it you made your first trip back to the States after being in Yugoslavia?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think late November or early December 1944.

Mr. VELDE. Will you again review--I was gone part of the time you testified, for a vote-- will you again review in more or less detail who were on the boat you came on, where you went, and what happened during the time you were back in the States in 1944.

Mr. HAYDEN. The boat I came on was a transport. 99 percent of the people on it were Regular Army and Air Force personnel coming on some rotation, I imagine. A few from OSS were coming home.

At the time I came here, or shortly afterwards, I flew to the West Coast to visit Tompkins.

Mr. VELDE. What port did you enter?

Mr. HAYDEN. Staten Island. I reported in, came to Washington, got my leave papers, flew to San Francisco, and spent five or six days with Tompkins.

Mr. VELDE. Have you seen Mr. Tompkins recently?

Mr. HAYDEN. The last time I saw him was two years ago when my wife and I were living on a boat at San Pedro and he and his wife and son, who had worked for me once, strolled by. We discussed nothing.

Mr. VELDE. You had no conversation with him?

Mr. HAYDEN. No conversation except about boats.

Mr. VELDE. Will you proceed.

Mr. HAYDEN. After that five or six days I flew back to Washington, contacted Tompkins about who I could contact in New York, who would know about guerrilla movements in the world.

Mr. VELDE. Will you go back to the five or six days you spent with Tompkins.

Mr. HAYDEN. It was just meeting people all the time, people coming to the boat, and we got in the car and visited people's homes. Different evenings we would go to people's homes, sit around, and talk to them. The only name brought out in the testimony was Dr. Ellwood Lyman, who to the best of my knowledge was not a Communist.

Mr. VELDE. I believe you mentioned it was during this time you met Steve Nelson?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. VELDE. Where was this meeting?

Mr. HAYDEN. It may have been at the home of Dr. Lyman. It may have been at some other person's home.

Mr. VELDE. How many people were present?

Mr. HAYDEN. From fifteen to twenty people.

Mr. VELDE. And the only one you remember, as I understand, is Steve Nelson?

Mr. HAYDEN. That is right.

Mr. VELDE. What was the subject of the conversation so far as Steve Nelson was concerned?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yugoslavia. He asked questions about it and I talked about it. It was just a general conversation.

Mr. VELDE. Can you give in substance the conversation as you remember it?

Mr. HAYDEN. In capsule form, I would simply say I was the fellow who was home from the wars, and I was a first-hand connection with it, and therefore I was more or less the focal point of attention, and this did not displease me, I must admit, and I went on and on about what I had seen in Yugoslavia.

Mr. VELDE. I guess Steve Nelson was particularly interested in your story?

Mr. HAYDEN. He didn't seem to be too much.

Mr. VELDE. Who did the most talking, Steve or you?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think it was split up among the entire party.

Mr. VELDE. Do you remember anybody else who was present at all, their first name?

Mr. HAYDEN. I am sorry; I do not. No names come to my mind. I think this was a very haphazard gathering, though I may be wrong about that.

Mr. VELDE. I may have forgotten your testimony about "Pop" Folkoff. Where did you meet him?

Mr. HAYDEN. In a restaurant.

Mr. VELDE. Was anybody else present at that meeting?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think we decided somebody named Baroway.

Mr. TAVENNER. Leo Baroway?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think so.

Mr. VELDE. Anybody else?

Mr. HAYDEN. Tompkins, Folkoff, this missing link, and myself.

Mr. VELDE. Was the restaurant on Marcus Street?

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't remember.

Mr. VELDE. What was the subject of the conversation?

Mr. HAYDEN. Just general conversation. We weren't discussing the weather.

Mr. VELDE. I don't want to put you through the grill. I am interested in finding out what the facts are.

Mr. HAYDEN. I appreciate that. I shouldn't have said general discussion.

Mr. VELDE. In your associations with the Communist Party, what did they ask you about? You had important information.

Mr. HAYDEN. It was more colorful than anything else.

Mr. VELDE. What was the general nature of the conversation?

Mr. HAYDEN. I am afraid of being redundant here. I can only say it was a description of what I had seen in Yugoslavia. Folkoff maintained a very distant approach to the whole thing, smiled as though he knew all about it. There were no points made; no line was followed that I can recall in any way.

Mr. VELDE. Did he ask you about your experiences in Yugoslavia?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. I don't think I needed to be asked at the time. It was like pressing a button and I was off to the races.

Mr. VELDE. How did you happen to make contact with Mr. Folkoff?

Mr. HAYDEN. Tompkins told me he wanted me to meet him.

Mr. VELDE. Where were you staying at that time?

Mr. HAYDEN. On Tompkins's schooner.

Mr. VELDE. Was Tompkins the sole owner of the schooner?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think he and his wife.

Mr. VELDE. Is he a wealthy man?

Mr. HAYDEN. I would say he is anything but wealthy. I think that-- well, that is getting into the realm of conjecture again.

Mr. VELDE. There are degrees of being wealthy, like everything else.

Mr. HAYDEN. He is a man who had led a rather spectacular career in the South Seas, in Europe, in Paris, as an artist and writer, and he attempted to make the schooner pay and the schooner never paid.

Mr. VELDE. You mean by taking passengers?

Mr. HAYDEN. College boys in the summer, yes.

Mr. VELDE. You said he was one of those who influenced you to become a member of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. He forged the first link, you might say.

Mr. VELDE. Did you attend any other parties or meetings while you were in San Francisco?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, I may have, because all the time I was there there were meetings going on, group gatherings and get-togethers.

Mr. VELDE. I mean in the schooner?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. People would come in the evenings and sit and talk.

Mr. VELDE. Do you remember any of those people?

Mr. HAYDEN. I remember one man who was apparently a close friend of Tompkins'. I subsequently heard he was in disrepute with the Party and had broken with it. He was a merchant seaman in the war. I would remember his name if I heard it.

Mr. VELDE. Did you have occasion to meet Bernadette Doyle?

Mr. HAYDEN. Not to my knowledge.

Mr. VELDE. Louise Branstetter?

Ronald Reagan-4596

Mr. HAYDEN. No.

Mr. VELDE. Do you know for a fact that Louise Bransten was not present at the meeting at the time you went to Dr. Lyman's home?

Mr. HAYDEN. She may have been. I know nothing about the name. It means nothing to me one way or the other.

Mr. VELDE. That is all.

Mr. WOOD. General Kearney.

Mr. KEARNEY. Some few days ago there was testimony given by Larry Parks, and as I recollect he definitely stated that no writer could color a picture for propaganda purposes. Do you agree with that?

Mr. HAYDEN. I certainly do.

Mr. KEARNEY. That no writer could?

Mr. HAYDEN. At the present time, with the feeling the way it is, I don't see how he could.

Mr. KEARNEY. How about the past?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think there would be more chance in the past.

Mr. KEARNEY. It has been done in the past?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think it has.

Mr. KEARNEY. Do you know if any of the ten convicted Hollywood actors have again been employed by the motion picture industry?

Mr. HAYDEN. I have no idea. I assume they are not.

Mr. KEARNEY. I understood you to say in the meetings you attended there was discussion, indirectly, of the overthrow of the government by force and violence?

Mr. HAYDEN. There was a discussion of what they called dialectics.

Mr. KEARNEY. Were any well known leaders of the Communist Party ever in attendance at any of the meetings you attended?

Mr. HAYDEN. Not to my recollection.

Mr. KEARNEY. The name of Karen Morley has been injected here in your statement. Do you know whether she is still a member of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. I have no idea.

Mr. KEARNEY. You do know she was a member?

Mr. HAYDEN. I assume she was, because she tried to get me back into the Communist Party.

Mr. KEARNEY. Only Communists would do that?

Mr. HAYDEN. That is my view.

Mr. KEARNEY. That is all.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Jackson.

Mr. JACKSON. Do you know where Captain Tompkins is at the present time?

Mr. HAYDEN. He is in Los Angeles somewhere.

Mr. JACKSON. Have you received any communication from Captain Tompkins since you severed your connection with the Party in 1946?

Mr. HAYDEN. Except for that time he came by the boat that Sunday afternoon, I have had no word from him at all.

Mr. JACKSON. Have you had any communication with Bea Winter since you severed your connection with the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. I met her in a market when my wife was in the hospital with a baby. We had small talk there.

Mr. JACKSON. Have you had communication with Folkoff since you severed your connection with the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. No.

Mr. JACKSON. In your original contract with Paramount in 1940 and 1941, who handled the negotiation for Paramount?

Mr. HAYDEN. I assume Holman did.

Mr. JACKSON. Who was head of the contract department?

Mr. HAYDEN. Hiller Innes.

Mr. JACKSON. When did you do "Virginia"?

Mr. HAYDEN. "Virginia" began in May 1940.

Mr. JACKSON. Who was the producer of "Virginia"?

Mr. HAYDEN. Edward H. Griffith.

Mr. JACKSON. Who was the director?

Mr. HAYDEN. Edward H. Griffith.

Mr. JACKSON. Who did the script?

Mr. HAYDEN. Virginia Van Upp.

Mr. JACKSON. And on "Bahama Passage"?

Mr. HAYDEN. The same people.

Mr. JACKSON. Would you say those people in the motion picture industry who have for some reason or other associated themselves with the Communist Party, either as active members or as fellow travelers, lend their efforts to the Party knowing the ultimate goal of the front organizations for which they appear?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think that covers a lot of ground. I certainly think no, that the majority did not.

Mr. JACKSON. The majority did not?

Mr. HAYDEN. No. I think that is particularly true of the Committee for the First Amendment.

Mr. JACKSON. Did you do a picture in 1949 or 1950, "Asphalt Jungle"?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. JACKSON. Who was the producer?

Mr. HAYDEN. Arthur Hornblow, Jr.

Mr. JACKSON. Who did the script?

Mr. HAYDEN. John Huston and Ben Madow.

Mr. JACKSON. Who directed it?

Mr. HAYDEN. John Huston.

Mr. JACKSON. After your discharge from service, did you at any time go to the Communist Party headquarters in New York?

Mr. HAYDEN. No, I did not.

Mr. JACKSON. Or on the West Coast?

Mr. HAYDEN. I never did. Ronald Reagan-4600

Mr. JACKSON. Did you at any time discuss politics with Russell Holman?

Mr. HAYDEN. No. I think Mr. Holman and Mr. Frank Freeman both figured I was in the midst of a kind of--well, I don't want to overwork the word "emotional," but that I was upset, and I think Mr. Freeman was concerned, but thought it would dissipate itself.

Mr. JACKSON. Was Captain Tompkins personally acquainted with the movie colony people?

Mr. HAYDEN. Not to my knowledge. He once visited me on the set.

Mr. JACKSON. Did you attend any parties or affairs with Captain Tompkins in Hollywood?

Mr. HAYDEN. No; never did.

Mr. JACKSON. Was it ever intended that the story he was doing on you was conceivably to be made into a script?

Mr. HAYDEN. Not to my knowledge; not to my knowledge. He has had no experience in screen play writing at all. I think he had one idea in mind, which is the one I outlined. I have read random remarks in trade papers that certain phases of my activity would make a good story.

Mr. JACKSON. But whether he had that in mind, you don't know?

Mr. HAYDEN. No, I don't.

Mr. JACKSON. You say Bea Winter is presently employed by a producer?

Mr. HAYDEN. I have heard she is.

Mr. JACKSON. Do you know the producer's name?

Mr. HAYDEN. I will think of it before I get through. I don't think of it now.

Mr. JACKSON. Do you know at what studio the producer is?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think he is an independent producer.

Mr. JACKSON. At what studio?

Mr. HAYDEN. No studio. They move around.

Mr. JACKSON. During the period when you were a member of the Party, how many meetings would you say you attended?

Mr. HAYDEN. One a week for three months, which would give us twelve, and probably after that six or eight.

Mr. JACKSON. During the period covered by your membership you are only able to identify two members of the cell by name?

Mr. HAYDEN. By name. I never knew their last names. That is the gimmick in this thing. That was a thing that was carefully guarded.

Mr. JACKSON. Do you know Herbert K. Sorrell?

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't know him. I never met him. I know who he is.

Mr. JACKSON. Were representations ever made to you regarding his activities during the strike in Hollywood, representations to assist in any way?

Mr. HAYDEN. The whole focal point of the activity of this group of actors and actresses was to swing the Screen Actors' Guild in favor of Sorrell's CSU.

Mr. JACKSON. Were you ever personally active in support of the strike?

Mr. HAYDEN. I made a contribution to Polonsky which might be construed in support of it. Or it may have been for the Party.

Mr. JACKSON. Did you ever attend meetings of any other cells of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. No, sir.

Mr. WOOD. Excuse me. Is the name of the producer you were speaking of, who is the employer of Bea Winter, Sam Spiegel?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. Thank you.

Mr. JACKSON. Do you think the goals of the Communist Party were in any way different at the time you were a member than they are today, the ultimate goals?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think the ultimate goal is the same.

Mr. JACKSON. Do you consider, Mr. Hayden, that in your own mind you have been completely fair and completely frank with the committee, and that you have named for this committee every member of the Communist Party in the moving picture industry of whom you have personal knowledge?

Mr. HAYDEN. I do.

Mr. JACKSON. Mr. Hayden, has any member of your family, either by blood or marriage, at any time been a member of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. No, they certainly have not.

Mr. JACKSON. Thank you.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Potter.

Mr. POTTER. Mr. Hayden, I was interested in the influence that the Partisan movement had on you, and I am wondering what your observation would be of that same influence on other Americans who happened to be in OSS aiding the Partisan movement in Yugoslavia. Do you believe you were an exception or that other individuals closely identified with the Partisan movement would also be susceptible to the Communist ideology through that association?

Mr. HAYDEN. I can only say that to the best of my knowledge I know of no one else affected similarly. We were all deeply moved, but I have no way of knowing that anyone else had a parallel experience.

Mr. POTTER. Through your contact with other American military personnel, did any of them at that time feel, or did you discuss among yourselves, that communism was a political star which we should tie onto?

Mr. HAYDEN. We never got into any of that.

Mr. POTTER. You never discussed that?

Mr. HAYDEN. Not that I remember, not at all. All our work and conversation and thoughts seemed to be filled with just what was actually going on.

Mr. POTTER. Do you have any knowledge at all of any effort during the last war to recruit military personnel into the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. No, I have had no experience along that line.

Mr. POTTER. If I recall your testimony correctly, your cell instructed you to contact this group, much larger group, of actors and actresses, to get the Guild to support the strike. Is that true?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. POTTER. In the cell meeting, did they tell you to go over and to make certain contacts in the other organization and work through them? Did they give any names of persons you were to work through?

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't remember exactly. I know it was suggested I attend that cocktail party, at which a large number of people were present. The suggestion was simply that I devote myself to this activity rather than the weekly meetings.

Mr. POTTER. Did you report back to the cell?

Mr. HAYDEN. I would go back once a month or so.

Mr. POTTER. To report your progress?

Mr. HAYDEN. What was going on, yes.

Mr. POTTER. How successful were you with the other group?

Mr. HAYDEN. I am sure, as a matter of fact, the move was very unsuccessful. It ran into the Board of Directors of the Screen Actors' Guild, and particularly into Ronald Reagan, who was a one-man battalion against this thing. He was very vocal and clear-thinking on it. I don't think many people realized how complex it was. I know I didn't. There was very little headway made.

Mr. POTTER. I know I would, and I assume the rest of the committee would like to know the activities of a cell. We have had testimony to indicate it is a coffee and doughnut society. You have indicated part of it was devoted to a discussion of Communist Party principles. What did you discuss? Did you discuss, for example, membership, how you could increase your membership?

Mr. HAYDEN. That was frequently a subject of discussion, whether anyone had ideas about new recruiting; who were near those being recruited; and things like that.

Mr. POTTER. What criteria did you have for knowing whether a person was ready for the cell, or ripe to be plucked?

Mr. HAYDEN. I never recruited anybody. I assume whenever they found somebody receptive to their theories, they would get him to come to an open meeting, and in that way ask him to become an active member.

Ronald Reagan-4606

Mr. POTTER. Would you say it is difficult to be a half-hearted member when you are a member of a cell?

Mr. HAYDEN. One of the most impressive things about that group was the dedication of the people to it.

Mr. POTTER. Was that through discipline?

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't know how to answer that. As far as I know, there was little or no discipline.

Mr. POTTER. At the meetings of your cell group, did you discuss at any time means of financing front organizations?

Mr. HAYDEN. I never heard that discussed.

Mr. POTTER. You never heard that discussed?

Mr. HAYDEN. I never heard it discussed.

Mr. POTTER. And you have given the committee a list of contributions that you have made?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. POTTER. I assume you have been solicited for many other contributions for organizations that are front organizations or Communist organizations, to which you did not give?

Mr. HAYDEN. I assume that is true. An actor is solicited for contributions all the time.

Mr. POTTER. An actor and a politician.

Mr. WOOD. Is that all, Mr. Potter?

Mr. POTTER. Yes.

Mr. WOOD. Did you have questions, Mr. Moulder?

Mr. MOULLER. Yes.

Ronald Reagan-4607

Mr. WOOD. Proceed.

Mr. MOULDER. Referring to your testimony of the Communist movement having a tremendous effect on you following Yugoslavia, as I understand that was caused not because of your sympathy with the Communist philosophy, but was stirred by the struggle of a minority group seeking to achieve economic security?

Mr. HAYLEN. No. The only thing we were struggling against was the Nazi occupation forces. We knew many of those people had been underground for years, but the one struggle we saw was against the Germans.

Mr. MOULDER. You were a member of the Communist Party only four or five months?

Mr. HAYLEN. Let's say six and be on the outside.

Mr. MOULDER. That was as a result of continual solicitation of an acquaintance of yours, and followed the exciting period you had encountered while in Yugoslavia?

Mr. HAYLEN. I think that is right.

Mr. MOULDER. During the period of your membership in the Party, you decided that the philosophy they were discussing was not in accord with your philosophy of government?

Mr. HAYLEN. Yes. In the first place, if I may say so-- and I say it because probably a good many people have been in a similar position--I never understood it. I was constantly told if I would read 40 pages of Dialectical and Historical Materialism I would understand communism. I never got beyond page 8, and I tried several times.

Mr. MOULDER. You resigned?

Mr. HAYDEN. I quit.

Mr. MOULDER. And severed all connections with the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. That I did.

Mr. MOULDER. That was several years ago?

Mr. HAYDEN. Over four years ago.

Mr. MOULDER. It is my understanding that the request for your appearance before this committee was not in the spirit of any reflection on or any doubt of your loyalty, but it was an effort on the part of the committee to secure information regarding Communist activities.

Mr. HAYDEN. That is the way it seems to me.

Mr. MOULDER. And from my standpoint your courageous services in the Marine Corps and in the OSS deserve commendation, and your testimony in my opinion has been straightforward and honest.

Mr. HAYDEN. Thank you.

Mr. MOULDER. I can reach only one conclusion, so far as I am concerned, and that is that you are an intensely loyal American citizen and you deserve the commendation of this country for the services you have rendered and for your testimony before this committee.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Doyle, do you have further questions?

Mr. DOYLE. Yes. May I be permitted to ask three or four more questions that I deferred asking before so that my colleagues could ask their questions.

I think you said in 1944 "It built up a tremendous curiosity. Something was going on in the world that I wanted to find out about." Do you recall so testifying?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. DOYLE. What was there going on in the world that you wanted to find out about that built up such a curiosity? Did you find out?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think I found out to my complete satisfaction. I simply had never thought of the conflicting forces in the world before.

Mr. DOYLE. What did you find out that satisfied that curiosity that had come to the surface, I think you said, in 1944?

Mr. HAYDEN. You mean the curiosity arose in 1944?

Mr. DOYLE. I think that was the substance of your language. You said one time you went to see Tompkins and it built up a tremendous curiosity that something was going on in the world that you wanted to find out about.

Mr. HAYDEN. That is right.

Mr. DOYLE. Why did you go to Tompkins to find out what was going on in the world?

Mr. HAYDEN. It so happened he came to me. I think it is one of the characteristics of our country and of all democracies that as a rule we don't endeavor to impress upon people--I think we don't attempt to do it enough--the things we believe in. Communists are the opposite. They give you no peace. When a Communist like Tompkins finds anyone at all susceptible, the pressure is on unremittingly.

Mr. DOYLE. Did you find anything going on in the world as to the activities of the Communist Party in relation to what was going on in America or other freedom-loving nations, and if so, what?

Mr. HAYDEN. Only that this whole totalitarian Communist move is a tremendous force in the world.

Mr. DOYLE. When you refer to this totalitarian move, what is that move, in your judgment?

Mr. HAYDEN. An endeavor to take over the entire world.

Mr. DOYLE. Are you testifying now that the intention and purpose of the Communist Party of the United States is to, by force, take control of the U.S.A. Government?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, I do.

Mr. DOYLE. What was your answer?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. DOYLE. You haven't been a member of the Communist Party since 1948?

Mr. HAYDEN. 1946.

Mr. DOYLE. Since 1946. Was that your firm conclusion and opinion at the time you resigned from the Communist Party of the United States?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, it was.

Mr. DOYLE. Is it still your opinion?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, it is.

Mr. DOYLE. But you were solicited in 1947 to rejoin the Communist Party, were you not?

Mr. HAYDEN. I was.

Mr. DOYLE. What inducements, if any, were given you at that time to rejoin the Communist Party? What arguments were put up to you?

Mr. HAYDEN. There was very little argument. One thing I learned was that you can't argue with a Communist. His mind is made up, and you can talk from now to breakfast and it won't do any good.

Mr. DOYLE. Have you been solicited by anyone but Karen Morley since 1947 to rejoin the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. I have not; not at all.

Mr. DOYLE. I am going to ask you this question. I don't know if it was asked by any other member of the committee when I went to the floor to vote or not. You are here before a committee of the United States Congress, a duly constituted committee of the House of Representatives, every member of which is elected every two years by the American people. What is your opinion of the jurisdiction, the purpose, the functioning of this committee, before which you have testified three hours today? Is it, in your judgment, serving a useful purpose? Is it serving a necessary purpose? If so, to what extent, and if not, why? Is that a fair question?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. DOYLE. I am really asking for your honest-to-God truthful opinion. I have never asked that question before, but I think in view of the manner in which you have come before this committee, and the apparent frankness with which you have answered questions, if you have any criticism of the manner in which this committee functions, I would like to know what that criticism is. You have now been before us three hours.

Mr. HAYDEN. I think of no criticism whatever.

Mr. DOYLE. Have you any suggestions to make of ways and means in which we might be more helpful in meeting this problem of the determination of the Communist Party of the United States to overthrow, if necessary by force, our government?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think that the request and suggestion that was made by the Chairman of the committee, of which I was apprised by the counsel of the committee, that people come up and speak up, is the thing I came here today thinking it was an extremely fine thing, a constructive thing.

I don't mean to attach any importance to myself as an individual who is out of balance, but I have had the feeling that my appearance before the committee could serve a very useful purpose. I hope it does.

Mr. DOYLE. Thank you.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Velde, did you have additional questions?

Mr. VELDE. Yes. Referring back to your trip back to the States when you said there were several parties in San Francisco, do you now recall any other people that you met at these parties?

Mr. HAYDEN. I thought of the name of this merchant seaman I said was expelled. His first name is Jim.

Mr. VELDE. He has been expelled from the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. I heard he was, subsequently.

Mr. VELDE. Did you ever meet Steve Murin?

Mr. HAYDEN. Not by that name.

Mr. VELDE. Did you ever meet Dwight Freeman?

Mr. HAYDEN. I know that name. Did he have another first name? I know a man named Freeman.

Mr. VELDE. I think he is also known as James Freeman. This was brought out in the prior Hollywood hearings. Do you feel that the Freeman you met in San Francisco, or knew, was a member of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. I really don't have any idea. Tompkins got me to see a man named Freeman who, I think, was a lithographer, or engaged in printing of some kind, in some way. It seems to me his first name was Bud, but I have no opinion at all on the question which you ask.

Mr. VELDE. Did you meet Freeman's wife Pearl?

Mr. HAYDEN. Not to my knowledge.

Mr. VELDE. I believe you said you came in to New York and then came to Washington?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. VELDE. Did you contact any member of the Communist Party, or did any member of the Communist Party contact you, here in Washington?

Mr. HAYDEN. Not at all that I know of.

Mr. VELDE. How long were you here?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think the total leave was five weeks.

Mr. VELDE. I mean here in Washington.

Mr. HAYDEN. I suppose half of that time, two and a half weeks.

Mr. VELDE. You spent some time in Los Angeles, too, didn't you?

Mr. HAYDEN. I came through Los Angeles and made a couple phone calls. I called Mr. Freeman at Paramount, just to say hello. I never left the airport, as I remember it.

Mr. VELDE. Going back to the Yugoslavia operations as a member of the OSS, what do you feel was the general attitude of the OSS towards the Partisan movement?

Mr. HAYDEN. That is an involved matter.

Mr. VELDE. I realize that.

Mr. HAYDEN. The feeling was high and strong. I was only associated with the Partisans. One man, named Gov Muslin, I met him on leave, and he was pro-Mihailovitch. There was every shade of opinion.

Mr. VELDE. Did OSS members, including yourself, have any contact with the Chetniks?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. VELDE. What was the attitude of the OSS towards the Chetniks?

Mr. HAYDEN. Until Tito merged, I think we were following the British dictate, which was to support Mihailovitch and the Chetniks.

Mr. VELDE. Wasn't the attitude of the OSS members at that time to belittle the efforts of the Chetniks?

Mr. HAYDEN. No. There was a certain element of OSS officers who, I believe, were pro-Mihailovitch and stayed that way. Others started that way and swung to Tito.

Mr. VELDE. Have you ever met a man named Eric Cogill?

Mr. HAYDEN. I have never heard the name.

Mr. VELDE. Have you ever met, to your recollection, any member of the Soviet Consulate at San Francisco, or the Soviet Consulate at Los Angeles, or the Soviet Embassy in Washington?

Mr. HAYDEN. Certainly not of the Soviet Embassy in Washington or of the Soviet Consulate in Los Angeles, though it is possible I met a member of the Embassy in San Francisco.

though I do not remember.

Mr. VELDE. Would you remember if I mentioned his name?

Mr. HAYDEN. There is only one way to find out. If the name rings any bell I will say that it does.

Mr. VELDE. Have you ever met Gregory Kheifets?

Mr. HAYDEN. No.

Mr. VELDE. Then to the best of your recollection you have never met a member of the Soviet diplomatic force in the United States?

Mr. HAYDEN. Not to the best of my recollection.

Mr. WOOD. General Kearney.

Mr. KEARNEY. I have just been informed that counsel is going to straighten out what I had proposed to question him about.

Mr. WOOD. Anything further?

Mr. JACKSON. Were any representations made to you to appear before the committee and give testimony?

Mr. HAYDEN. I was subpoenaed to appear before the committee.

Mr. JACKSON. There were no representations made by the industry or anybody in the industry?

Mr. HAYDEN. No.

Mr. JACKSON. Were any representations made to you at any time not to appear before the committee?

Mr. HAYDEN. No, sir.

Mr. JACKSON. You have not been approached by any person to appear or not to appear before the committee?

Mr. HAYDEN. Not in any way.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Potter.

Mr. POTTER. Have you been in contact with, or have you met, any of the members of your particular cell since you left the Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. Outside of the day that I bumped into Bea Winter in the market, I don't believe I have ever even seen a member of that cell.

Mr. POTTER. How does it happen that Bea Winter was the one who talked you into becoming a member of the Party when your good friend, Captain Tompkins, was the one who constantly advocated the Communist cause? Why didn't Captain Tompkins approach you to become a member instead of Bea Winter?

Mr. HAYDEN. I can only imagine he was waiting for a tactical approach. And he was living in another district.

Mr. POTTER. You stated that you were the only actor in your cell?

Mr. HAYDEN. That is correct.

Mr. POTTER. Did you have any liaison with other Communist cells in Hollywood?

Mr. HAYDEN. None whatsoever.

Mr. POTTER. You knew that other actors were members of the Communist Party? You didn't feel you were alone?

Mr. HAYDEN. I have some comment on that. When I joined I was under the impression, perhaps erroneously, that there were a good many name actors in the Party. Now, what is a "name" actor?

Mr. POTTER. Your cell was composed of technicians?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. I heard it said once that it was too bad a small, select group of actors could not be formed, but for some reason it could not be formed.

Mr. POTTER. From the testimony that you have given before the committee, and the forthright manner in which you have given the testimony, do you expect any reprisals from this testimony by the motion picture industry?

Mr. HAYDEN. I do not. I have thought about that. I will be frank, I have thought about it. Whether it is natural wishful thinking or confidence, I don't know, but I feel that when the mistake of five months is weighed against other things, I really don't see any justification for it.

Mr. POTTER. And I assume from that, that the people in the motion picture industry knew about it?

Mr. HAYDEN. I would disagree with that. I was subpoenaed to appear before this committee approximately five days before I started working in the picture in which I am now engaged. At that time there was considerable consternation on the part of producers, simply because I had been subpoenaed. They asked that I issue a statement denying past or present affiliation. I issued a statement denying present affiliation.

Mr. POTTER. So you think it came as a distinct surprise to them?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think today's testimony will come as quite a surprise.

Mr. POTTER. When Mr. Parks was here recently he said he belonged to a select group of actors. You had no knowledge of that while you were a member of the Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. I was under the impression no such group existed.

Mr. POTTER. And you were surprised when you heard that testimony of Mr. Parks?

Mr. HAYDEN. I was. I never had a firm opinion about Larry Parks. I did not know. I know in these meetings of actors occasionally it would be suggested that perhaps Parks would support something, and it was always said, "No, he would not." I remember that clearly.

Mr. POTTER. I have no further questions.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Hayden, what, if anything, do you know about any fund-raising activities in Los Angeles for the benefit of the Communist movement, while you were connected with it?

Mr. HAYDEN. I know nothing about that except there was one check I wrote for Abe Polonsky, but on whose behalf, I have no information on that.

Mr. WOOD. Through Communist channels have you any information?

Mr. HAYDEN. No, none.

Mr. WOOD. You never heard that discussed at any meetings you attended?

Mr. HAYDEN. I never did.

Mr. WOOD. I believe you said that during the time you belonged to the Party you had weekly meetings, at least for three or four months of that time?

Mr. HAYDEN. That is right.

Mr. WOOD. And that those weekly meetings were attended by from ten to twenty or more people?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. WOOD. Those meetings were not publicized?

Mr. HAYDEN. No; on the contrary.

Mr. WOOD. They were surreptitiously held?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. WOOD. And you knew other people were meeting surreptitiously and discussing whatever matters were discussed?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes.

Mr. WOOD. And you are telling the committee that notwithstanding these meetings of three or four times a month, that group of people meeting in secret at the homes of individuals, you never got sufficiently familiar with the identity of any of those people to be able to enlighten the committee as to the identity of any but the two or three you have stated?

Mr. HAYDEN. That is the case.

Mr. WOOD. It never occurred to you to make any inquiry about it?

Mr. HAYDEN. It did not. I think I can say, in regard to that, that shortly after I began to proceed in this, I became aware of the fact that I had to set my own house in order, that I had to get myself out of it, and my feeling was quite strong on that until I got myself under control.

Mr. WOOD. But you did realize, before you separated yourself from the movement, that it was not the character of movement you wanted to be connected with?

Mr. HAYDEN. That is right.

Mr. WOOD. And even so, you leave with this committee the impression you did not get sufficiently curious about your associates to inquire as to who they were?

Mr. HAYDEN. That is right.

Mr. WOOD. And you cannot tell us a single name of others in that cell?

Mr. HAYDEN. I cannot.

Mr. WOOD. Anything further?

Mr. VELDE. Did you attend a Progressive Party Rally at Madison Square Garden in 1947?

Mr. HAYDEN. At which Mr. Wallace spoke? Yes.

Mr. VELDE. Whom did you go there with?

Mr. HAYDEN. My wife, who is here today.

Mr. VELDE. Was there anyone else in your group?

Mr. HAYDEN. I am strongly of the impression we went alone.

Mr. VELDE. Did you meet any persons at that rally you can identify as being members of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. To the best of my recollection we went in, sat down, got out of the meeting, and left.

Mr. VELDE. How long did you stay in New York on that occasion?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think we stayed two or three days. It was on our way home from the Coast of Maine to California.

Mr. VELDE. During that time you didn't meet or talk with any members of the Communist Party who were known to you to be members of the Communist Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. I don't think I met anyone of any political nature at all.

Mr. VELDE. Can you tell the committee what prompted you to attend that rally?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think I can. As I said, the entire year of 1947 I was not working. I was under contract, but I did not work. I stayed on the boat in Santa Barbara. I was married in May of that year and my wife and I went East for four months. Then I began to feel a desire to at least participate in something of a constructive nature. We were in New York on our way to the West Coast when this rally was being held.

Mr. VELDE. Where had you come from before you went to the rally in New York?

Mr. HAYDEN. Maine. Then we went out to California, and it was that same feeling that motivated me in joining the Committee for the First Amendment when I was approached. It was a desire to talk about something outside the weather, which was what we had been talking about all summer in Maine.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Doyle.

Mr. DOYLE. The law under which this committee functions, as far as jurisdiction is concerned, provides that we may inquire into the extent, character, and objects of un-American propaganda activities in the United States. Have you any information which you can give this committee which you have not already given on that subject? If you have, will you give it to us, please? Do you understand my question?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes. I believe that I have covered just about everything I possibly have access to in my own mind.

Mr. DOYLE. The law also provides that we shall inquire into the distribution and diffusion within the United States of subversive and un-American propaganda that is instigated by and comes from foreign countries. Have you any information on that?

Mr. HAYDEN. I have no information on that whatsoever.

Mr. DOYLE. Did you acquire any information on that while you were a member?

Mr. HAYDEN. I did not.

Mr. DOYLE. Or before or at all?

Mr. HAYDEN. No.

Mr. DOYLE. You have testified twice, in answer to my questions, that you are satisfied one of the objectives of the Communist Party of the United States is to forcibly overthrow, if necessary, the form of Government set out by our American Constitution. Have you anything to add as to the ways and means they would undertake to accomplish that objective?

Mr. HAYDEN. I do not.

Mr. DOYLE. Thank you.

Mr. TAVENNER. I want to make certain that your testimony is clear in regard to one matter. I asked you to name those whom you knew to be members of the Communist Party who were connected with the Screen Actors' Guild with which you worked, and you named those that you knew?

Mr. HAYDEN. I did.

Mr. TAVENNER. And you named several others, members of the Communist Party, with whom you had come in contact. Then, in the course of your testimony, you indicated that you could name others, but it would be a matter of conjecture, and I stated to you that I did not want you to testify from conjecture. Have you given to the investigators of this committee a list of names of those to whom you have referred?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, I have.

Mr. TAVENNER. That is all.

Mr. WOOD. By that I understand that the list of names you have given the investigators are in addition to those you have named before this committee?

Mr. HAYDEN. Yes, they are.

Mr. WOOD. And do I understand those names have been furnished the investigators by you only upon some conjecture you have that they may have been members of the Party?

Mr. HAYDEN. My feeling is that the only ones I know to have been members are those active in the cell and Karen Morley. Any others would have to be conjecture.

Mr. WOOD. That is not entirely responsive to my question. Do I understand that the list of names you have furnished the investigators, that you have no knowledge as to whether they have ever been members of the Communist Party or not?

Mr. HAYDEN. That is true. I do not know.

Mr. WOOD. But your purpose in furnishing the list of names to the investigators was that by proper investigation on the part of the investigators of the committee and the committee itself, that their connection with the Communists might be revealed with reference to some of them?

Mr. HAYDEN. I think if they were asked it would be developed.

Mr. WOOD. Was that your purpose in furnishing to the staff of this committee that list of names?

Mr. HAYDEN. It was.

Mr. WOOD. And no other reason?

Mr. HAYDEN. No, sir.

Mr. DOYLE. May I ask one more question: Did you tell that Karen Morley was a member of the cell?

Mr. HAYDEN. She was not a member of the cell.

Mr. WOOD. The committee will adjourn until ten o'clock tomorrow morning.

(Thereupon, at 1:15 p.m. on Tuesday, April 10, 1951, an adjournment was taken until Wednesday, April 11, 1951, 10:00 a.m.)

COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL AND NATIONAL DECLARATION OF INTEREST IN THE MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY. AN EXPRESSED ATTEMPT TO WREST CONTROL OF MOTION PICTURES AND ITS USE AS A PROPAGANDA AND AGITATION WEAPON

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

WILLI MUENZENBERG had an article on Page 3 in the "Daily Worker" of July 23, 1925, captioned, "CAPTURE THE FILM!". The sub-title was "Hints on the Use Of, Out of the Use Of, Proletarian Film". In this article he states as follows:

"WE MUST DEVELOP THE TREMENDOUS CULTURAL POSSIBILITIES OF THE MOTION PICTURE IN A REVOLUTIONARY SENSE.....ONE OF THE MOST PRESSING TASKS CONFRONTING COMMUNIST PARTIES IN THE FIELD OF AGITATION AND PROPAGANDA IS THE CONQUEST OF THIS SUPREMELY IMPORTANT PROPAGANDA WEAPON, UNTIL NOW THE MONOPOLY OF THE RULING CLASS. WE MUST WREST IT FROM THEM AND TURN IT AGAINST THEM".

WILLI MUENZENBERG further states, "The total attendance in the movie theaters of England, France, and United States is perhaps even today (1925) greater than the total number of newspaper readers in these countries."

Photostat copy of WILLI MUENZENBERG's article is enclosed as an exhibit of this report. Additional facts noted in this article explain how various countries have heretofore used the motion picture propaganda weapon.

MUENZENBERG states in this article, "Not the destruction of tools and technical equipment but their conquest and their turning to the use of labor movement, for the idea-world of Communism."

[Confidential Source T-1] states that the "Daily Worker" is the official Communist Party organ of the Communist Party of the USA published in New York. [Source T-1] states that MUENZENBERG was not in the United States at the time that this article was incorporated into the "Daily Worker" and that its reprint would be considered by the Communists as a directive to be followed. [Source T-1] states that WILLI MUENZENBERG at one time was a member of the Executive Committee of the Communist International (E.C.C.I.). [Source T-1] states that [he has] noted in the International Press correspondence in the years past that WILLI MUENZENBERG had attended plenums in Moscow. (u)

[Source T-1] states that WILLI MUENZENBERG on the Executive Committee of the Communist International was associated with OTTO KUUSINEN of the Moscow Central Committee Political Bureau and that MUENZENBERG had been directed to set up and organize most of the International Fronts, one of which was the American League Against War and Fascism which was set up at the Amsterdam Conference in 1932 or 1933. WILLI MUENZENBERG, also known as WILLY MUENZENBERG was a German Communist Deputy and the former manager of several German Communist newspapers in Berlin such as "Die Welt Am Morgen". [Source T-1] ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

LEOPOLD SCHWARZCHILD, 225 E. 57th Street, New York, interviewed by Agent NICHOLAS J. ALAGA the latter part of 1943, states that he knew WILLY MUENZENBERG in Berlin and advised that MUENZENBERG was the real founder of the German Communist Party. LEOPOLD SCHWARZCHILD states that he published a newspaper in Berlin in 1922 and had employed one OTTO KATZ an advertising salesman and solicitor in Berlin but that he had had a disagreement with OTTO KATZ in 1926. He states that OTTO KATZ subsequently associated himself with WILLI MUENZENBERG in Berlin and that MUENZENBERG founded numerous Communist Front organizations in Germany at the instigation of Moscow. MR. SCHWARZCHILD stated that when HITLER came to power in 1933 both MUENZENBERG and KATZ fled to Paris and while there continued their Communist activity through a publishing house known as the "Edition Carrefour". MR. SCHWARZCHILD stated that in 1938 MUENZENBERG renounced Communism while in Paris and that MUENZENBERG was found hanged from a tree in a forest near Paris in 1940. MR. SCHWARZCHILD stated that OTTO KATZ made visits to the United States and Mexico.

MR. HERMANN RAUSCHNING, 6740 Milner Road, Hollywood, interviewed in the fall of 1943, by SA RICHARD C. THOMPSON, stated that he was formerly President of the Senate of the Free City of Danzig. MR. RAUSCHNING stated that he met OTTO KATZ and WILLI MUENZENBERG in France in either the latter part of 1937 or 1938 at a group meeting of individuals who were opposed to the Nazi form of government.

[Confidential Source T-59] advised SA P.D. HORGAN on April 28, 1942, that he knew OTTO KATZ as an OGPU Agent in Mexico City. [Source T-59] advised Agent HORGAN on June 30, 1942, that he first knew OTTO KATZ in Berlin in about 1929 when KATZ was connected with a Communist newspaper which was published by MUENZENBERG. [Source T-59] states that MUENZENBERG at that time was connected with the motion picture industry in Berlin and also acted as an agent for Soviet Russia. [Source T-59] states that after 1929 OTTO KATZ went to Moscow where he assumed an official position as a manager of a Russian Film company. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

[Source T-59] states that OTTO KATZ went to Hollywood in 1936 where he used the name OTTO BREDA. [Source T-59] described MUENZENBERG as a propaganda agent of the Russian government and that OTTO KATZ was closely associated with MUENZENBERG in all Communist activities and that MUENZENBERG was killed in Paris shortly after he, MUENZENBERG, had refused to return to Moscow at the request of OTTO KATZ. (u)

MR. FRANK HUGHES, a Chicago Feature Press Writer, analyzing Communist penetration was quoted in the Chicago Daily Tribune November 19, 1946, as follows:

"As far back as 1919 when the Communist revolution in Russia was in its infancy, NICOLAI LENIN, first prophet of World Communism, said in a convention with COMRADE LUNACHARSKI, his Commissar of Education, "YOU MUST ALWAYS CONSIDER THAT OF ALL THE ARTS THE MOTION PICTURE IS FOR US THE MOST IMPORTANT."

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Continuing, FRANK HUGHES was quoted:

"Six years later, WILLI MUENZENBERG, Cultural High Priest of the Communists and general secretary of the Internal Workers Relief, a Communist International Organization, reported, that, "QUITE PROPERLY THE ENLARGED EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE COMINTERN IN 1925 INSTRUCTED ALL AFFILIATED PARTIES TO CONCERN THEMSELVES MORE THAN FORMERLY IN TURNING THIS WEAPON (THE MOVIES) TO THEIR SERVICES."

FRANK HUGHES, aforementioned was quoted to the effect that Commissars in Moscow founded the Cinema bureau of the International Union of the Revolutionary Theater. He states that the preamble of the bureau's master plan set forth the goal as follows:

"To concentrate and unite the forces of film workers, professional and amateur, as well as audiences in the various countries upon a general platform, using the film as a means for revolutionary education and mobilization of the toiling masses in the struggle against Fascism, political reaction, threatening imperialist wars, for the defense of the Soviet Union."

FRANK HUGHES states that the Communist Party founded in this country the Film and Photo League, the Associated Film Audiences, Films for Democracy, and Association of Documentary Film Producers.

HUGHES relates in his article that these organizations were mostly for Party members and had little effect on the Hollywood industry.

Hughes states that the master plan for "Revolutionary" writers was drafted at the 2nd Congress of the International Union of Revolutionary Writers in Kharkov, Russia, November 15, 1930. He states that among the American delegates were FRED ELLIS, MICHAEL GOLD, WILLIAM GROPPER, JOSHUA KUNITZ, A.B. MAGIL, AND HARRY ALAN POTAMKIN.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

HUGHES in his article states that when the American delegates came back from the Kharkov conference they met in New York City June 14, 1931, and founded the Workers Cultural Federation.

HUGHES in his article relates that the American members of the Soviet International Union of Revolutionary Writers issued a call for the first American Writers Congress which founded the League of American Writers.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The Daily Worker of August 15, 1925 contained a special magazine supplement with an article by WILLY MUENZENBERG entitled, "THE PICTURE AND THE FILM IN THE REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENT", which quotes VLADIMIR ILTCH LENIN in a conversation with COMRADE LUNACHARSKI as follows:

"YOU MUST POWERFULLY DEVELOP FILM PRODUCTION, TAKING ESPECIALLY THE PROLETARIAN KINO TO THE CITY MASSES AND IN- STILL A MUCH GREATER EXTENT TO THE VILLAGE. YOU MUST ALWAYS CONSIDER THAT OF ALL THE ARTS THE MOTION PICTURE IS FOR US THE MOST IMPORTANT."

WILLY MUENZENBERG'S article states:

"THERE MUST NO LONGER BE ANY COUNTRY IN WHICH THE COMMUNIST PARTY AND ITS GROUPS DO NOT MAKE EXTENSIVE PROPAGANDIST USE OF THE MOTION PICTURE FILM."

WILLY MUENZENBERG states:

"BUT NEXT TO NOTHING HAS BEEN DONE TO PUT THE FILM INTO THE ARSENAL OF AGITATION AND PROPAGANDA WEAPONS OF THE COMMUNIST PARTIES. QUITE PROPERLY THE ENLARGED EXECUTIVE OF THE COMINTERN IN MARCH 1925, CALLED ATTENTION TO THIS SHORT-COMING, AND INSTRUCTED ALL AFFILIATED PARTIES TO CONCERN THEMSELVES MUCH MORE THAN FORMERLY IN TURNING THIS WEAPON TO THEIR SERVICE. LEADING COMRADES OF THE INTERNATIONAL HAVE REPEATEDLY AND EMPHATICALLY POINTED OUT THE TREMENDOUS SIGNIFICANCE OF THE FILM PROPAGANDA."

MUENZENBERG'S article also quotes A. V. LUNACHARSKY, Commissar of Public Education, K. WOROSHILOV, Commander of Red Army, Moscow Military District, M. A. SEMASCHKO, Peoples Commissar for Health and CLARA ZETKIN, on the significance of the film. This WILLY MUENZENBERG article, in photostat form, is enclosed as an exhibit to this report.

EARLY COMMUNIST PARTY HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION IN HOLLYWOOD

The League of American Writers at a convention in New York City in April, 1935, decided to form a Pacific Coast branch of the League of American Writers, according to Confidential Source T-1. At this time WALDO FRANK was the National Secretary of the League of American Writers. A complete record and report on the first American Writers Congress has been published by the International Publishers (New York Communist Party Press) edited by HENRY HART. This report contains all the addresses delivered at this Congress. On page 123 there is an article by JOHN HOWARD LAWSON entitled "Technique and the Drama" (u)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Quoting from an introduction appearing in this book concerning the first American Writers Congress it states, "We propose, therefore, that a Congress of American Revolutionary Writers be held in New York City April 26, 27, 28, 1935; that to this Congress there be invited all writers who have achieved some standing in their respective field and who have clearly indicated their sympathy with the Revolutionary cause; who do not need to be convinced of the decay of capitalism, of the inevitability of revolution.....We believe such a congress should create the League of American Writers, affiliated with the International Union of Revolutionary Writers. In European countries the International Union of Revolutionary Writers is in the vanguard of literature and political action".

Prominent Hollywood writers listed as being on the call to attend the first and second American Writers Congress includes such individuals as MICHAEL GOLD, GUY ENDORE, JOHN HOWARD LAWSON, SAMUEL ORNITZ, and GEORGE SKLAR.

The United Progressive News of September 21, 1936, reflects that some 25 writers attended the first local (Los Angeles and Hollywood) meeting of the "League of American Writers" on Sunday night and that included in this group were V.J. JEROME (VICTOR J. JEROME, true name ISAAC ROLLINE), FRANK SCULLY, UPTON SINCLAIR and LOREN MILLER. The United Progressive News mentions that the National Republic of July-August, 1935 reflects that the League of American Writers received many cabled greetings from Moscow when the League of American Writers was set up in New York.

The Daily Worker of September 23, 1933, has an article contributed by V.J. JEROME entitled "MARX, LEININ and STALIN ON THE ROLE OF THE COMMUNIST PARTY". Comments by JEROME in conclusion of this article are as follows: "And on our own celebration day of the 14th anniversary of our Party's founding, we must bear in mind that our Party has as its guide to action the teaching of Marx, Leinin and Stalin embodied in the program of the Communist International. We must realize that our central task is to win over the majority of the working class".

[Source T-1] advises that from 1936 the Hollywood Cultural Fraction of the Communist Party was completely independent, and had no official connection. (u) with the Los Angeles County Communist Party and that during this time all Party membership books and documentary evidence pertaining to Hollywood luminaries were destroyed. [Source T-1] states that V.J. JEROME returned to New York in 1938 after helping organize the Hollywood Anti-Nazi League. After the departure of V.J. JEROME in Hollywood in 1938 the cultural activities in Hollywood in the Communist Party, appeared to be under the direction of JOHN HOWARD LAWSON and HERBERT BIBERMAN, [according to Source T-1.] (u) (w)

Early in 1942 there was a reorganization of the Communist Party branches in Hollywood and all branches were placed in a section known as the Northwest Section. [Source T-1] stated that thereafter the activities of Hollywood branches again came under the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles County Communist Party which in turn was under the jurisdiction of District 13, headquarters at San Francisco. (u) (w)

[Confidential Source T-15] advised that penetration of the Communist Party into the motion picture industry gained impetus through such organizations as League of American Writers, the American Writers Congress, and the League Against War and Fascism. [Source T-15] states that when V.J. JEROME came to Hollywood in the latter part of 1935 he secured the aid of NORA and GEORGE HELGREN as well as the aid of one HAROLD SALEMSON. [Source T-12] also advised that during the latter part of 1935 V.J. JEROME utilized NORA HELGREN in connection with the Communist plan to set up branches in the motion picture industry at Hollywood. [Source T-12] states that NORA HELGREN did most of the leg work, running errands for JEROME, and collecting dues. [Source T-12] states that JEFF KIBRE was then closely associated with V.J. JEROME. This Source states that FRANK SPECTOR was the Los Angeles Sub-Section organizer of the Communist Party, the Los Angeles Communist Club then being a sub-section of the San Francisco section of the Communist Party. (u) (w)

In 1934, [according to Confidential Source T-16] there were only 35 or 40 Communist members in Hollywood in the motion picture industry who were attached to the Los Angeles sub-section of the Communist Party. [Source T-16] states that during the latter part of 1935 V.J. JEROME came to Los Angeles from New York in an endeavor to organize Communist Party units in Hollywood among the writers, producers, and actors. [He] states that in January, 1935, the Los Angeles County Communist Party disbanded its industrial sections and on instructions of ROY HUDSON of the New York Communist Party headquarters made an attempt to dissolve the Trade Union Unity League, all members of which were then instructed to join A.F.L. Unions. [Sources T-16] states that in 1935 the industrial branches in Hollywood were known as units, for example, Unit J-30, etc. [Source T-16] states there were only two Communist Party Units in Hollywood in the early part of 1935 and that most of its members were nominal employees in the motion picture industry. (u) (w)

[Source T-16] states that the real Communist Party penetration in Hollywood started in 1938 and 1939 with the activities of JEFF KIBRE which followed the program laid down by V.J. JEROME. (u) (w)

In September, 1939, the Los Angeles County Communist Party published a pamphlet portraying a twenty-year history of the Communist Party in Los Angeles County. The pamphlet is known under the title "2 Decades of Progress". Its reference to Hollywood and cultural groups reflects that members had in early years penetrated such cultural groups as the JOHN REED Club, and various theater groups. In the field of Union activities reflects that its members in 1937 took an active part in the birth of "Labor's Conference for Independent Political Action".

In 1939 the geographical organization of the Communist Party in Hollywood was based on street units and not industrial units. Members belonged to Units in their neighborhood and not units pertaining to industry. "2 Decades of Progress" listed two studio units in 1939, namely, the Culver City Studios Branch with FRANK OATS as president and the Hollywood Studios Branch with MILTON HENRY as president, both attached to the 15th Congressional District Section of the Communist Party. In 1939 the Los Angeles County Communist Party was organized by branches and sections under a geographical division similar to political assembly and Congressional districts respectively.

"2 Decades of Progress", in 1939 quotes EMIL FREED, President of EAST BRANCH of Communist Party:

"Our Party has either initiated or assisted in struggles, for better housing, progressive election victories, and the unionization of Hollywood".

East Branch according to this history was then a unit of the 15th Congressional District Communist Party Section, an area covering Hollywood Boulevard between Fairfax and Hoover Streets.

"2 Decades of Progress" in 1939 states that Emil Freed received a large vote as Communist Party candidate for Congress in 1938.

*JANE HOWE, in "2 Decades of Progress", (1939) is listed as organizer of 15th Congressional Communist Party Section and is quoted, "The Studio Strikers of 1937, the Hollywood Citizen-News Pickets of 1938.....have all seen the Party in action, helping in every progressive movement."

[Confidential Source T-98] witnessed EMIL FREED in action on the picket line during the October 11, 1945 One-Day strike at Universal Studio. This source witnessed EMIL FREED passing out cigarettes to pickets, witnessed his taking up a collection from bystanders for purchase of cigarettes, and witnessed his conversation in talking employee out of trying to return to work through the picket line.

[Source T-98] states that the Universal Studio strike lasted only one Ronald Reagan-5576

day but was a part of several 1945 Studio Strikes. [Source T-98] states that EMIL FREED was arrested at the Warner Brothers Strike. (u) ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

EMIL FREED according to records was arrested at the Warner Brothers Studio picket line on October 10, 1945, by the Burbank, California, Police Department, Burbank booking number A 9788; Burbank P.D. arrest number 31380 on charge of violation of California penal code sections 404, 405, and 416, rioting, failure to disburse and failure to obey a lawful order. This charge was dismissed on June 16, 1946. EMIL FREED gave as residence address 930 $\frac{1}{2}$ So. Orange Grove, Los Angeles.

[Confidential Source T-98 on October 10, 1945,] observed and witnessed EMIL FREED in the Burbank, California, Police Department jail with copies of the "People's World" under his arm and heard him talk against the capitalist system to about 25 other arrested pickets who were in jail with him. (u) ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

[Confidential Sources T-1, 11, 12, 15, and 16] state that Los Angeles County Communist Party penetration into motion picture industry prior to the formation of the Northwest Section in 1942 was important only as pertained to nominal employees within the studios and that between the years 1935 and 1942 the jurisdiction over film luminaries and writers was under the jurisdiction of the New York Communist Party headquarters or the District 13 Communist Party headquarters at San Francisco and that generally proof of Communist Party membership of important Hollywood personages was not available or known to the Los Angeles County Communist Party functionaries. COMMUNIST PENETRATION INTO MOTION PICTURES AT HOLLYWOOD THROUGH OLD
ESTABLISHED UNIONS ON THE PART OF JEFF KIBRE WHO SOUGHT INSTRUCTIONS FROM NATIONAL COMMUNIST PARTY FUNCTIONARIES

JOHN L. LEECH in 1934, Organizational Secretary, Los Angeles County Communist Party gave testimony before the Los Angeles County Grand Jury on August 14, 1940, and stated that JEFF KIBRE was a member of the Communist Party in Hollywood in 1934. JOHN L. LEECH stated that one JOHN E. JEFFREY, a Communist member, had first introduced JEFF KIBRE to him.

JOHN L. LEECH stated that V. J. JEROME (VICTOR J. JEROME--true name ISAAC ROMAINE) was sent to Hollywood the latter part of 1935 by the Communist Party Central Committee, New York to improve cultural work, taking over these duties from STANLEY LAWRENCE. LEECH states that V. J. JEROME helped organize study clubs and co-ordinated party work between Hollywood and Downtown Communist Sections. LEECH stated that V. J. JEROME raised money in Hollywood and also brought JOHN HOWARD LAWSON to Hollywood (JOHN HOWARD LAWSON is presently a writer at Hollywood and hereinafter will be more fully identified). LEECH stated that V. J. JEROME was a member of the Central Committee of the National Communist Party and a co-editor of its monthly Communist magazine known as "The Communist". In January, 1939, issue of "The Communist" the editors are listed as EARL BROWDER, ALEX BITTLEMAN, and V. J. JEROME. "The Communist" when discontinued was supplanted by a monthly magazine known as "Political Affairs". Its editor is listed as MAC WEISS, also known as MAX WEISS with V. J. JEROME as managing editor. MAC WEISS will later be identified in connection with JEFF KIBRE.

JOHN L. LEECH stated V. J. JEROME had the aid of JEFF KIBRE in setting up plans for capturing the Hollywood Motion Picture Industry for the Communist Party. LEECH states that after V. J. JEROME arrived in Hollywood the latter part of 1935 plans were made to establish an underground Communist Unit among the film elite. All dues and contributions as well as reports were to go direct to National Communist Party Headquarters in New York according to LEECH.

[Confidential Source T-12] states that during 1935 and subsequent years all important personages in the Hollywood Motion Picture Industry who were members of the Communist Party were considered as Members At Large, attached either to the New York Headquarters Section or to the Headquarters Section of District 13 at San Francisco (At that time Los Angeles County Communist Party was a subsection of District 13 [according to Source T-12]).

The Communist Branches and Sections were later reorganized in Hollywood about 1942 [according to Source T-12] by the formation of a section known as Northwest Section and [Source T-12] states that until this time (1942), the Los Angeles County Communist Party had no jurisdiction over important Communists in Hollywood but did have prior to this time a few street Units in Hollywood whose members were employed in nominal capacities in the studios. The Communist Party organization of the Northwest Section and the identity of its Communist members will be considered in another part of this report.

JEFF KIBRE according to witnesses hereinafter identified was a member of the Communist Party assigned to "special" work in the motion picture industry studio unions.

EZRA F. CHASE swore to an affidavit at Los Angeles March 19, 1939, that he, CHASE, had been a member of the Communist Party for seven years or more and held numerous official positions and further that he was acquainted with the leading functionaries and members in the Communist Party. In this affidavit he states that JEFF KIBRE was a member of the Communist Party, USA (then affiliated with the Communist International). He states that during his, CHASE's, affiliation with Communist Party that "JEFF KIBRE was at that time assigned to "special" work in the studio unions, more specifically in the I.A.T.S.E., Local 37, to the organizing of special studio units of the Communist Party of the USA."

C/ During the years 1937 and 1938 the A.F.L. affiliated unions in the motion picture industry at Hollywood, known as the "International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Machine Operators of the United States and Canada" were greatly disturbed over the Communist efforts to disrupt or wreck this union which will be described hereinafter as I.A.T.S.E. At this union's 35th convention at Louisville, Kentucky June 3-6, 1940, a complete report was printed by this union containing numerous exhibits in the form of letters written either by JEFF KIBRE aforementioned or by ROY HUDSON, member of the "National Committee of the Communist Party aforementioned. These letters set out in full in the I.A.T.S.E. report deal with Communist interests and organizational efforts and appeared to reflect that JEFF KIBRE was attempting to gain control of the unions in Hollywood motion pictures and was receiving aid and suggestions from WALTER LAMBERT, a member of the California State Communist Party as well as from PAUL CLINE, then the Los Angeles County Communist Party organizer. Other important Communists identified in these letters are BOB REED of New York, and V.J. JEROME and LOUIS GOLDBLATT of San Francisco. The aforementioned affidavit of EZRA CHASE which identifies JEFF KIBRE as a Communist assigned to "special" work in Hollywood appears in Exhibit 6 of the I.A.T.S.E. report; A copy of I.A.T.S.E. report issued at the June 3-6, 1940 convention is being made an exhibit of the instant report.

J. W. BUZZELL, then secretary of the Los Angeles Central Labor Council, A.F.L., has analyzed the JEFF KIBRE, ROY HUDSON, and MAC WEISS letters in this I.A.T.S.E. report.

- ✓ A. Exhibit No. 1 of I.A.T.S.E. report is a lengthy report of JEFF KIBRE dated April 23, 1938---Hollywood, entitled "Report on Hollywood---Review of Plan and Objectives for Past Several Months." This refers to a "Studio Unemployment Conference", representing 12 unions and guilds engaged in a broad anti-I.A.T.S.E. movement, to fight I.A.T.S.E. and its employers as a preliminary to the formation of "Industrial Union". In one portion it states this process envisages the formation of a Federation as the decisive method of breaking the control of the Internationals (I.A.T.S.E.) and in turn giving the workers a sense of their mass power within the industry.

This JEFF KIBRE report further states "Our Corps of Contacts in the various crafts led by the Studio Painters Union from the outside broke down the Do-Nothing policy of the leadership." (HERBERT SORRELL, President of the Studio Painters Union, now engaged in strike at Hollywood is also president of the newly formed group known as "Conference of Studio Unions". Some of the Unions attached to this group are presently on strike). The I.A.T.S.E. Union, the A.F.L. Teamsters and the Screen Actors' Guild were never apart of JEFF KIBRE's Studio Unemployment Conference. JEFF KIBRE in his report states that the Unions in the Studio Unemployment Conference were:

1. Studio Painters
2. Machinists' Cinema Lodge
3. Plasters and Modelers
4. Utility Employees
5. Screen Directors Guild
6. Studio Carpenters
7. Studio Electricians (I.B.E.W.)
8. Screen Writers Guild
9. Screen Set Designers
10. Screen Cartoonist G. d
11. Screen Publishers' Guild
12. Musicians and I.A.T.S.E. Progressives.

JEFF KIBRE states that a formation of a new Federation is a stage toward an industrial union affiliated with CIO. It is noted that JEFF KIBRE signed this report as Field Representative for Hollywood and indicated that his title and activities were to be kept confidential.

B.3/ Exhibit No. 2 of the I.A.T.S.E. report is a JEFF KIBRE letter to BOB REED, 136 W. 13th Street, New York, dated February 9, 1938. JEFF KIBRE writes, "Well, one thing about the Reds, they seldom write except on business." In this letter JEFF KIBRE states that he is "Undercover Field Representative for CIO in Hollywood". JEFF KIBRE states, "In the meantime I wish you would discuss the matter of "I.A." (I.A.T.S.E.) action with JACK STACHEL, the necessity of my getting in touch with contacts in the various cities. I have taken it up with PAUL CLINE, but he feels a personal appeal by you or V.J. (V.J. JEROME), rather than communication through official channels would get quicker results."

PAUL CLINE was then organizer of the Los Angeles County Communist Party. JACK STACHEL was and still is a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party in New York. [Sources T 1 and T 12] ~~JEFF~~

Also part of I.A.T.S.E. Exhibit 2 is a letter from JEFF KIBRE dated November 8, 1938, at Hollywood to LOUIS GOLDBLATT at San Francisco which concerns JEFF KIBRE's activities in the Hollywood Studio Union.

C. Exhibit No. 3 of the I.A.T.S.E. report is another JEFF KIBRE report on Hollywood, apparently written before Exhibit No. 1 and similar in trend. It indicates that JEFF KIBRE in his program would use the impetus of non-partisan clubs in Hollywood.

D. I.A.T.S.E. Exhibit No. 4 is a letter from MAC WEISS to ROY HUDSON dated June 16, 1938, concerning an I.A.T.S.E. and a Motion Picture Operators Convention in Cleveland. This letter tells of the activity of one IRVING HENSCHEL at this convention and relates that HENSCHEL had received a telegram and telephone call from JEFF KIBRE relative to a resolution that HENSCHEL introduced at the convention. This letter indicates that HENSCHEL had described JEFF KIBRE as a Communist and a leader of the rank and file in Hollywood.

I.A.T.S.E. No. 4 also contains a letter from ROY HUDSON to COMRADE LAMBERT at San Francisco and it is noted that a copy of this letter was sent to PAUL CLINE at Los Angeles. This letter was dated June 21, 1938. This letter also enclosed a copy of the MAC WEISS letter of June 16, 1938 aforementioned. (J. W. BUZZELL identifies LAMBERT as WALTER LAMBERT, a member of the California Communist Party Committee. ROY HUDSON's letter severely censored IRVING HENSCHEL and ROY HUDSON's letter states "On the basis of the above it seems to me there should be a thorough re-examination of the methods of work of our people in Hollywood and especially the approach to the I.A.T.S.E."....."Finally, I think that we should try and keep closer contact and have a more systematic change of information between our people in the I.A.T.S.E. in Hollywood and the people here in New York. Hereinafter, ~~WHEN~~ communications are sent they will be brought directly to the attention of our fraction here. Likewise we would like to have the names of people in Hollywood in this organization with whom our people here could correspond directly." J. W. BUZZELL aforementioned besides identifying WALTER LAMBERT as a member of the California State Communist Committee, states that LAMBERT was one time State Secretary of the Trade Union Unity League.

B. I.A.T.S.E. No. 5 is a lengthy report dated July 14, 1938, addressed to WALTER LAMBERT, State Trade Union Director (Communist Party) and it is noted that a copy was sent to PAUL CLINE. Although the report indicates that this letter was unsigned, MR. J.W. BUZZELL has explained the facts which indicate that it is a letter of JEFF KIBRE. This letter defends IRVING HENSCHER and the letter is an answer to ROY HUDSON's letter of June 21, 1938. The letter and Exhibit No. 5 identifies IRVING HENSCHER as a Communist of three years membership. The letter reflects the attempts of the writer to reach JACK STACHEL through the secretary of the Actors Fraction in New York. (See JEFF KIBRE's letter of February 9, 1938 to BOB REED of Actors' Equity.) The letter of Exhibit No. 5 also reflects the contact with one BOB KAYE who had been requested to furnish I.A. contacts (it is noted that the letter of JEFF KIBRE of February 9, 1938, to BOB REED in New York had made this same request; hence, an inference that BOB KAYE may be identical with BOB REED).

F. I.A.T.S.E. Exhibit No. 6--copy of the affidavit of EZRA CHASE sworn to March 19, 1939, describing JEFF KIBRE as a Communist who had been assigned to "special" motion picture work in Hollywood within the I.A.T.S.E. Unions, especially Local 37.

G. I.A.T.S.E. No. 7 through 12 portray other difficulties in the Hollywood motion picture unions which arose from JEFF KIBRE's program.

Ronald Reagan-5582

[Confidential Sources T-12 and T-16] stated that V. J. JEROME left Hollywood the first part of 1938 and returned to New York.

[Confidential Sources T-12 and T-16] advised the activities of JEFF KIBRE in Hollywood discontinued in 1939. Records of Local Draft Board 242, Hollywood, verified through Registrar of Vital Statistics, Philadelphia, Pa., reflect that JEFF KIBRE was born as JACOB PLANE KIBRE at Philadelphia, November 11, 1906, and that his father, KENNETH KIBRE was born in Russia.

JEFF KIBRE according to records of [Confidential Source T-12] was a member of the Communist Party at Los Angeles under the name of BARRY WOOD in 1937, 1938; and 1939. [Source T-12] states that JEFF KIBRE held Communist Party in 1937 membership book 82703 and that he first joined Communist Party in April, 1935. The same Source states he held 1938 Communist Party book No. 60038 and that his 1939 Communist Party registration card reflects that his father was born in Russia and his mother in the United States. [Source T-12] states that during these years JEFF KIBRE was a studio technician and member of the I.A.T.S.E. (S)u

As of April, 1944, JEFF KIBRE was listed as the editor of the CIO Fishermen's Union newspaper known as the International Fishermen and Allied Workers. Records reflect that JEFF KIBRE has been International Secretary and Treasurer of the CIO Fishermen's Union at San Pedro since September 13, 1945. (Source CIO Directory).

[Confidential Source T-45] advised that as of September 23, 1943, JEFF KIBRE was a member of the JACK EGAN Branch of the Communist Party, Harbor Section, at San Pedro since July, 1943. (u)

LEW BLIX, formerly on the Executive Board of I.A.T.S.E. and later with the A.F.L. Teamsters, Local 495, advised that JEFF KIBRE had gone to work with the Paramount Studios in 1937.

JEFF KIBRE was arrested by the Los Angeles Sheriff's Office, No. 295613 on a contempt charge, May 2, 1935, and was released the same day. JEFF KIBRE was also arrested by Los Angeles Police Department, No. 35047, on May 6, 1939, on a charge of suspicion of criminal syndicalism. He was released and discharged on May 9, 1939.

JEFF KIBRE on August 23, 1946, was indicted in the Federal District Court of Los Angeles together with 14 other members of Local 36 of the International Fishermen's and Allied Workers of America, CIO Union on a charge of violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law on a conspiracy to boycott and fixed sale price of fish. JEFF KIBRE was found guilty on May 7, 1947, and subsequently fined $2,000, the case now being on appeal. [Confidential Sources T-12, T-1] advised that the Communists in the motion picture industry were in the JEFF KIBRE sponsored unions, and later in the many unions grouped in the Conference of Studio Unions, now headed by HERBERT SORRELL. [These sources state that there are only a few Communists within I.A.T.S.E. group of unions which formerly consisted of about seven A.F.L. affiliated unions, but now five in number. They advised that the two unions which withdrew from I.A.T.S.E. have had a running fight for years with I.A.T.S.E. over jurisdictional matters and on occasions were out on strike (u)]

[Source T-12 and T-1] advised that the Communists within the motion picture industry are sponsoring an "Industrial Union" as against the craft type of union namely, the I.A.T.S.E. [These Sources advised that the Communist groups are cleverly exploiting jurisdictional union differences for purely partisan political purposes. They advise that although HERBERT SORRELL's

Conference of Studio Unions is made up of A.F.L. affiliates that SORRELL has condemned the A.F.L. for not joining its unions with the World Trade Union Congress. (u) ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

An editorial appearing in the A.F.L. Teamsters' publication styled "The Southern California Teamsters" of August 15, 1945, states, "The blunt fact is the Hollywood studio strike is not a strike of wages, hours, or conditions". The same editorial states, "It is the attempt of the Communists and the left-wing elements in the CIO to gain control over the studios."

[Confidential Source T-1 advises] that the attempt of the Communists to capture the labor unions in the studios dates back to 1937 when the Federated Motion Picture Crafts was organized by the Communist Party as a dual union for the studios. [Source T-12] states that this organization had little success and in 1939 it reappeared in the form of a union known as United Studio Technicians Guild, a union that was defeated by a National Labor Relation Board election. (u)

[Source T-1] states that an earlier Communist attempt was made to secure control of the unions in the studios when in January, 1934, an independent union was formed by the name "Motion Picture Workers Industrial Union" with headquarters at 6364 Hollywood Blvd., Hollywood, California. [Source T-1] stated that this union was completely dominated by the Communist Party and had a membership of 500 but was dissolved the latter part of 1935. [Source T-1] states that ROY STAUFFER, then employed at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, was organizer of the Communist Units within this union. [The Source] advised that ROY STAUFFER was from the state of Washington, but has disappeared from the Hollywood area. (u)

On July 24, 1945, the "People's World", Communist Party San Francisco newspaper now known as the "Daily People's World" had a front page editorial proclaiming support of the strike of the film unions.

This club is a recent addition to the Northwest Section. It is not composed of motion picture industry personnel, but is a Community Club formerly connected with the Mid-Town Section. It became a part of the Northwest Section over the protest of the Northwest Section people at the insistence of the County, because its members are geographically within the Hollywood area. It has been reported that this Branch will do the "open" work for the Northwest Section.

BRANCH Y -

This Branch, [information concerning which was furnished by Informant T-2,] appears to be merely a "paper" branch, and its members are those people formerly active in the Northwest Section who are out of the city or who, though still members of this Section, are not currently active. [According to Informant T-2,] it has no officers and no delegates at the County Convention. (u) (u)

In December, 1944, JOHN WILLIAMSON, National Secretary of the Communist Political Association, visited Los Angeles, California, and conferred with local Communist leaders. One of the subjects discussed, according to Informant T-23, was the reorganization of the Communist Political Association along the community lines in place of the previous industrial branch set-up. During the discussion WILLIAMSON was asked what should be done with people, such as union leaders, professional people, (u) (u) and motion picture industry people, since they could not afford to become active in community clubs and probably would refuse to do so. According to Informant T-23, WILLIAMSON ruled that exceptions had to be made in cases of people of this type and that for bookkeeping purposes they should be attached to an Assembly District Community Club but permitted to meet separately and have their own group. (u) In January, 1945, Informant T-18 reported that ELIZABETH LEACH GLENN was in the process of contacting the functionaries and through them the membership of the Northwest Section, advising them the section set-up was to be disbanded and new cultural groups were to be formed. During this reorganization, according to Informants T-2, T-18, and T-23, approximately 300 of the 600 members of the Northwest Section were transferred to community clubs and the remaining 300 were assigned to cultural clubs. (S)(u)

On January 8, 1945, [Informant T-2] made available to Special Agents DAVID A. MAC CULLOCK, JOHN R. VICARS, FRED G. DUPUIS, and ROBERT W. HOLLMAN records maintained by ELIZABETH LEACH GLENN which listed the membership of the twelve cultural groups which were formed. These groups were arranged according to geographical location and contained individuals living in the particular area regardless of occupation. This was in contrast to the previous set-up of the Northwest Section under which all writers would be in a club and all actors in another, et cetera. (S)(u)

According to [Informant T-2] when the new cultural groups were formed in January, 1945, the old Section Executive Committee was replaced by the "Motion Picture and Radio Commission". [Informant T-2] made available the names of the individuals selected for this commission, the names of whom were submitted to CARL WINTER for approval. CARL WINTER was Chairman of the Communist Political Association at that time. In December, 1945, ELIZABETH LEACH GLENN told Informant T-18 that she was "fed up" with Hollywood and intended to discontinue her position of Organizer for the Cultural Section of the Party. Thereafter, according to Informant T-4, JOHN STAPP was made Organizer and the section was again re-organized. At this time all the Party members in Hollywood were grouped into the Hollywood Section which in turn was divided into three sub-sections, namely:

Community Sub-Section
Industrial Sub-Section
Cultural Sub-Section

Information as to this reorganization was furnished by Informant T-3 and membership of the three sub-sections, according to T-3 was broken down as follows:

The Community Sub-Section contained people living in the Hollywood area not employed in the motion picture or radio industries.

The Industrial Sub-Section included individuals employed in the motion picture and radio industries on a labor or craft basis, holding positions from that of Assistant Director down.

The Cultural Sub-Section was to include the cultural people employed in the motion picture and radio industries, holding positions comparable to that of Director on up, such as writers, producers, and actors.

According to Informant T-3, each sub-section had a Sub-Section Organizer as follows:

Community Sub-Section	-	SID SHARE
Industrial Sub-Section	-	PAUL PERLIN
Cultural Sub-Section	-	WALDO SALT

[According to Informants T-3 and T-4,] JOHN STAPP, the Section Organizer, works full-time as a Party functionary and is not employed in the motion picture industry. SID SHARE, Organizer of the Community Sub-Section, is unemployed because of poor eyesight, he being almost totally blind, [according to Informant T-3] with regard to this sub-section, [Informant T-3 reports] that plans are under way to disband it and consolidate it with the Industrial Sub-Section. PAUL PERLIN, Organizer of the Industrial Sub-Section, was employed for several years as a grip at Universal Pictures Corporation until he went out on strike. WALDO SALT, Organizer of the Cultural Sub-Section, is a screen writer under contract to RKO. (u)

JOHN HOWARD LAWSON, ELIZABETH LEACH GLENN, and JOHN STAPP, in carrying on the work of the Northwest Section, and as it is known today the Hollywood Section of the Los Angeles County Communist Party, maintained contact with the headquarters of the Los Angeles County Communist Party. On October 31, 1943, ELIZABETH LEACH GLENN was elected to the Los Angeles County Communist Party Executive Committee, according to [Informant T-16.] (X)(u) In addition, according to [Informant T-8] ELIZABETH LEACH GLENN attended the County Convention of the Party in Los Angeles on October 31, 1943. According to [Informant T-2] ELIZABETH LEACH GLENN was a delegate from the Hollywood Branch of the Northwest Section, [and according to Informant T-23, she served on the Resolutions Committee at this convention.] (X)(u)

Another illustration of the manner in which liaison was effected occurred on September 4, 1944. On that date Special Agents JOHN R. VICARS and FRED G. DUPUIS conducted a surveillance of ELIZABETH LEACH GLENN and observed that at 7:15 P.M., she was picked up by JOHN HOWARD LAWSON, who was accompanied by MAX SILVER, who at that time was Secretary-Treasurer of the Los Angeles County Communist Political Association, EMILY GORDON, a functionary of the 15th Congressional District Section of the Communist Political Association, and EMIL FREED, a functionary of the 16th Congressional District Section of the Communist Political Association. These five individuals proceeded to the home of CARL WINTER, 1215 Innes Avenue and entered.

On December 6, 1945, Informant T-28 reported that a meeting of the County Board of the Los Angeles County Communist Party was to be held at the home of EVA KORN, 2032 South Western Avenue. A surveillance at that address, conducted by Special Agents JOHN R. VICARS, GEORGE H. SCATTERDAY, and FRED G. DUPUIS, determined that JOHN HOWARD LAWSON attended this meeting. ~~(S)~~ (u)

On July 7, 1945, JOHN HOWARD LAWSON was surveilled by Special Agent JOHN R. VICARS, and it was noted that he visited at the home of ELIZABETH LEACH GLENN from 12:30 P.M. until 1:30 P.M., after which he picked up NED SPARKS, President of the Los Angeles County Communist Political Association, and proceeded to a meeting of elected delegates of the cultural groups at the home of ALBERT and MARGARET MALTZ, 6526 Lindenhurst Avenue, Los Angeles. FINANCES OF THE HOLLYWOOD SECTION COMMUNIST PARTY

[All information set forth hereafter under this section was submitted by Source T-3.] (X)(u)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

When the Hollywood Club of the Communist Political Association was disbanded in August, 1945, and divided into smaller groups for reasons of efficiency of operation and security, the money then in the Treasury of this club, which at one time had over 200 members, was divided equally between the four community clubs, namely the Hollywood Northeast Club, Hollywood Southeast Club, Hollywood Northwest Club and the Hollywood Southwest Club. The share of the Hollywood Northeast Club in this fund was given to SID STEIN of that club during February, 1946, by NOUR LIGHT, who apparently was acting at that time to complete the financial transactions of the old Hollywood Club of the Communist Political Association.

The finances of the Hollywood Section, Communist Party, when the Communist Party was reconstituted in the Fall of 1945, were placed under the direction of the Los Angeles County Office of the Communist Party. In this connection on February 11, 1946, HELEN WALDEN, then Finance Director of the Hollywood Northeast Community Club, exhibited a letter she had received from the Los Angeles County Communist Party over the signature of BEA BARRON which indicated that BARRON was then handling financial matters for the Los Angeles County Communist Party. This letter requested Mrs. WALDEN to prepare a financial statement for that club for the past year, and to bring this to the Communist Party headquarters in downtown Los Angeles, at which time she would be given some account books to be used in keeping club records for the following year. (X)(u)

The Finance Secretaries of the Hollywood Section of the Communist Party met at the home of HANNAH SCHWARTZ, 2076 Paramount Avenue, Hollywood, California, on February 27, 1946. Informant did not attend this meeting, but later learned from SID STEIN of the Hollywood Northeast Club that it was decided at this meeting that the various clubs of the Hollywood Section were to turn over club dues to NAOMI ROBISON, 5913 Chula Vista Way, Hollywood, who was to act as an intermediary. Mrs. ROBISON would in turn give the money to HANNAH SCHWARTZ, who was designated as the Section Finance Director. Mrs. SCHWARTZ would then turn the money over to the County organization of the Communist Party. It was further decided at this meeting that dues were to be paid for only one month at a time, and that dues were not to be accepted in advance. (X)(u)

On June 7, 1946, there was a meeting of the Organizational and Finance Secretaries of the Neighborhood and Industrial Subsections of the Hollywood Section, Communist Party at the home of SYLVIA HALMOVITZ, 626 North Sierra Bonita, Hollywood. At this meeting ELIZABETH GLENN, representing the Los Angeles County Office, announced that from June 15 to July 1, 1946, would be a dues control period during which all dues payments were to be brought up to date. She indicated that dues payments in the Hollywood Section had been very poor and that generally speaking only from one to two-thirds of the Party members had been in a current status. She revealed that a special report is to be turned in to the County Office by July 1, 1946. On this report each member is to be listed by name or initial with his dues status, and a statement as to what is being done concerning delinquents. (S)(u)

At a meeting of the ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN Club (also known as the Hollywood Northeast Club), Community Subsection, Hollywood Section, Communist Party, on July 16, 1946, DOROTHY STEIN, then acting as Finance Director of the club, announced that under a recent ruling each club in the Hollywood Section was then paying 90 per cent of the dues collected to the Los Angeles County Communist Party, and was keeping ten per cent of the money so collected for the club itself. (S)(u)

During July, 1946, the Hollywood Section of the Communist Party was reorganized officially into three subsections, namely Cultural, Industrial and Community. Each subsection was to have its own Finance Director, and there also was to be appointed a Finance Director for the entire Hollywood Section.

On July 29, 1946, the Community Subsection Chairmen's Council met at the home of SIDNEY SHAPE, 1426 North Sierra Bonita Avenue. At this meeting it was announced that DAVID ROBISON, 5913 Chula Vista Way, a story analyst then employed by MILTON SPERLING, independent producer with headquarters at Warner Brothers Studios, had been named Finance Director for the entire Hollywood Section, and that his wife, NAOMI ROBISON, would act as the Recording Finance Secretary for the Section, a somewhat unofficial position, which would mean that she would do most of the work and would be the go-between for the various clubs of the Section and the County Office. (S)(u)

ROBISON spoke at this meeting and announced that the Cultural Clubs in the Hollywood Section of the Communist Party had just adopted a plan to assess four per cent of their income beyond $4,000.00 per year for the Communist Party. He explained that on the first $4,000.00 a Cultural Comrade earns he will pay only the regular dues, but four per cent of anything beyond that will go to the Communist Party. At the beginning of each quarter, Cultural Comrades will make out statements of their expected earnings for the next three months, and the amount owing the Party will be figured out and can be paid at once or in installments throughout the quarter. ROBISON further indicated that the Industrial Subsection had adopted the same idea, and it was suggested that members of the Community Subsection adopt a similar plan. (S) (u)

At a meeting of the Community Subsection Chairmen's Council, Hollywood Section, Communist Party, held at the home of HARRY RIPPES, 838 1/2 North Wilcox on November 8, 1946, DOROTHY STEIN, acting on behalf of the Community Subsection, distributed booklets of stamps of the American Youth for Democracy to each Organizational Secretary present. These stamps range in value from 25 cents to $5.00 and signify that the buyer has contributed that amount to the American Youth for Democracy to further its growth and development. STEIN announced that these stamps were to be sold to anyone who was a member of the Party or who cared to contribute, and the money would in turn be made available to the American Youth for Democracy. (S) (u)

At a meeting of the Gung Ho Club (formerly known as the Flynn Club) of the Community Subsection, Hollywood Section, Communist Party, on March 18, 1947, DAVID ROBISON, Finance Director of the Hollywood Section, gave a report on Party finances. He advised that Party finances were at a low ebb throughout the United States because of the laxity in money raising during the revisionist period and the Party's most recent period of trying to outgrow this type of thinking. ROBISON recommended that the Finance Secretary of each club should have a place on the agenda for a dues report at each meeting. He revealed that a resolution from the Hollywood Section and from several other sections in the County had come to the National Office of the Communist Party asking for a discussion on the possibility of raising the dues rates in the higher income brackets at an early date. It had been suggested that those paying $2.00 a month be asked to pay $5.00, and an additional dollar a month for each $10.00 a week beyond $60.00 a week earned. (S) (u)

ROBISON announced that sustainers of members of the Cultural Subsection, Hollywood Section, Communist Party, had been revised, and that now all Comrades making over $1,000.00 per quarter are paying regular sustainers of four per cent of all income beyond that amount. In view of the large number of layoffs in the film industry such as writers, ROBISON predicted that the income from this source would greatly decrease. (S) (u)

ROBISON stressed the necessity of concentrating in the future on getting sustainers from non-Party members who are sympathizers. ROBISON stated there are many people who just will not join the Communist Party but who are very sympathetic to it, and when asked specifically would contribute substantially as a substitute for not joining. Because of this wide and largely untapped source of revenue believed possible from non-Party members who are sympathizers, each club was asked to take a quota of raising at least $100.00 per month from such sources. (S)(u)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

ROBISON confidentially advised those present that the Hollywood Section of the Communist Party has been contributing $800.00 per month to the Los Angeles Office of the Communist Party, in addition to its regular dues payments, and that this amount may be raised to $1,500.00 in the near future. ROBISON further revealed that the Hollywood Section of the Communist Party also sends a regular sum, amount not disclosed, to the National Office of the Communist Party in New York. (S)(u)

During June, 1947, the Industrial Subsection and Community Subsection of the Hollywood Section, Communist Party, were consolidated for greater efficiency in operation, and because of the weakened position of the Industrial Subsection due to the Conference of Studio Unions strike. NOUR LIGHT has been selected as Finance Director of the combined subsections.

COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF HOLLYWOOD ORGANIZATIONS

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

1. LEAGUE OF AMERICAN WRITERS.

Source T-1 advised on February 18, 1943 that the League of American Writers was the American branch of an international organization called the International Union of Revolutionary Writers which was set up in Kharkov, Russia at an International Congress held in November, 1930.

Soon after this Congress there appeared in the United States groups of writers in the larger cities who organized themselves under the direction of the Communist Party into what were called JOHN REED Clubs.

This source further advised that in January, 1935 a convention of JOHN REED Clubs was held in New York City. The principal business transacted by this convention was to call another Congress of Writers to be held in New York City in April, 1935. When this Congress convened all JOHN REED Clubs were dissolved and in their place a much broader organization was formed. It was called the "League of American Writers."

T-1 also informed that at this first Writers Congress, the Communist Party was openly represented and the Congress was under the direction of EARL BROWDER, National Secretary of the Communist Party of the U.S.A. Soon after this meeting, the Hollywood motion pictures began attracting writers from all quarters of the United States and, in fact, from all parts of the world and the League of American Writers began to function in Hollywood. The leader of the group in the Hollywood Section was JOHN HOWARD LAWSON. From 1935 to 1939, when the STALIN-HITLER Pact was signed, the League of American Writers followed the anti-Fascist line as laid down by the "Collective Security" program of the Soviet Union and the Comintern. It hewed right to the line of Russia's conception of Democracy and was violently anti-HITLER.

Source T-1 stated that immediately after the pact between STALIN and HITLER was signed on August 23, 1939 and Germany and Russia became allies, the League of American Writers reflected the Communist line. It opposed aid to England, adopted the slogan "The Yanks Are Not Coming," it affiliated officially with the American Peace Mobilization, but when HITLER attacked STALIN in June, 1941, the League of American Writers became violently anti-HITLER and immediately demanded that America enter the war as an ally of Russia, extend aid to Russia and England and pretended that they were pledged to win the war by waging war on "every front." However, it was in a very embarrassing position because of its very firm isolationist position just a few months previously. (u)

[Source T-1] pointed out that in December, 1941 approximately six months after HITLER attacked STALIN, the United States was brought into the war on December 7, 1941 as an ally of Britain and Russia, then almost immediately another organization was formed almost exclusively of the membership of the League of American Writers. This organization was the Hollywood Writers Mobilization. This group took up "patriotic work" of propaganda for "Russia's Sick." (u)

As will appear in this report, [Source T-1 further] stated that the League of American Writers became less and less conspicuous in propaganda work. It occasionally held some small gathering and dragged on for about one year at which time it became extinct and is now completely out of existence. (u)

[Source T-1 on July 17, 1947] furnished a list of the last set of officers and executive board members of the League of American Writers which was taken from the stationery of this organization. [T-1] informed that these officers were elected at the 4th Writers Congress held in New York City June 6-8, 1941 for a term of two years. These officers remained in office until the organization went out of existence in 1943. (u)

The 5th Writers Congress was called by an organization which superseded the League of American Writers. This organization was called the Hollywood Writers Mobilization which is still in existence but there are indications that it is "on the way out." The officers and executive board members of the League of American Writers elected in June, 1941 were the following:

X THEODORE DREISER	Honorary President	Novelist
X DASCHIELL HANFETT	President	Screen writer
X DONALD ODGEN STEWART	Vice President	Screen writer
JOHN HOWARD LAWSON	Vice President	Screen writer
ALBERT MALTZ	Vice President	Screen writer

2. HOLLYWOOD WRITERS MOBILIZATION.

The following history of Hollywood Writers Mobilization was furnished by Source T-1 on February 13, 1943. ~~(S)~~(u)

[Source T-1] ~~(S)~~(u) informed that the Communist Party line changed with the invasion of Russia by HITLER on June 22, 1941 and it became necessary to dissolve such organizations as the Hollywood Peace Forum, Hollywood League for Democratic Action, the American Peace Mobilization, and the Motion Picture Democratic Committee and other groups which had been opposing the entrance of the United States into the war. By February, 1942

all these organizations had been "liquidated" and the Communist Party declared for full participation in the war. The Hollywood Section of the Party fell in line and new organizations as "fronts" were set up. The first of these to emerge was the Hollywood Writers Mobilization. (u)

On the surface, [according to T-1,] it was just a group of patriotic screen writers falling in line for the defense of their country. In reality, it was the old League of American Writers in a new setting. To make it look legitimate and remove as much of the past isolationist record of the League of American Writers as possible, it drew in as sponsors the following labor groups in the Hollywood Motion Picture industry. (u)

- The Screen Writers Guild
- The Radio Writers Guild
- The Screen Publicists Guild
- The Screen Readers Guild
- The Screen Cartoonists Guild
- The Independent Publicists Guild
- The American Newspaper Guild

The Chairman of the Hollywood Writers Mobilization was ROBERT ROSSEN, a member of the League of American Writers, a teacher in the Hollywood Writers School, a member of the American Peace Mobilization, and he signed the Call for the Fourth Writers Congress of the League of American Writers.

[Source T-1 in the same report] advised that early in February, 1942, the Hollywood Writers Mobilization issued its publication "COMMUNIQUE". The Editorial Board of COMMUNIQUE was composed of the following persons: (u)

Of the above named Editorial Board RING LARDNER, Jr., EVELYN HUMPHREYS, ASA BORDAGES, GORDON KAHN and BILL BLOWITZ have Communist Party records which will be set forth later in this report.

The contents of COMMUNIQUE followed the Communist Party line, according to T-1. It advocated the opening of a Second Front and Independence for India. SOVIET POWER by the Dean of Centerbury was highly endorsed. The publication of COMMUNIQUE was discontinued in September, 1942. (u)

JOHN HOWARD LAWSON [according to Source T-1] appeared to be the dominating figure in the creation of this organization, assisted by ROBERT ROSSEN and MARC CONNELLY (u)

The alleged purpose of the organization under the guise of assisting the war effort was to provide scripts, speeches, skits, plays and similar material for bond drives and similar activities. However, the true purpose, according to Source T-1, was the creation of a clearing house for Communist propaganda. (u)

JOHN HOWARD LAWSON and MARC CONNELLY, [according to Source T-20] contacted the University of California at Los Angeles and solicited the assistance of Professor RALPH FREUD of the Dramatics Department and sought to have the University join with the Hollywood Writers Mobilization in sponsoring the American Writers Congress at the university. A book of some 650 pages was jointly issued by the Hollywood Writers Mobilization and the university authorities, setting forth the results of the meeting. (u)

MARC CONNELLY testified before the Joint Fact Finding Committee on un-American activities in California on October 13, 1944, that LAWSON had been active in organizing the Hollywood Writers Mobilization. LAWSON stated that the mobilization was composed of the Screen Writers Guild, the Radio Writers Guild, the Screen Publicists Guild, the Screen Cartoonists Guild, the American Newspaper Guild, the Independent Publicists Association, and the Song Writers Protective Association [according to T-1]. (u)

Mr. CONNELLY stated that the Hollywood Writers Mobilization "has been supplying the Office of War Information, the Army, the Navy, the U.S.O. and the Red Cross" with publicity material.

The proceedings of the Writers Congress at the University of California at Los Angeles October 1-3, 1943, have appeared in book form entitled "Proceedings of the Writers Congress, Los Angeles, 1943, University of California Press, 1944."

III a. The Fifth Writers Congress Held at University of California at Los Angeles October 1-3, 1943.

[Source T-47] informed that late in August, 1943, under the auspices of the University of California and the Hollywood Writers Mobilization, a letter signed by MARC CONNELLY and RALPH FREUD as Co-Chairmen of the Congress Committee, announced a Writers Congress to be held at Royce Hall, University of California at Los Angeles on the Los Angeles campus October 1-3, 1943.

[Source T-1] informed that writers from all over the United States and some from foreign countries met on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles. [This source also] stated that this Congress was a development of previous Congresses held every two years. The first four were held in 1935, 1937, 1939 and 1941. They were sponsored and called by the League of American Writers, a Communist directed organization of writers. (u)

[Source T-1] further advised that while this Congress was not called the 5th Writers Congress, it should have been called the 5th Writers Congress as many of the same individuals who were in charge and directing the affairs of the first, second, third and fourth Congresses were also in charge and directing the affairs of this one. (u)

[Source T-47] ^{702u} informed that a merely superficial investigation of the Congress disclosed its Communist inspiration and guidance. [This source also] ^{702u} stated that many of the names included in the Congress and Advisory Committee were "innocents", clearly unaware of the Communist origin and purpose of the Congress. (u)

An undated letter signed by MARC CONNELLY and RALPH FREUD, Co-Chairmen, Congress Committee, is indicative of the approach used by the persons in charge of the affairs of the Congress. It is as follows:

"Dear Writer:

"The Writers Congress on the Los Angeles Campus of the University of California will conduct a search for greater usefulness and will seek to establish firmer international understanding of Democratic objectives by professional writers in all media. The Congress is being organized by joint committees of the University of California and the Hollywood Writers Mobilization. The latter was formed immediately after Pearl Harbor to channel the war efforts of the eight Writers Guilds of the West Coast. It cooperates constantly with our Armed Services, the Red Cross, the OWI and other governmental agencies as well as many non political, civilian organizations requiring professional writers for motion pictures, the radio, newspapers and magazines, camp shows, etc."

"Writers must understand recent enormous changes in techniques as well as basic social and political concepts if they were to communicate the virtues of these changes and expose their faults. The Congress offers its facilities for such an undertaking."

"The speakers and readers of discussions in the panels and seminars will be outstanding writers from all the United Nations."

"The ~~Continuations~~ Committee expects you will be able to participate. We have therefore included an application card for your convenience. If you will be kind enough to fill this out and return it to the Congress Committee officials, your name will be registered. Further details of the Congress agenda are being forwarded to you."

[Source T-1 on January 5, 1945] ^{702u} stated that this was one of the methods used to get unsuspecting persons to become interested in a meeting of the committee and even lend their names to its success or attend and participate in the proceedings of the Congress without realizing the real character and purpose of the Congress. The Studio Call, official organ of the Conference of Motion Picture Arts and Crafts, for June 30, 1938, stated that the MOTION PICTURE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE is a progressive political organization which should have the support of every employee of the motion picture industry.

A full page advertisement appeared in this paper in which the following was stated with respect to the MOTION PICTURE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.

"These are its aims:

1. To support and extend the New Deal nationally; to bring a new deal to California.
2. To remove from office all those officials who have made the government of California a government by the corporations.
3. To effect and maintain complete political freedom within the motion picture industry.
4. To aid in uniting all progressive forces within the Democratic Party, convinced that a liberal victory can be achieved at this time only by working within the Democratic Party.
5. To cooperate with all groups and persons who are working to re-establish democracy in the State, and to oppose all movements which tend to split the progressive forces in California.
6. To support those candidates who on the basis of their records are best qualified to forward these aims.

"With the successful conclusion of this campaign, the nomination and election of liberals, progressives and radicals who found their way on to the State of California Federation of Political Unity, the Labor's Non-Partisan League and the Motion Picture Democratic Committee, the apogee of Communist penetration into California politics was reached." was called the "collective security" proposal and Communists everywhere were instructed to drop all revolutionary activity and pose as liberals and take part in all established governmental affairs. In the United States they were instructed, for voting purposes, to support the candidates of the Democratic Party. They were to assume the "liberal" position and work to get themselves into any positions in political circles where they could use their positions and influence to create sympathy and gain support for the policies of Soviet Russia. [This source further stated that in line with this policy and obeying orders, the Communists in the Hollywood motion picture industry began setting up various front organizations. One of the most important was the MOTION PICTURE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE which was created in the late fall of 1937 and emerged as a powerful political organization in 1938. [Source T-1 stated that California was having a gubernatorial election and it was into this election the Communists threw all their forces, with the result that nearly all candidates on the Democratic ticket supported by the Communists were elected and the governor-elect publicly stated that it was "Hollywood influence" and this "organization" which elected him to office. [This source further stated that the MOTION PICTURE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE was enjoying influence and prestige, but on August 23, 1939, the pact between STALIN and HITLER was announced and the HOLLYWOOD MOTION PICTURE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE found itself without a place to go. (u)

[Source T-1 further advised that within thirty days instructions came down from Moscow that the Party line had changed, and soon the MOTION PICTURE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE began calling the President a "War monger" and that he was "dragging the United States into an imperialistic war". (u)

[Early in 1940, according to Source T-1, the MOTION PICTURE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE was working in cooperation with the American peace crusade and sponsored and took part in "peace" meetings throughout Southern California. [This source further stated that the Speakers Bureau of the MOTION PICTURE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE was set up to publicize meetings of all sorts. [This source further stated that the MOTION PICTURE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE issued a "newsletter", dated March 26, 1940, calling attention to a "knockout script" which was written by MICHAEL BLANKFORT, JEROME CHCDOROV, JOSEPH FIELDS, PAUL TRIVERS, CARL DREHER, CYRIL KRAMER and okayed by the Hollywood Peace Council and presented at a rally at the Olympic Stadium on April 6, 1940 under the banner "America Declares Peace". Attorney General of the State

HUSTON, WALTER
MC CALL, MARY, JR.

[Source T-1 further reported on February 8, 1943, that this organization was called the Hollywood Democratic Committee; however, in reality, Source T-1 informed that it was a revival of its predecessor, the Motion Picture Democratic Committee, with the difference that this time it came "all out" in favor of the war, while its predecessor opposed America's entry into the war. This change in position, [according to T-1] was determined by the fact that Soviet Russia had become one of the Allies and needed the support of the so-called "Imperialist Nations". (u)]

[Source T-1 called attention to the fact that for the greater part the same individuals were in control - those who exercised that function in the Hollywood Democratic Committee had exercised the same functions in the Motion Picture Democratic Committee. (u)]

[Source T-1 also pointed out that all of the activities of the Hollywood Democratic Committee during the time of its existence coincided with the line of the Communist Political Association, which was "collaboration with capitalism" because of the needs of the Soviet Union for assistance. (u)]

[Source T-1 stated, however, that its political position locally and nationally was to use the prestige and influence of Hollywood personalities in support of candidates for public office who had shown sympathies for Communist causes. (u)]

Source T-18 on November 5, 1943, informed that GEORGE PEPPER, a Communist Party member according to [Source T-2], was the Secretary of the Hollywood Democratic Committee and that he visited ELIZABETH LEACH, organizer for the Northwest Section of the Los Angeles County Communist Party, according to Source T-18, and it was stated in this conference that there were five units of the Hollywood Democratic Committee, with the main headquarters at 1515 Crossroads of the World, the Valley Democratic Committee located in North Hollywood, the Beachwood Democratic Committee located in the Hollywood Hills section, the Fairfax Democratic Committee in the Wilshire-Fairfax section of Los Angeles, and the Beverly Hills-Westwood Democratic Committee located in the Beverly Hills section. Pressure Front

Source T-1 informed on September 25, 1943, that the activities of this organization were confined largely to the open political field, such as putting pressure on lawmakers, local and national, to have legislation passed which is either sponsored or supported by the Communist Party. This, according to this source, is exerted in two ways -- one by forming delegations to visit lawmakers in an attempt to intimidate them, and another by a campaign of written propaganda circulated among labor unions and other organizations and the setting up of "Committees of Correspondence", the purpose of which is to flood the Congress with letters demanding the passage of measures which fall in line with the program of the Communist Party at the time (u) (u)

5. HOLLYWOOD INDEPENDENT CITIZENS COMMITTEE OF THE ARTS, SCIENCES AND PROFESSIONS

[Early in August, 1944 Source T-28 informed] that the "Independent Voters Committee of Arts and Sciences for ROOSEVELT" was formed in New York; that it was composed of artists, writers and scientists. It was pledged to devote its effort to the election of ROOSEVELT in the 1944 election. The Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions was directed by its National Chairman JO DAVIDSON who maintained headquarters at the Astor Hotel, New York City. (u) (S) u

[Source T-28 advised that a meeting was held on June 6, 1945 in the Hollywood Legion Stadium and JOHN CROMWELL was elected Chairman of the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions. According to T-1 on July 19, 1947 and T-49 on June 7, 1945 CROMWELL took the floor and spoke on the ROOSEVELT Heritage, and a resolution was passed pledging support to President TRUMAN and asked him to carry on the ROOSEVELT policy as was exemplified in the vote of last November, the sentiment showing that the ROOSEVELT Heritage should be carried on." (u) (S) u

[Source T-28 informed on June 26, 1945] that a movement had begun to change the name of the Hollywood Democratic Committee to the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions and affiliate itself with the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions with headquarters in New York. Source further stated that a vote of the general membership of the Hollywood Democratic Committee was had on June 6, 1945 on this proposed change and it was carried unanimously. (u) (S) u

Source T-48 further informed on June 26, 1945 that conferences had been held by JOHN HOWARD LAWSON and a representative of the New York group believed to be LIONEL BERMAN. Source T-28 further informed that LAWSON stated that he would refuse to merge if the Hollywood Democratic Committee would be required to give up its autonomy and stated that the Hollywood Democratic Committee must make its own policy and LAWSON further stated, according to T-28, that a policy of sham collaboration with the New York group has been planned. (u) (S) u

(u) [Source T-1] informed on July 19, 1947 that JO DAVIDSON, Chairman of the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, was in Los Angeles and MARTIN POPPER, an attorney from 39 W. 67th Street, New York City, conferred with JOHN HOWARD LAWSON relative to the merger of the Hollywood Democratic Committee with the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions. Source T-28 informed on June 6, 1945 that JO DAVIDSON and MARTIN POPPER were in Los Angeles and LAWSON was requested to contact DAVIDSON by MARC CONNELLY, a screen writer. LAWSON had already gone to San Francisco to attend the United Nations Conference, so arrangements were made for LAWSON and DAVIDSON to confer with each other at San Francisco. (S) (u)

On May 26, 1945 the press carried a dispatch that President TRUMAN had invited former President HOOVER to consult with him regarding the food situation in Europe. Source informed that LAWSON directed that a telegram be sent to TRUMAN by the Hollywood Democratic Committee denouncing HOOVER and demanding that HOOVER not be given an official Government position nor even be consulted about the food situation in Europe. (S) (u)

[Source T-1 on July 19, 1947] (S) (u) stated that an Executive Committee of 88 members was elected on July 26, 1944. [This source also] (S) (u) informed that during the 1944 election the Hollywood Democratic Committee "teamed up" with the Communist Political Association and the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the Political Action Committee and some American Federation of Labor unions and that they reported that they collected and expended $85,133.00 in nominating four candidates for Congress and that it succeeded in electing three of them, i.e., (u)

ELLIS E. PATTERSON
HELEN GAFFAGAN DOUGLAS NED HEALY.

[Source T-1 further] (S) (u) stated that SIDNEY HILLMAN made a visit in Los Angeles in January, 1945 under the auspices of the Hollywood Democratic Committee and the CIO-PAC which resulted in some of the Hollywood Democratic Committee endorsed candidates for city offices being elected. [This source further] (S) (u) informed that these same persons and organizations put on a "power group campaign" in behalf of HARRY BRIDGES to cause the cancellation of the deportation order then outstanding against BRIDGES. (u)

[This source also] (S) (u) informed that the Hollywood Democratic Committee spearheaded a big protest against the Ambassador Hotel because the hotel had refused to rent a ballroom to the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee at which PAUL ROBESON, a Negro, was to be the honored guest. (u)

[Source T-1 on July 15, 1947] (S) (u) informed that as World War II neared its close in the spring of 1945 and the defeat of HITLER was assured the Communist Party, USA., prepared to dissolve the Communist Political Association which had advocated non revolutionary collaboration of the working class with the capitalist class and reinstate the Communist Party, USA. under the MARXIST-LENINIST revolutionary program. line were noticed as early as March, 1945. [Source T-1] called attention to the fact that on May 24, 1945 a document called the "DUCLOS letter" was published in the official Communist press. This letter was purportedly written by JACQUES DUCLOS, a leader of the Communist Party in France. (u)

[Source T-1] further informed that this was a notice to the world that the Communist Party line was about to undergo a change. This letter criticized the actions of the Communist Political Association as being a betrayal of the revolutionary working class and the principles of Marxism and Leninism. The blame for this "betrayal" was placed on EARL BROWDER, the National Secretary of the Communist Political Association. (u)

[Source T-1] stated that the Hollywood Democratic Committee which had functioned during the life of the Communist Political Association began to make preparation to go out of existence. It issued a call for a meeting of its members to be held at the American Legion Hall in Hollywood June 6, 1945. This meeting was attended by approximately 360 persons believed to be members of the Hollywood Democratic Committee. EMMET LAVERY, President of the Screen Writers Guild, was Chairman of the meeting. At this meeting it was proposed, [according to T-1], that the Hollywood Democratic Committee change its name and become the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions. (u)

[Source T-1] also informed that HERMAN SHULIN, a motion picture producer of New York City, was present and proposed that the new organization affiliate with a national organization called the Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions. [T-1 further] advised that JOHN HOWARD LAWSON led the Communist elements in this meeting. A ballot which had been previously selected was voted on as a mere formality and many of the members of the Executive Committee of the Hollywood Democratic Committee were elected and continued as members of the Executive Committee of the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions. (u)

[Source T-1] further stated on July 15, 1947 that the reason for changing the name and apparent complexion of the organization was that the line of the Communist Party, U.S.A. had changed. The war was over - HITLER had been defeated - STALIN's Russia had been saved and the Communist Party was to be revived and the Party was to adopt the revolutionary program of Marxism-Leninism, and eventual revolution was again the goal to be sought. (u)

[Source T-1] also informed on July 15, 1947 that from June 6, 1945 to February 11, 1947 when the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions became the Hollywood Branch of the Progressive Citizens of America, the activities of the Hollywood Independent

The Hollywood Arts, Sciences and Professions Council of the PCA published a brochure in early July, 1947 announcing that a conference on the subject of Thought Control in the United States would be held at the Beverly Hills Hotel in Beverly Hills, California from July 9, 1947 to July 13, 1947 under the auspices of this organization. This brochure announced that in recent months an increasing number of incidents have occurred, indicating an unhealthy tendency in our national life--a tendency to prevent freedom of individual expression which has always been the guarantee of our democratic culture. This conference has been called in order to document and examine these incidents separately and as part of a majority tendency. If such a tendency does exist and continues to develop unchallenged, it can lead in only one direction--the biased control of the thought patterns of all the American people."

According to this announcement, the conference would be conducted by panels of specialists gathering facts and analyzing trends of restriction in each of the various fields. The conference schedule was set forth indicating that the keynote session would be held on Wednesday evening, July 9, 1947 and that panels for discussion of various topics, including the press, fine arts, literature, health and medicine, law, radio, science and education, the film, and the actor, would be held at sessions from Thursday, July 10, 1947 through Saturday, July 12, 1947. The conference would be concluded on Sunday, July 13, 1947 when a joint closing session would summarize all conference accomplishments.

This announcement disclosed that the headquarters of the Hollywood Arts, Sciences and Professions Council of the PCA is at 1515 Cross Roads of the World, Hollywood, California. The California Chapter of the PCA listed the following officers:

The opening session of this conference was attended by Special Agents MARCUS M. BRIGHT and JOHN M. CASHEL of the Los Angeles Division on July 9, 1947. The session was opened by JOHN CROMWELL, writer and Chairman of the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee Council of the PCA, who introduced HOWARD KOCH who, it was announced, would act as temporary Chairman. KOCH introduced JOHN HOWARD LAWSON, a writer, who according to Source T-2, ^{is} a known member of the Communist Party, who commenced his remarks by mentioning that several individuals have recently accused HENRY WALLACE of giving Europe a false opinion of America by saying that America is not imperialist and has no imperialist aims. In his speech, LAWSON reviewed the historic struggles of progressive forces and individuals throughout United States history and also pointed out the imperialist actions of the United States in its past and present foreign policies. Other speakers on this occasion were BERNARD SMITH, a writer and editor, who commented briefly on the struggles of progressive forces in America since the establishment of this Government. The keynote speaker of the opening session was NORMAN CORWIN, who condemned the war psychosis being urged upon the country today by reactionary forces and who also condemned the activities of such groups as the Thomas un-American Affairs Committee, the Tenney Committee, and the Hearst press. (u)

Special Agent FRED G. DUFOIS, of the Los Angeles Division, who was in attendance at the final session of the conference on Thought Control held on Sunday evening, July 13, 1947 at the Beverly Hills Hotel in Beverly Hills, California, under the auspices of the Hollywood Arts, Sciences and Professions Council of the PCA, reported that HUGH DE LACEY, former United States Congressman from the State of Washington, presided and at the conclusion of summaries on the various panels which had taken place during the conference, ROBERT W. KENNY, National Chairman of the Progressive Citizens of America, was introduced. KENNY extended greetings and good wishes to the local organization from the National PCA and also mentioned the conflict presently existing between progressive liberals as opposed to the conservatives and reactionaries within the Democratic Party. He declared that as far as the Democratic Party was concerned, the PCA would support those who stood for progress and would refuse to support those who failed to do so. In mentioning the Republican Party and the conservative element, KENNY asserted, "If they don't like it in this century, let them go back to the century they came from." KENNY also stated, "We stand for nationalization of public utilities, the coal industry, the steel industry, and any other industry where nationalization would advance the common good." KENNY stated flatly that free enterprise was not working and that those proponents of this economy should admit this and reach for new solutions to the changing economic problems of our complex society.

Prior to the adjournment of the conference, the following resolutions were submitted to the audience and approved. The first resolution was in the form of a letter to President TRUMAN to advise him of the vicious type of Thought Control that exists in the United States and that thought control evidenced a trend toward Fascism. The resolution advocated the immediate abolishment of the un-American Activities Committee and the abandonment of the TRUMAN Doctrine. It further called for discontinuing "the loyalty tests" recently instituted by the Federal Government.

The second resolution urged the establishing of a Federal Fair Employment Practices Commission. This resolution assailed racial discrimination and persecution of minorities as a means of thought control.

The third resolution was to the effect that the Arts, Sciences and Professions Council of the PCA should go on record as demanding of President TRUMAN and the State Department that a free international exchange of information be established. The resolution pointed out that monopoly of a means of communication was in fact a type of thought control and should therefore be abolished.

The fourth resolution called for the establishing of a Federal theater subsidized by the Federal Government. The resolution pointed out that failure to provide such a medium of expression, available at low prices to large numbers of people, was in fact a means of thought control.

The fifth resolution called for freedom of communication within the United States. This resolution also conveyed the idea that the radio, the film, and the press were not readily available to all groups of people and that liberal use of them was more or less confined to monopolistic groups that could afford the cost involved and also whose business the particular means of communication depended for financial support. The last resolution called upon the National Headquarters of the PCA to authorize the establishing of a "mental consumers union". The purpose of this union would be to digest and analyze material offered the American public for its mental consumption in much the same manner as the pure food laws regulate the standard of foods consumed by the populace. It would also be the purpose of such a union to advise PCA members on all the various publications and digest them for its membership. According to SA DUPUIS, all of the foregoing resolutions were approved unanimously and without any discussion from the floor concerning them.

A newspaper article appearing in the July 15, 1947 issue of the Los Angeles DAILY NEWS reveals that the Progressive Citizens of America have set up free legal clinics for victims of rent control abuses in fifteen select neighborhoods of the Los Angeles area. These clinics will be open in each neighborhood once a week with attorneys on hand to offer legal counsel, according to BURT MITT, Executive Director of the Southern California Chapter of the PCA. The clinics will be supervised by the district PCA Chapters.

"To provide a center for professional actors to experiment with and develop their acting technique, to provide a means by which professional actors can render greater war service; and a school."

"The laboratory has quite an extensive camp show program which has now expanded to include overseas units and hospital shows. It is now presenting weekly a program of one act plays to finance the war service program which have been very favorably reviewed in the press. There are very serious weaknesses in relation to the political content of the material presented by the laboratory. (Tendencies toward estheticism, pessimism) and some of the weaknesses of the group theater have been carried over since many of the leading figures of the laboratory are from the group."

The Los Angeles "Times" for May 31, 1946, under a heading "Red Writer Quotes actors", under a London dateline, stated "CONSTANTIN SIMONOV, Russian journalist, reported from New York today that BETTE DAVIS, CHARLIE CHAPLIN and Hollywood Writers spoke 'in deep contempt of the slanderous campaign raised by the reactionary press against the Soviet Union'. The writer said he visited the 'Actors Laboratory in Hollywood where a great interest in the Soviet Union was displayed'."

This same Times article quoted JOHNSTON as saying, "We are determined that subversive propaganda, government pressure or political censorship will never undermine the freedom of the screen which, like the freedom of the press and radio, is indispensable to a free America."

[Source T-65] stated that the Association of Motion Picture Producers, Inc. was originally organized to invest a moral code on the motion picture industry, and that the Association had never had any legal or other provision to keep out or to investigate Communistic propaganda and activities in the preparation of motion pictures by member studios. [According to this source] there is at present considerable controversy among members of the Association as to the setting up of a committee to investigate Communistic activity in the motion picture industry and to eliminate those individuals responsible for it, or to merely restrict its scope to the making of recommendations to the industry. (u)

[According to Source T-65] ERIC JOHNSTON, President of the Association, was in Los Angeles during the week of July 14, 1947, and held a conference of the officers of the Association. [Source T-65 disclosed that JOHNSTON made the following statement. (u)

"We must have legal proof that a person is a Communist or otherwise subversive before this office will recommend that he be fired, because most persons in the industry are working under contract, which would result in legal suits for damages. We will cooperate with responsible agencies of the government to unearth subversive activities, but we are not in agreement with some of their methods."

[According to this source] JOHNSTON stated that he did not like the publicity seeking committees who were injecting political angles into their investigations, and in particular mentioned DIES, RANKIN and THOMAS as being in this category. (u)

ERIC JOHNSTON's present personal assistant is EDWARD T. CHEYFITZ who, [according to T-65] spends a good part of his time in Washington and New York City and makes frequent trips to the Hollywood area on major assignments given him by ERIC JOHNSTON. [This informant advises] that some weeks ago CHEYFITZ came to the Coast to collaborate in the making of certain labor propaganda pictures for the Motion Picture Association at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios. (u)

CHEYFITZ's one-time affiliation with the Communist Party, at least in the past, is admitted by him, although he claims to have alienated himself from the Party since 1939. On October 13, 1942, at his own request CHEYFITZ was interviewed by Special Agents EDWARD J. DOWD and A. J. QUINN at Toledo, Ohio, at which time he volunteered certain information concerning his past activities in the Party. He admitted having been a Communist member at large in the State of Ohio and active as an organizer in the C.I.O. Die Casters Union throughout the United States with other Communist leaders who had been appointed by him at the recommendation of JOHN WILLIAMSON of the Communist Party National Committee. CHEYFITZ claims he was expelled from the Communist Party shortly after the Soviet-Nazi non-aggression pact due to an article he wrote in opposition to the pact.

(u) The Los Angeles Office has no record or other evidence that CHEYFITZ is currently a member of the Communist Party. [Source T-52 on July 17, 1947, at Hollywood, California, advised that his dealings with CHEYFITZ leads him to believe that the latter is sincerely anti-Communist at the present time. As a possible indication of the current estimate of CHEYFITZ by the local Communist element, the Los Angeles Office is in possession of the original of a letter dated July 26, 1946, on the letterhead of the Los Angeles C.I.O. Council. This letter, which was made available by Source T-113 on May 16, 1947, is signed by PHILIP K. (SLI) CONNELLY, Secretary of the C.I.O. Council and addressed to PAULINE LAUBER of the Hollywood Writers Mobilization, both of whom have been identified elsewhere in this report as Communists. The letter reads as follows: (u)

"You may remember the jerk who signs the attached letter (EDWARD T. CHEYFITZ). He was once National Secretary of one of our unions and was as phoney as hell. I'm sending this to you simply for information, however, if the boys feel that any time they can benefit by contact with CHEYFITZ they should feel free to do so."

THE SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, INCORPORATED
1655 North Cherokee Avenue
Hollywood 28, California
Affiliated with the Authors League of America, Inc.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, INCORPORATED, according to the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD "Bulletin", was formed in 1933. This was also verified by the Hollywood Press "Times", dated November 10, 1944, which announced the election for the eleventh President of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD since its founding in 1933.

According to the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD "Bulletin", dated August 1, 1944, the objects of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD as defined in its constitution, are to represent its members for the purpose of collective bargaining....To bring about harmonious and concerted action by its members in such respects.....To establish and maintain cordial relations, unity of action, and understanding among the members.....To protect the writings and property of Guild members and to do any and all things necessary, desirable and proper to promote their welfare and interest in carrying into effect or furthering any of the foregoing purposes.

The Motion Picture Almanac 1942-43 issue reflects that the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, INCORPORATED is an affiliate of the Authors League of America, Incorporated, with headquarters at 6 East 39th Street, New York City, has elected officers and council. The Authors League of America has no local organization. The representative of the Authors League of America in Los Angeles, until recently, was ANN ROTH MORGAN, Secretary of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD.

[According to Source T-2, ^{she} was a member of the Communist Party, USA, assigned to Branch A-1 of the Northwest Section, and as of November 19, 1945 was a member of the Communist Political Association, Northwest Section. (u)]

The "Screen Writer", official publication of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, dated June 1945, in the first issue lists 923 active members of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, and 349 associate members of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD. According to the January 1946 issue of the "Screen Writer", there were 1317 members of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, 972 of whom are classified as active members, and 345 described as associate members. The SCREEN WRITERS GUILD is run by its officers, its executive board and standing committees. Elections are held each year, generally in November. All terms are for one year's duration.

[Source T-1 stated on July 9, 1945] that the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD was the first union group in the cultural field to come under the domination of the Communists and fellow travelers. [He said] it was organized by a group of writers, the majority of whom were then members of the John Reed Club of Hollywood, [which he stated was a "Communist front organization", that afterwards became the Hollywood Chapter of the League of American Writers in 1935] (u)

[Source T-1] stated that the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD ever since its inception has taken the lead among the organized cultural groups in the Hollywood motion picture industry in following the Communist Party line in all its devious changes. (u)

[Source T-50 advised in June 1945 that he] was one of the organizers of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD and that between 1935 and 1939 [he realized] that the Communists were gaining control of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD. [He stated] that the Communists gained control of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD through their untiring efforts in seeking to gain this control. [He said] they called more meetings "than any human being but one interested in Communism could ever desire to attend", and he recalled specifically that from 1935 to 1939 [he spent] almost his entire evenings attending meetings primarily in order to keep the Communists from controlling the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD. However, after years of fighting, [Source T-50 stated that he] found it impossible to do anything about the Communist control of the Guild, [hence he withdrew his membership. [Source T-50 stated] emphatically that there was no question [in his mind but what] the Communist element was in complete control of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, and this despite the fact that the majority of the membership of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, [in his opinion,] were neither Communist members or Communist sympathizers. [Source T-50 had] no documentary evidence of the Communist membership of any of the members of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, however, [he said in his own mind he is sure] the leadership of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD is definitely Communist. (u)

[Source T-50 on July 29, 1947] advised that [he had] come to Los Angeles from New York in 1936 and that there was a SCREEN WRITERS GUILD organized at that time in Los Angeles, however, it did not have bargaining rights or national recognition. [He advised] that there were fifteen men on the Executive Board in 1937, that [he was one of the members of] the Executive Board, stating [that he had enjoyed] considerable success on Broadway in New York and the Guild felt [that his name] would lend some dignity and importance to the Guild in its struggle for national recognition. [Source T-50] stated that in the beginning he was very naive about the functions of the Guild and of the Communist influence in the Guild. [He stated that after a year or so on the board he] noticed a system of "block voting" on the part of seven members of the Executive Board. [He stated he soon] discovered these seven men were Communists, and although [he does not have] documentary proof of this he feels certain from their activities that they were Communists. [He stated that] although there were eight non-Communist men on the Executive Board the seven Communist members really controlled the Guild, stating that they held Executive Board meetings almost every night and that they operated in this way. All seven Communist members of the Executive Board attended every meeting. A motion would be made before the group on one night and the voting would be postponed for several nights following. The meetings would be scheduled for 8 o'clock in the evening and the Communist members would stall commencement of the discussions until 9 or 9:30 and frequently until some of the non-Communist members had become disgusted and gone home, or until the meetings had been postponed several nights and only five or six of the non-Communist members of the Executive Board had appeared and all seven of the Communist members would be present; then the motion or the resolution would be voted upon and, of course, with the Communist majority there they would always pass with ease. (u)

[Source T-50 advised that he could not recall the names of all seven of the Communist members at that time but furnished the names of five of them as follows:] (u)

BORRIS INGSTER
DOROTHY PARKER
RING LARDNER, JR.

LILLIAN HELLMAN
DONALD OGDEN STEWART

[Source T-50] stated that the above described example was a typical method by which the Communists controlled the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD. (u)

[Source T-50] advised that GORDON KAHN is the Editor of the "Screen Writer" and advised that KAHN was definitely a member of the Communist Party and was using the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD for a political purpose. [He stated] there was no purpose in the existence of the "Screen Writer" and that there was absolutely no need for such a magazine. (u)

[Source T-50] advised that when he first came to Los Angeles [he had not heard of JOHN HOWARD LAWSON and that LAWSON was not on the Executive Board at that time. However, he soon learned that LAWSON had a strong influence with the members of the Executive Board of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD. He stated that in his opinion JOHN HOWARD LAWSON, GORDON KAHN and RING LARDNER, JR. are the three most dangerous Communists in Hollywood. (u)]

[Of the names mentioned above by Source T-50, evidence has been set out elsewhere in this report concerning the Communist Party membership of the following: RING LARDNER, JR., JOHN HOWARD LAWSON and GORDON KAHN. (u)]

[Source T-1] states that LILLIAN HELLMAN is one of the highest ranking Communists in the United States. [In 1943, Source T-1] advised that LILLIAN HELLMAN has been very active in Communist circles and the Communist movement in the United States since 1935, and that her Communist activities have been carried on mainly in New York and the East. Her activities on the West Coast have been in connection with the motion picture industry in Hollywood where several of her plays were made into motion pictures. These were "The Little Foxes", "Watch on the Rhine", and a third picture written by her was "The North Star". (u)]

[Source T-50 in June 1945] explained that the majority of the members of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD belong to the Guild as a bargaining agency and not for any "political reasons". However, the Communists belong to the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD for a "political reason", hence, the majority of the members of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD do not attend the regular meetings and take no intense, active interest in the Guild. Because of this, the 100 to 300 active members of the Guild really control the elections, functions and activities of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, and since many of these activists are Communists, the Communists have little difficulty in controlling the entire policy of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD. (u)]

[Source T-118 advised on July 29, 1947] that the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD was organized by JOHN HOWARD LAWSON in Hollywood in about 1932 and that it has been completely dominated and controlled by the Communists since its organization. For fourteen years [Source T-118 has been carrying on an open fight with the leaders of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD. He informed that he, Source T-118, is the only writer in Hollywood who has been refused membership in the Guild. [Source T-118] stated he is positive these individuals are all Communists, stating that many years ago [he thought] a man could not be called a Communist unless he carried a card with a number, [but he has] come to learn that the most dangerous Communists do not carry cards and have no assigned numbers. He stated that he could prove every one of these individuals was a Communist by [his strict adherence to the Communist Party policy over a period of fourteen years. [Source T-118] added that EMMET LAVERY, now President of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, is definitely a Communist and [that he] could prove it by his following of the Communist Party policy. (u)]

[Source T-118] stated there were about 350 really active members of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD and that the individuals above mentioned as Communists in key positions as officers of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD continued to control its functions throughout the years. (u)]

[Source T-118] advised that he has been the leader of the opposition throughout the last fourteen years. [He stated] that most of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD members have been aware of what is going on in the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD but did not wish to fight and bring the issue into the open because of publicity and danger to their families. [Source T-118] said that during some of the heated fights [he has] received threatening letters and many threatening phone calls. (u)]

[Source T-118] stated the Communist members would fight the opposition by conducting open smear campaigns, stating specifically that he was accused of anti-Semitism, stating that of course nothing could be further from the truth as his wife is half Jewish. With reference to the "smear" campaigns, [Source T-118] stated that the Communists even went so far as to direct a smear campaign against a writer, [Source T-50 (a Jew)] to the effect that [Source T-50] was anti-Semitic and had betrayed [his] race. This was verified through [Source T-50]. (u)]

[Source T-118] stated that as the Communists took control of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD in 1933 they relaxed the rules of membership so that anyone who had worked as a writer for twelve weeks was admitted to membership in the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, stating this provided an easy way for the Communists to "pad the rolls" with "Communist unknown writers". (u)

[Source T-118] stated that BORRIS INGSTER came to Hollywood from Russia and that INGSTER was admitted to the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD when he could hardly make himself understood in the English language, and in a year and a half INGSTER was elected to the Executive Board of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD. [Source T-118] stated that of all the Communists in Hollywood he feels most confident that "INGSTER has used Russian money to further his purposes". (u)

Of the above names mentioned [by Source T-118] evidence concerning Communist Party membership of the following has been set out elsewhere in this report: LESTER COLE, JOHN HOWARD LAWSON, SAM ORNITZ, GORDON KAHN, JOHN BRIGHT, FRED RENALDO and RING LARDNER, JR. (u)

According to the Hollywood "Reporter", dated August 21, 1946, "the second report on un-American activities in California, published by the Joint Fact-Finding Committee of the State Legislature, stated the committee members consider JOHN HOWARD LAWSON one of the most important Marxist strategists in Southern California. JOHN LEECH, former Secretary of the Communist Party for Los Angeles County, testified before the Los Angeles County Grand Jury that LAWSON had been sent from New York to Hollywood by the Central Committee of the Communist Party and that he had immediately become active in Hollywood Study Clubs and in the Communist faction of studio unions, particularly in the organization of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD. LEECH stated that LAWSON became a dominant figure in Communist Party drama groups and attended Communist Party faction meetings in New York and Hollywood. Thus, LEECH'S testimony establishes that the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD'S founder, the first president, came directly to Hollywood from Communist Headquarters in New York and that the establishment of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD was the mission he was entrusted with by that headquarters. LAWSON was the first commissar of thought planted by the Communist Party in the motion picture industry."

[On July 17, 1947, Source T-52 was] asked to give [his opinion] as to the Communist control in various motion picture guilds in Hollywood. Concerning the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD [he expressed his opinion] based upon long dealings with this group, that the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD is definitely under the control of the Communist Party, principally through three men, JOHN HOWARD LAWSON, its founder, GORDON KAHN and EMMET LAVERY, the present President. [Source T-52] feels certain that all three of the above are Communists, not necessarily membership book holders in the Party, so far as any documentary proof is concerned, but because their policies and dealings in the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD always coincide with the current Communist Party line. [Source T-52] said that he thinks LAVERY knows what "the score is" and "Party member or not, he is not being innocently taken in by the Communist Party." (u)

There is no evidence in the Los Angeles Office indicating LAVERY to be a member of the Communist Party. However, [Source T-2] reported that on January 16, 1945, JOHN HOWARD LAWSON and GORDON KAHN were members of the Communist Party. (u)

On November 26, 1946, at LAVERY'S request, he was interviewed in the Los Angeles Office by Special Agent in Charge R. B. HOOD. He advised that he was President of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, and in view of certain statements he has made and activities in which he has been engaged he believes this Bureau maintains a record on him. He wanted the opportunity to state his position and offer his cooperation. He stated there were some 400 active members of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD who are constantly employed in motion pictures. He estimated there were some 30 or 40 of these who are actually members of the Communist Party. He stated he could resign from the position of President and avoid all the arguments and difficulties he has been engaged in but he refuses to give up because he thinks he is fighting for a principal. LAVERY stated definitely that there are Communists in the picture industry but that they could be eliminated very quickly if the industry desired to do so. LAVERY found fault with the extreme left wing element, stating very definitely that he is opposed to all types of force and violence and that definitely some of the Marxists have this in mind. LAVERY criticized the extreme right also and stated he thought somewhere between these two extremes there is a definite path forward and he is endeavoring to get the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD on this path, and to this end devotes every Monday night to the board meetings of this organization.

According to an article appearing in the Los Angeles "Daily News", published on March 12, 1946 at Los Angeles, California, EMMET LAVERY, President of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD and the Hollywood Writers Mobilization would run for Congress in the Sixteenth Congressional District which is now represented by Congressman ELLIS E. PATTERSON. This article pointed out that LAVERY has consented to run and that he is the author of the screen plays "Hitler's Children" and "Behind the Rising Sun". LAVERY is also, according to this news item, Chairman of the Hollywood Council of Guilds and Unions and a member of the Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions.

DALTON TRUMBO

[Source T-2] advised on August 31, 1944, January 8, 1945, January 16, 1945, February 26, 1945 and November 19, 1945 that TRUMBO was a member of the Northwest Section of the Los Angeles County Communist Party and at one time held Book Number 39300. (u)

American Authors Authority (AAA)

[Source T-1] advised on December 13, 1946 that the American Authors Authority is a proposed agency to be set up by the Authors League of America and all its affiliated branches, the Authors Guild, the Dramatists Guild, the Radio Writers Guild and the Screen Writers Guild. The purpose of this agency is stated by its originators to be for the purpose of protecting the economic interests of all writers, authors of every kind who write for the screen, for publishing houses, magazines, radio, etc., by making this agency in effect an over all "holding agency" of all the written material produced by the writers of the United States. The formation of this American Authors Authority is based on one central idea, that is, that no writer may sell outright to any film company or publisher of any kind his written material, but that such written material shall be "leased" only, and that the copyright of all such material shall be assigned by the writer to the American Authors Authority when it is offered for sale originally. Thus, while the writer would be technically the owner of the story, article or screen play, the copyright on the same would be held by the American Authors Authority under its control. The American Authors Authority maintains that there are only 3 issues involved in the plan and states them as follows: (u)

1. Under the authority they (the film producer or publisher) will not through re-makes be able to make two or more profits out of one story purchased.

Ronald Reagan-5719

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

VDJ/cmc
L A 100-15732

2. They will be restrained from accepting as a free gift from the writer his secondary rights in any piece of material such as television, radio, serial, etc.
3. They will be restrained from freezing a writer's material on their shelves for an indefinite period while he watches the chances for other sales pass by.

The foregoing are the claims made to justify the formation of the American Authors Authority and the exercise of its powers of, as stated by its proponents, "benevolent compulsion". Because while on the surface the plan assumes one of legitimacy and a sincere attempt to rectify that which to some might be called injustices, it is in what the proponents of the American Authors Authority do not reveal that this agency could be used to strangle every form of writing, fictional and expository in the entire United States, especially when such an agency would be under the control of the Communist Party of the United States, operating through its secret members and sympathizers in the writing field.

Source T-1 further advised that "the idea of the American Authors Authority had its inception in the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD of Hollywood. This organization, the bargaining agency for the screen writers of the motion picture industry, is completely dominated by the Communist elements who occupy the offices of the organization and it has followed the line of the Communist Party ever since its formation in 1936. The original organizer of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, and still the active leader of the organization, was JOHN HOWARD LAWSON, a writer and a known member of the Communist Party for many years and one of its most fanatical adherents."

Source T-1 advised that JAMES M. CAIN; a Hollywood screen writer and a member of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD, introduced a proposal for the formation of the American Authors Authority at the monthly meeting of the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD held on July 29, 1946 in Hollywood. The general sense of this original proposal, which was adapted from an article written by Mr. CAIN and published in the "Screen Writer", was that the American Authors Authority would function practically as a "closed shop" for writers all over the United States, in that such writers would of necessity be forced to join the American Authors Authority in order to get their material before the publishers or or producers of films. The original proposal was that writers would have to become members of the several guilds representing their departments of writing such as radio, screen, books, magazines, etc. (S)u

[Source T-1] advised that the formation of the American Authors Authority within the SCREEN WRITERS GUILD of Hollywood has a relation to the general activities of the Communist Party as shown by the individuals of the over all committee of that guild and who are given the task of putting it across. SCREEN ACTORS GUILD

On April 10, 1947, Special Agents RICHARD D. AUERBACH and FRED G. DUPUIS interviewed RONALD REAGAN and his wife, JANE WYMAN, at their home, 9537 Cordell Avenue, Hollywood, California. REAGAN is President of the Screen Actors Guild and his wife has been active in the Guild and regularly attends the Guild meetings. They had requested that they be interviewed by Bureau Agents in order that they might furnish information regarding the activities of some members of the Guild who they suspected were carrying on Communist Party work.

REAGAN advised that the Screen Actors Guild had twelve officers, and that the work of the Guild is carried on principally through the Executive Board composed of the twelve officers plus past presidents. REAGAN and JANE WYMAN advised for the past several months they have observed during Guild meetings there are two "cliques" of members, one headed by ANNE REVERE and another by KAREN MORLEY which on all questions of policy that confront the Guild, follow the Communist Party line. REAGAN stated REVERE and MORLEY do not appear to be particularly close, but whenever an occasion arises necessitating the appointment of some member to a committee or to an office, the two "cliques" invariably either nominate or support the same individual. JANE WYMAN mentioned that while she had no factual information on which to base her conclusion, she had gained the definite impression that MORLEY and REVERE, during Guild meetings, were carrying out instructions and policies provided them prior to coming to the meeting, and that on many occasions, the arguments these two presented simply did not appear to have originated with them. RONALD REAGAN also pointed out that REVERE and MORLEY headed the faction within the Guild which agitated to have the Guild leadership nominate the Screen Actors Guild to support the recent strike in the Motion Picture Industry, which was called by the Conference of Studio Unions.

REAGAN and WYMAN listed the following actors and actresses as supporting REVERE and MORLEY:

ALEXANDER KNOX
HOWARD DaSILVA
HUME CRONYN

DOROTHY TREE
HOWLAND CHAMBERLAIN
SENELA ROYALE

REAGAN and his wife also mentioned that LARRY PARKS has also supported this group on several occasions.

Of the individuals mentioned by REAGAN and his wife, those known to the Los Angeles Office to be members of the Communist Party are the following:

Ronald Reagan-5723

REAGAN also advised that recently an actor by the name of LLOYD GOUGH, who appeared to be a particularly close friend of KAREN MORLEY's, has been regularly attending the Guild meetings and very vociferously supporting ANNE REVERE and KAREN MORLEY. He said GOUGH has recently been named chairman of a "clique" within the Guild which calls itself the "Combined Actors Committee." According to REAGAN, this committee includes in its membership the element of the Guild which he and his wife generally consider to be the radicals, and the group apparently meets separately prior to the Guild meetings and agrees upon the policy it will follow at the Guild meetings on the business and questions that are to come up.

[Informants T-3 and T-5 have] furnished information to establish the Communist Party membership of LLOYD GOUGH as of May, 1947. (u)

[Informant T-2] has furnished the names of 71 Communist Party members who are listed as actors or actresses by the Party and of this number, 54 have been verified through the Guild as members, 42 of which are in current status. This verification was made on July 31, 1947, by Special Agent FRED G. DUPUIS through the assistance of JOHN DALES, JR., Executive Secretary of the Screen Actors Guild. Mr. DALES advised that the Guild has approximately 8,500 members. (u)

SCREEN CARTOONISTS GUILD

[Source T-1 advised on October 11, 1944, ^{Setu} that the Screen Cartoonists were organized and founded in the motion picture industry in Hollywood, California, during the fall of 1939 as an independent union, having jurisdiction over cartoonists, sketch artists and animators who were engaged in the motion picture industry. (u)

[This source ^{Setu} stated that it continued as an independent union until the spring of 1941, at which time it secured a charter of affiliation with the American Federation of Labor. This was not a direct charter but was in the form of a sub-charter granted by the Motion Picture Painters Local 644, AFL, which was affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers of America, which was in turn a section of the American Federation of Labor. (u)

[Source T-1 ^{Setu} advised further that after the charter was granted, a strike was called at the Walt Disney Studios which lasted for about forty days. This strike ^{Setu} according to Source T-1, brought out conclusively that the Screen Cartoonists Guild was Communist infiltrated and was evidenced by the fact that the entire strength of the Communist machine in Los Angeles and Hollywood areas was thrown into the strike, resulting in the anti-Communist unions in the studios entering the dispute to bring about a settlement. The strike was settled on July 9, 1941; however, the Screen Cartoonists Guild gained its objective by being recognized as the sole bargaining agency for the cartoonists and the Communists in the Cartoonists Guild considered this a major victory for them. (u)

[Source T-1 ^{Setu} stated that the persons chiefly responsible for the organization and founding of the Screen Cartoonists Guild included the following individuals:

HERBERT K. SORRELL
DAVID HILBERMAN
ED M. GILBERT
ARTHUR BARBITT
PHYLLIS LAMBERTSON
✓ GEORGE E. BODLE
WILLIAM LITTLEJOHN

The following should be noted concerning several of the organizers and founders of the Screen Cartoonists Guild:

HERBERT K. SORRELL

[Source T-106 ^{Setu} stated that SORRELL was a subscriber to the People's World, to his knowledge, in the early part of 1939. [This source stated on August 4, 1939, ^{Setu} that SORRELL's name appeared on the letterheads as a sponsor for the Harry Bridges Defense Committee. [This source stated in June 1940 ^{Setu} that SORRELL's name appeared on the letterhead as a sponsor for the Schneiderman-Darcy Defense Committee. [Source stated further on July 20, 1940] that SORRELL was an officer of the American Peace Crusade, and [on August 23, 1941 that he] was scheduled to attend a conclave of Communist Party leaders in New York City. (u)

[Source T-12] stated on October 30, 1943 that SORRELL, under the name of HERBERT STEWART, was a member of the Communist Party in 1938 and held Communist Party Book Number 60622, but recently had not been openly active in Communist affairs; however, he followed the Communist Party line in regard to his attitude toward Russia and his demand for a second front. (u)

DAVID HILBERMAN (party name WILLIAM FOLDAL)

[Source T-1 advised on May 2, 1943] that HILBERMAN was present at the annual Communist Party May-Day Festival held at the Los Angeles Breakfast Club and was responsible for the cartoon which was posted in that hall demanding a second front. (u)

[Source T-31] stated on October 5, 1943 that HILBERMAN purchased a $25.00 War Bond through the Communist Party, Los Angeles County. (u)

[Source T-12] advised in January, 1944 that HILBERMAN joined the Communist Party in 1935 under the Party name of WILLIAM FOLDAL. He had 1939 Communist Party Book Number 3171. (u)

[In October, 1944 Source T-1] stated that HILBERMAN, then Vice-President of the Screen Cartoonists Guild, was a member of a special committee set up by the Communist Party to influence and control Hollywood studio unions. (u)

ED M. GILBERT

On February 20, 1940 a report was received from the Burbank California Police Department stating that GILBERT was seen passing out Communist Party literature at Warner Brothers Studios. (u)

[On June 15, 1947 Source T-5] made available information indicating that GILBERT had been a member of the Communist Party for twelve years and was an active member of the Communist Party at that time. (u)

There is no evidence available that other organizers of the Screen Cartoonists Guild, as set forth previously, were members of the Communist Party. (u)

[Source T-1 stated on October 11, 1944] that the Screen Cartoonists Guild has constantly, since July 9, 1941, followed the Communist Party line and Communist Party influence has been felt up to and including the time. (u)

He stated that the Screen Cartoonists Guild, prior to the time Germany invaded Russia, came out strongly against aid to Great Britain; against U. S. entry into the war, however when Germany did invade Russia the Screen Cartoonists Guild desired that the United States enter the war and that a second front be started.

[Source T-1 stated further on October 11, 1944] that the Screen Cartoonists Guild was one of the original Unions to form the Conference of Studio Unions which is a Communist infiltrated block of about ten motion picture studio unions, the President of which was HERBERT K. SORRELL. (u)

The Los Angeles Times newspaper of August 5, 1942 carried a news item to the effect that on August 4, 1942 the Los Angeles Police Commission had refused a request of BERNARD TRABIN for a permit to hold a second front parade in Hollywood. TRABIN was sponsored by a number of organizations, including the Screen Cartoonists Guild. It should be noted that in September, 1943, [Source T-31] advised that TRABIN was a member of the Echo Park Branch of the Communist Party and had Communist Party Book No. 48639. (u)

[Source T-1] stated that the leading functionary of the Screen Cartoonists Guild from 1943 to 1945 was MORTIMER WILLIAM POMERANCE who, during that period, was the Business Representative of the Union and used his influence to direct and control Union activities and endeavor to bring the Union into the Communist orbit. (u)

Ronald Reagan-5730

MORTIMER WILLIAM POMERANCE

[Source T-2] stated on August 31, 1944 that POMERANCE was a member of the Communist Party, Los Angeles County, and had 1943 Communist Party Book No. 25195. This source stated on November 19, 1945 that POMERANCE was assigned 1946 Communist Party Book No. 35635. Further information on POMERANCE will be found under another section of this report, entitled Hollywood Democratic Committee. (u)

Source T-18 advised on August 9, 1943 that MORTIMER WILLIAM POMERANCE was in frequent contact with functionaries of the Communist Party, Los Angeles County at Communist Party Headquarters, and had made arrangements for numerous meetings with them. (u)

[Source T-47 advised on September 11, 1943] that the Screen Cartoonists Guild was one of the participating guilds in the Hollywood Writers Mobilization, most of the leaders of which were members and/or contacts of the Communist Party. (u)

[Source T-1 advised in February, 1944] that the Communist Party, Los Angeles County was working through its members and fellow travellers in the Hollywood movie industry and had gained control or had strong influence in at least seventeen studio guild unions, one of which was the Screen Cartoonists

Guild. [At this time, according to Source T-1, the Screen Cartoonists Guild continued to be a member of the Conference of Studio Unions which was then under Communist influence. (u)]

[In April, 1944 Source T-1 stated that almost immediately after the United States entered World War II the Hollywood Writers Mobilization for Defense was set up and the Screen Cartoonists Guild was one of the studio guilds which sponsored this new organization which from its inception started clamoring for a second front. (u)]

Source T-18 advised on April 21, 1944 that MORTIMER WILLIAM POMERANCE, Business Representative of the Screen Cartoonists Guild, conferred with ELIZABETH GLENN at Communist Party Headquarters and had no objection to Communist Party meetings being held at the Screen Cartoonists Hall. (u)

[Source T-2] on January 16, 1945 made available to Special Agents JOHN R. VICARS, DAVID A. McCULLOUGH and FRED DUPUIS a typewritten report which was in the possession of ELIZABETH LEACH, organizer of the Northwest Section of the Communist Political Association, Los Angeles County, and a part of this report dealt with the Screen Cartoonists Guild. This report stated "The Screen Cartoonists Guild has done a great deal toward developing understanding of the possibilities of the cartoon film as a propagandist educational medium. Through the educational activities of the Union it has been possible to achieve more consistent democratic content in the regular governmental films themselves. In addition, members of the Guild have undertaken to make films for labor and police organizations. The first of these was the United Auto Workers cartoon 'Hell Bent for Election' which was conceived and produced by members of the Guild". (u)

[Source T-6] on January 19, 1946 made available a letter prepared during 1945 concerning the second annual meeting of the Peoples Educational Association. It was noted that on the reverse side of this letter the names of Unions affiliated with the Peoples Educational Center were listed, one of which was the Screen Cartoonists Guild. (u)

[It should be noted that Source T-4 stated in January, 1946 that the Communist Party considered the Peoples Educational Center at that time sufficient for the dissemination of Marxist education. (u)]

[Source T-10] stated on July 30, 1947 that he recalls specifically when he came out of the Army in 1945 that upon his going to the Screen Cartoonists Hall and offices [he saw] numerous cartoons and photographs of the hammer and sickle and other Russian and Communist propaganda. (u)

[Source T-10] advised on June 16, 1947 that MARY SHERRET, CECIL BEARD and NORMAN McCABE, who are cartoonists and artists in the motion picture industry, were contacting numerous cartoonists who were then unemployed through the Screen Cartoonists Guild and were making plans to put out a series of cartoon books for children as well as adults in order to influence their thinking toward Communism. MARY SHERRET [told Source T-104 that if children will follow these cartoon booklets it will result when they become adult in their being masters of the machine rather than the machine mastering them. This office does not have any information indicating that the above named individuals are members of the Communist Party. (C)

[Sources T-1, T-104 and T-119] advised that the Screen Cartoonists Guild presently has its offices and Union Hall at 6272 Yucca Street, Hollywood, California. [Source T-104] states that there are approximately 800 members of the Screen Cartoonists Guild at this time, 300 of whom are unemployed. [According to these sources,] the present officers of the Screen Cartoonists Guild were elected on June 24, 1947 and they are being set out as follows: (C)

Pertinent information is hereunder being set out on those officers of the Screen Cartoonists Guild whose names appear above and who are known to have Communist connections.

ROBERT CARLSON

CARLSON, who is presently Treasurer of the Screen Cartoonists Guild, was reported by [Source T-121 in June, 1947] as having received Communist literature at the YMCA at the YMCA where he resided during his visit to El Paso, Texas in the latter part of 1946, and talked openly in favor of Communism. (u)

MAURICE HOWARD

The Variety Paper of November 16, 1944 published in Hollywood, set out that HOWARD replaced MORTIMER WILLIAM POMERANCE as business agent of the Screen Cartoonists Guild.

[On July 30, 1947 Source T-4 stated that he recalled that when HOWARD took over the position previously held by MORTIMER WILLIAM POMERANCE he had proposed that the Screen Cartoonists get out cartoon books for propaganda and educational purposes for children, showing the place and importance of labor in the world today. (S)(u)

MILTON S. TYRE

SCREEN OFFICE EMPLOYEES GUILD
A.F.L. LOCAL 1391

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

[Source T-96] stated the Screen Office Employees Guild was originally affiliated with the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America, A.F.L. Local 1391. (u)

In 1945 when the Conference of Studio Unions called a strike in the film industry, the Screen Office Employees Guild did not go along all the way with the strike, as half of the members of the Union went back to work, according to Source T-96. (u)

In the interim between the 1945 strike and the current film strike, the National Labor Relations Board held an election within the Screen Office Employees Guild, at which time, [Source T-96] advised, "the Screen Office Employees Guild voted to affiliate with the A.F.L. 'Office Employees Industrial Union,' and accordingly the Screen Office Employees Guild no longer exists." (u)

[On July 24, 1947, Source T-96, who is an official of one of the unions in the motion picture industry, stated that at one time the Screen Office Employees Guild was strongly dominated by the Communist Party, and contained many members within its organization who were members of the Communist Party in his opinion. The source based this statement on long experience, and the observation of the tactics and policy followed by various individuals hereinafter mentioned, who were members of the Screen Office Employees Guild. (u)

[Source T-96] stated that the officers of the Screen Office Employees Guild, Local 1391, as of July 30, 1944, were as follows: (u)

MARGARET BENNETT (WILLS)
BLANCHE COLE
BERNARD LUSHER (LUSCHER)
CLAIRE MORGAN

[The source advised that in addition, one HERTA VERKVITZ was a member of the Board of Directors of the Screen Office Employees Guild, and was also a delegate to the Central Labor Council, and Source felt that she was definitely a Communist. [In addition, Source T-96 expressed the belief that of the above captioned officers of the old Screen Office Employees Guild, all were members of the Communist Party with the exception of CLAUDE HORGAN, JACK REED, FLORENCE CONTINI and GLENN PRATT, business representative of the Guild. (u)]

Concerning GLENN PRATT, [Source T-96] expressed the belief that PRATT was not a member of the Communist Party, [but that in his experience with PRATT, he felt that PRATT certainly respected the Communist Party line, and that PRATT was an individual easily led and inclined to follow the path of least resistance, and believed that PRATT, at the time of the existence of the Screen Office Employees Guild, was under the complete domination of HERBERT K. SORRELL of the Conference of Studio Unions, elsewhere identified in this report as having been a member of the Communist Party. (u)]

- (1) MARGARET BENNETT (MARGARET BENNETT WILLS), who has been identified in the section of this report dealing with the Councils of Hollywood Guilds and Unions as being a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party, and who at the present time is Executive Secretary of the Council of Hollywood Guilds and Unions, is not presently connected with the Office Employees Industrial Union which succeeded the Screen Office Employees Guild. (u)
- (2) BLANCHE COLE, was, according to T-2 on July 22, 1943, Educational Director of Branch N of the Northwest Section of the Los Angeles County Communist Party, [according to T-96, she was not associated with the Office Employees Industrial Union. (u)]
- (3) BERNARD LUSHER (LUSCHER) has been previously identified in the section of this report dealing with the Council of Hollywood Guilds and Unions as a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party.
- (4) BARBARA ALEXANDER (BARBARA MYERS), has been identified in the section of this report dealing with the Hollywood Council of Guilds and Unions as a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party.
- (5) MIN SELVIN, according to Source T-2 in 1943 was a member of Branch N of the Northwest Section of the Los Angeles County Communist Party, and held 1943 Communist Party Membership (u)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

On June 13, 1946, [Source T-2] advised that SELVIN held 1944 Communist Party Membership Card No. 48849, and 1945 Membership Card No. 41829. T-96 advised that SELVIN had recently married NORVELL D. CRUTCHER, who has been identified elsewhere in this report as a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party. (S)(u)

Source T-34 also stated that HERTA UERKVITZ, BLANCHE COLE and MARGARET BECKETT WILLS were invited as guests to attend the aforementioned Communist Party Convention. (S)(u)

- (6) HERTA UERKVITZ. Source T-11 and Source T-2 advised that HERTA UERKVITZ used the Party name of JEAN PETERS, and that she was a member of Branch N of the Northwest Section of the Los Angeles County Communist Party; that she had served as one of the twenty-two members of the Executive Board of the Screen Office Employees Guild, and that she was a delegate to the Central Labor Council. (S)(u)

[Source T-2 on November 21, 1943, stated that UERKVITZ JEAN PETERS, admitted seven years of Communist Party membership as of October, 1943, and that she had served as Organizer for Branch N of the Northwest Section of the Los Angeles County Communist Party. [At this time Source T-2 stated UERKVITZ declared she was Chairman of the War Bond Committee of the Screen Office Employees Guild; Chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Screen Office Employees Guild; and Chairman of the Office of Price Administration Committee of the Screen Office Employees Guild.] (u)

[Source T-96 advised that since the formation of the Office Employees Industrial Union, he did not believe that any of the old members of the Screen Office Employees Guild who voted to go along with the Office Employees Industrial Union, and who had been suspected by the Guild of being Communist, had ever been officially dropped from the Office Employees Industrial Union. He stated, however, that those individuals from the Screen Office Employees Guild who had been suspected of Communist Party affiliation and had entered the Office Employees Industrial Union had for the most part dropped out of the new organization on their own volition, and that there is no indication at the present time that the Office Employees Industrial Union was controlled by the Communist elements. Of the above officers, positive information regarding Communist Party membership is available to this office regarding only one: DON WIGHT, member of the Trial Board and delegate to the Pasadena Central Labor Council.

[Source T-31] reported on September 2, 1943, that DON E. WIGHT, 1830 Chickasaw, Los Angeles, had applied for membership in the Los Angeles County Communist Party in April, 1943, having been recruited by EMILY GORDON. The source further reported that WIGHT had been given Communist Party membership book No. 36200, and had been assigned to the 19th Congressional District Section of the Los Angeles County Communist Party. (S) u

The April, 1947, edition of the Musicians Directory which lists, according to Source T-55, all members in good standing of Local 47, reflects that DON E. WIGHT, 1830 Chickasaw Avenue, is the only member with that name. (u)

Information regarding the activities of Communists within Local 47 was provided on March 24, 1947, by Source T-61, who stated that from 1937 to 1939 the President of this Local was the present California State Senator, JACK B. TENNEY, whose candidacy had originally been supported by a group of approximately sixty-five Communist Party members. During TENNEY's term of office, according to Source T-61, he conducted an investigation of Communism within the Local which resulted in a number of expulsions. TENNEY was defeated for re-election in 1939, and subsequent to that time, according to T-61, the activities of the Communists within the Union have resulted in its withdrawal from affiliation with the Los Angeles Central Labor Council, and from the State Federation of Labor. (u)

[Source T-55], an officer of the American Federation of Musicians, stated to Special Agents GRANT A. DAY and JOHN J. HENRY on July 23, 1947, that the present head of the Local, J. K. "SPIKE" WALLACE, succeeded TENNEY as President due to the support of the Communist group within the Union. The source reported that from 1939 until 1947 WALLACE, who as President dominates the affairs of the Local, cooperated with the Communist members of the Union to such an extent that the Communists actually exercised control over the policies of the Local. H

[The source explained that the Local's constitution provides that 150 members constitutes a quorum, and that it is extremely difficult to secure an attendance as large as this at a Union meeting. T-55 stated that there had been only four quorum meetings of the Union during the past five years, with the result that the general membership, which he estimated as nearly 15,000, had no voice in the affairs of the Local. (u)

T-55 stated that he had watched the activities of the Communists within the Local, and reported that the following Local members were the active leaders of the pro-Communist group: (u)

As a result, upon WALLACE's return to Los Angeles, he was bitterly criticized by the faction above listed, and Source T-55 states that WALLACE has told him personally that from this time on he is through with the Communists. (u)

[Source T-62] reported to Special Agent SAMUEL W. FRY on March 3, 1944, that he is a member of the Musicians Union, and that Local 47 was being dominated by a group of persons whom he believed to be Communist Party members or sympathizers, with the result that the Union had passed a resolution urging the establishment of a second front, had been active in attacking the California State Legislature Fact Finding Committee because of its investigation of Communism in California, and that donations were being solicited from Union members purportedly to be sent to Russia to buy musical supplies for the gifted musicians there who were no longer able to secure them. COUNCIL OF HOLLYWOOD GUILDS AND UNIONS

I. HISTORICAL SKETCH

A. EVENTS LEADING TO FORMATION

The above organization was formed originally as the "Emergency Committee of the Hollywood Guilds and Unions" to combat the so-called "Fascist Motion Picture Alliance for the Preservation of American Ideals" and held its first meeting on Wednesday, June 28, 1944 at 8:00 P.M. at the Women's Club of Hollywood, 7078 Hollywood Boulevard. The announcement of this meeting was first published as a full page advertisement in the June 23, 1944 issue of the HOLLYWOOD REPORTER and was signed by the Emergency Committee, Hollywood Guilds and Unions. The purpose of the meeting as stated in the announcement, a copy of which is in the office of the Los Angeles Division, was "representatives of 17 guilds and unions of the motion picture industry.....coming together to set up a constructive program for the Hollywood Guilds and Unions during and after the war, and to take action to protect industry and its workers from anti-labor, semi-fascist attacks". The original announcement further stated that "in the latter connection, the meeting will consider the recent activities and statements of spokesmen for the "Motion Picture Alliance for the Preservation of American Ideals", which latter organization had contended that there is "widespread impression that this industry is made up of an dominated by Communist radicals and crackpots", having declared itself at the time of its earlier formation in February, 1944 "in sharp revolt against a rising tide of Communism, Fascism, and kindred beliefs".

"The Motion Picture Alliance for the Preservation of American Ideals" hereinafter will be referred to as the MPA.

The MPA in a Statement of Principles, a copy of which is on file in the Los Angeles Division, had previously declared a belief and a fondness for the American way of life; the freedom to speak, think, live, watch, work, and govern as individual free men in sharp revolt against Communism, Fascism, and kindred beliefs that sought by subversive means to undermine and change the American way of life.

Indicative of the concern of certain elements within the motion picture industry over the formation of the MPA is the activity engaged in by these said elements in the film industry as hereinafter related.

(u) According to the statement made by EILEEN LAVERY, Acting Chairman of the Council of Hollywood Guilds and Unions in a letter furnished by T-96, [redacted] copy of which is on file in the Los Angeles Division, dated July 10, 1944, 900 delegates from seventeen guilds and unions had attended the meeting held June 28, 1944 and unanimously adopted "the constructive program of public relations for the motion picture industry" sponsored by the "Council of Hollywood Guilds and Unions". Circular letters were then forwarded to the secretaries of various unions who had not attended the regular meeting at which they were asked to join the Council, [redacted] according to Source T-96. (u)

2/7 For several months prior to the dissemination of the aforementioned statement, various meetings had taken place in order to formulate plans for an organization to combat the MPA, [redacted] according to Source T-96. (u) One of the first of these meetings took place on February 7, 1944, two days after the publicity of the formation of the MPA. Source T-48 reported that at this meeting PAUL CLINE, whose real name, according to the records of the Immigration and Naturalization Service at Los Angeles, California, is NOTAH KLAPPER and, according to the records of the Voters Registration at Los Angeles, California is a member of the Communist Party, and CARL WINTER, who, [redacted] according to Source T-2, [redacted] was then Executive Secretary of the Los Angeles County Communist Party, then known as the Los Angeles County Communist Political Association, had met to consider ways and means of attacking the MPA. (u)

2/4 Source T-28 stated that on February 6, 1944 a conference had taken place between PAUL TRIVERS, identified elsewhere in this report as a Communist, and JOHN HOWARD LAWSON, identified elsewhere in this report as a Communist. This meeting, as well as the one which Source T-28 stated took place on February 27, 1944 between GEORGE PEPPER, who, according to Source T-2 on February 26, 1945, was a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party in 1944 and held 1944 membership card #41764 and 1945 membership card #47168, was to make plans against the MPA. On March 2, 1944, Source T-92 was present at Sardi's Restaurant and recognized the following persons who, according to this source, met to formulate a program to be directed against the MPA: (u) (S)

They were ELIZABETH LEACH, who, according to Source T-27 is a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party and is a Communist Party functionary, and held 1943 Communist Party membership card #25016, 1944 Communist Party membership card #44705, and 1945 Communist Party membership card #44703; WILLIAM POMERANCE, identified elsewhere in this report as a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party; and GEORGE PEPPER, previously identified as a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party. (u) (S)

Source T-28 reported a conference with similar purpose between ROBERT ROSSEN, former President of the Screen Writers Guild and at that time President of the Hollywood Writers Mobilization, and who has been identified elsewhere in this report as a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party, and JOHN HOWARD LAWSON, previously identified in this report as a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party. Source T-28 reported that the above meeting took place several days after March 2, 1944 and this same source advised that on March 31, 1944, JOHN HOWARD LAWSON told WILLIAM POMERANCE that the Screen Writers Guild should start the ball rolling in forming an attack on the MPA. Source T-94 advised the following individuals may have been present at the meeting of March 17, 1944 inasmuch as their automobiles were observed in the near vicinity of 7511 Franklin Avenue. They were: (u)

1. META REIS, identified elsewhere in this report as a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party.
2. SAM MOORE, who Source T-2 on February 26, 1945 stated was a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party and held 1944 Communist Party membership card #44635 and 1945 Communist Party membership card #47288. (u)
3. RING LARDNER, JR., identified elsewhere in this report as a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party.
4. W. F. BLOWITZ, who Source T-2 stated on February 26, 1945 was a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party and held 1944 Communist Party membership card #46136 and 1945 Communist Party membership card #47420. (u)

On May 2, 1944, Source T-11 reported a meeting took place on that date at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel, Hollywood, California and this meeting was sponsored by the Screen Writers Guild. Those individuals who, according to Source T-11, attended the meeting and have not been previously mentioned or identified in this section as members of the Los Angeles County Communist Party, are: (u)

1. VICTOR SHAPIRO, identified elsewhere in this report as a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party.
2. KEN HOWARD, who Source T-2 on November 16, 1943 advised was a member of Branch B of the Northwest Section of the Los Angeles County Communist Party, having transferred in July, 1943 from the Lerner Branch of the Los Angeles County Communist Party. (u)
3. GEORGE BRADLEY, who Source T-34 on July 31, 1944 advised was a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party, assigned to the Echo Park Branch. (u)
4. NORVAL D. CRUTCHER, who has been identified elsewhere in this report as a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party.
5. JAY GORNEY, identified elsewhere in this report as a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party.

Source T-11 advised that a meeting held on May 2, 1944 at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel by the Screen Writers Guild was presided over by MARY MC CALL, JR., concerning whom there is no record of Communist Party membership. At this meeting, according to Source, it was suggested that a big motion picture affair be given at the Hollywood Bowl as a means of getting notice and publicity for this new program they were trying to create against the MPA. As a result of the business of the meeting, a motion was made to form a Committee of WILLIAM POMERANCE and VICTOR SHAPIRO, both of whom have previously been identified, which was charged with drawing up aims and policies of the new organization that was being formed. Source T-11, a member of the Communist Party himself, stated on May 2, 1944 that this group was being set up for the prime purpose of fighting the MPA. The group hoped, according to Source, to attract for publicity purposes well known people with unquestionable reputations for the positions of fronting the new organization. Source advised that it was felt that if by making everyone in the picture business feel that the MPA had accused the entire industry of being Communists, radicals and crackpots, the new organization hoped to stir up everyone else in the studios against the MPA. Source disclosed that the procedure, which has been reported above, was the same procedure that he had watched the Communist Party use many times and there was no doubt in his mind that this was another Communist front organization in the making. Source stated that these individuals who were taking such an active part in forming the new organization had as their philosophy in such things as this, even though they lost and did not succeed, the idea of building up prestige of Communism and the terrific educational value of their efforts. (X)(u)

On May 9, 1944, an article in the PEOPLES WORLD listed 38 film unions and guilds which sent delegates to the meeting of May 2, 1944, previously reported. This meeting was called, according to Source T-11, to formulate plans for the organization against the MPA and that the guilds represented at this meeting of May 2, 1944 constituted a large majority of the labor organizations connected with film industry.

B. FIRST ORGANIZATIONAL STEP OF THE COUNCIL OF HOLLYWOOD GUILDS AND UNIONS—
PLANNING COMMITTEE FORMED May 16, 1944.

Source T-28 was present at a conference between JOHN HOWARD LAWSON, previously identified, and CHARLES KATZ, 2640 Carmen Crest Drive, Los Angeles, California. KATZ is an attorney in Los Angeles, California and signed the brief of the Los Angeles Communist Party petition filed before the California Supreme Court in June, 1942, placing the Party on ballot on September 17, 1940. JOHN LEACH, former Communist Party organizer, testified concerning KATZ before the Grand Jury as follows: "I knew KATZ as a Communist Party member; he was active in professional study groups, organizing professional study groups in Hollywood for the Communist Party. KATZ was in the Communist fraction of the Anti-Nazi League. KATZ received membership book from STANLEY LAWRENCE; (X)(u)" worked with TITIANA TUTTLE in organizing underground Communists cells in Hollywood with ALBERT BIBERMAN and V. J. JEROME; his wife is very active in Communist Party work and joined the Communist Party in 1936." (S)(u)

3/2 Source T-28 reported that the Conference with LAWSON and KATZ on May 2, 1944 was relative to the "dirty the Communist Party was then attempting to uncover concerning the MPA leaders". At the conference, Source T-28 stated LAWSON told KATZ that he would give him a check for $200.00. LAWSON stated that he was a little worried inasmuch as the derogatory material unearthed by him, while useful, was very thin. LAWSON suggested that KATZ confer with DALTON TRUEBO (identified elsewhere in this report as being a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party) relative to the information gathered to date by KATZ. (S)(u)

4 Source T-11 advised the Motion Picture Labor Committee for Political Action met on May 10, 1944 at 1537 Cahuenga Boulevard, Hollywood, California. The purpose of the meeting, according to source, was the furtherance of plans to organize in some manner against the MPA. Those attending the meeting, who have previously been identified, were WILLIAM POMERANCE, NORVAL CRUTCHER, and GEORGE PEPPER. Others were ED SMITH, who, according to Source T-2 as of February 26, 1945, is a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party; HERBERT K. SORRELL, elsewhere identified in this report as having been a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party; and BONNIE CLAIRE, whose real name is BONNIE CLAIRE LASKOVITZ, according to the files of the Immigration and Naturalization Service at Los Angeles. Source T-2 on July 15, 1943 advised that she was Press Director of Branch N, Northwest Section, Los Angeles County Communist Party, and held 1944 Communist Party membership card #48841 and 1944 Communist Political Association membership card #46868. Source T-11, who it should be noted is a member of the Communist Party himself, advised that the entire transaction against the MPA had a Communist stamp on it. He said that CAMPBELL (possibly GEORGE CAMPBELL, concerning whom there is no record of actual membership in the Los Angeles County Communist Party) "pressures the money out of AFL; GEORGE PEPPER runs the machinery and KEN HOWARD, NORVAL CRUTCHER, BONNIE CLAIRE, WILLIAM POMERANCE, ED SMITH pull the strings to run the show". (S)(u)

4 On May 16, 1944, Source T-28 stated JOHN HOWARD LAWSON and DALTON TRUEBO met to talk over a written report made by TRUEBO concerning the MPA. TRUEBO made available to this source a copy of this report which source felt showed the long range program being planned by the Communist Party in its attack against the MPA. TRUEBO stated that the opponents of the MPA, who, in his opinion, constituted the entire motion picture industry, should be prepared to offer a constructive program in contrast to their destructive one. He felt if there was need of haste in holding such a mass meeting that they should sacrifice a thorough preparation in favor of an early date and felt that if they were both lucky and well prepared, they would be able to probably "smash" the MPA for good. (S)(u)

TRUMBO stated the Publicists Guild might be most effective in publicizing the proposed meeting against the MPA and directing the publicity into channels which would give the widest possible press space. TRUMBO felt the primary aim of the meeting should be a complete exposure of the MPA. He stated that it should be brought out at the meeting the inability of the opposition to name one single picture containing their objection (possibly Communist propaganda objections). TRUMBO believed this was very vital as he did not feel the MPA could attack a specific motion picture without attacking specific producing organizations and the moment they did that the MPA would be giving the opposition new allies. TRUMBO believed that the guilds and unions should consider their economic interests in the postwar world as being one that directly coincides with the economic interests of producers and of the industry as a whole. He stated that the economic interest of all, of course, was directly dependent upon the kind of pictures made. He mentioned that the MPA was against shaping the contents of a movie for any other purpose than that of making money. He also felt that if they proposed to change the world of motion pictures that they were doing exactly what the MPA was fighting. He believed that as pictures depended on ideas, signed articles should be obtained from various national leaders to obtain their ideas as to what kind of pictures the people of the country would want after the war. Through this means they would have a valuable document for the guidance of themselves and of the movie industry. (S)(u)

Source T-11 stated that on May 16, 1944 at a meeting held on that date the idea was stressed to emphasize to the public the roll that motion pictures play in the war against Fascism as well as the roll pictures will play in the post-war period. "The idea, of course," according to Source T-11, "was to put the MPA on the Fascist side of the fence." This same source reported that the creation of this organization, yet unnamed, was Communist inspired and was created to fight "red baiting". Source, a member of the Communist Party himself, stated that if this new organization was successful, it would help to further Communist propaganda in motion pictures, not only in the United States but all over the world. He reported that nearly everyone who attended the aforementioned meeting had had considerable political education and experience and he felt it unlikely that any of the delegates at that meeting did not know that it was a Communist front organization in the making. Source believed that every person attending was either a Communist Party member, with or without a book, or an active Communist Party supporter. (S)(u)

C. SECOND ORGANIZATIONAL STEP OF THE COUNCIL—FORMATION OF THE "EMERGENCY COMMITTEE HOLLYWOOD GUILDS AND UNIONS, June 6, 1944.

Source T-11 advised that he attended a meeting on June 6, 1944 at the Screen Cartoonists Hall, 6272 Yucca. This meeting, according to source, was called "An Emergency Committee of the Hollywood Guilds and Unions". Source advised that eighteen persons were present, including ROBERT ROSSEN, who acted as Chairman, previously identified; WILLIAM POMERANCE, who has previously been identified as a Communist; HERBERT K. [Source T-11] stated that the Writers Guild was the activating force in the formation of this group. [Source T-11] advised that the motion picture, according to these people, is one of the greatest lines of communication for propaganda in the world today and from his observation and membership in the Communist Party, the Party would not stop at anything to gain control of the studios and, although they admitted that they did not have the money to do this, they did think they had all the brains to do it in another manner. Concerning this, the first meeting of the Hollywood Council of Guilds and Unions, Source T-11 described this meeting of June 28, 1944 as a real Communist victory. This organization, after many preliminary meetings, held its formal organizational meeting on June 28, 1944 and was actually started by members of the motion picture Screen Writers Guild. Source T-11, it is again pointed out, was himself a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party and participated in many of the preliminary meetings as hereinbefore set out. (S) (U)

Source T-11 stated that the Council of Hollywood Guilds and Unions was built "to smack down any individual group who attempts to attack the Communist front organizations in motion pictures". The individuals who participated in the preliminary organizational meetings of the Council of Hollywood Guilds and Unions agreed, according to Source T-11, that the MPA must be attacked from all angles and connected with everything subversive; accused of Fascism, anti-Democracy, anti-Semitism, anti-Catholicism, anti-Negro, anti-Labor, anti-British, anti-Soviet, so that the MPA would have nothing left to throw back at the Communists without being a "copy cat". Source stated that he did not believe he heard one speaker at the meeting actually deny that he was a Communist. (S) (U)

[Source T-95] who also covered the meeting of June 28, 1944, advised that the speakers were ELMET LAVERY, MARY C. MC CALL, JR. WALTER WANGER, HERB ALLER, JAMES HILTON, AL SPEED, OLIVER H. P. GARRETT, concerning whom there is no record of membership in the Los Angeles County Communist Party; HERBERT K. SORRELL, elsewhere identified in this report as a Communist; and SIDNEY BUCHANAN, who, according to [Source T-2] on February 26, 1945, was stated to be a member of the Los Angeles County Communist Party. (S) (U)

[Source T-95] stated that the resolutions had been prepared in advance and with the exception of the above-named speakers, no one in attendance took any part in the meeting. The speeches were described as being directed against the MPA because of their stand against Communism and, while there appeared to be nothing in the talks made by these speakers which would indicate a particular Communist tendency, they did not, according to source, make a clear stand they might intend to take against Communism. (S) (U)

[Source T-1] advised in addition to those person already mentioned as having been present at the meeting of June 28, 1944 that the following persons were observed at the meeting: (S) (U) Ronald Reagan-5760

ALBERT MALTZ, previously identified as a Communist.

JAY GORNEY, previously identified as a Communist.

SAM GOLLELATT, who [Source T-12 advised on April 27, 1945] was in 1938, under the name of TED MILLER, a Branch Organizer in the Industrial Section of the Culver City Studio Branch of the Los Angeles County Communist Party. [He held 1938 Communist Party membership card

LUCIAN FRIVAL, who, [according to Source T-2 on February 26, 1945,] was a member of the Los Angeles County Political Association and held 1945 membership card #47445 and 1944 membership card #41863. (u)

[Source T-1] stated at this meeting the remarks of all the speakers were along the same line, that is that the MPA was a Fascist organization destroying unity and interfering with the prosecution of the war and, further, that it was an anti-labor, anti-Semitic, red baiting organization that was a political plot against the new deal. This same source stated that the persons directing the Council of Hollywood Guilds and Unions were leaders of the Communist elements within their own organizations and, at the same time, were active in many of the supporting Communist front organizations. The only individuals that this source mentioned in this connection, other than those individuals previously set out in this report, were BERNARD LUSHER, who, according to [Source T-2] on July 2, 1943, was a member of Branch N, Northwest Section of the Los Angeles County Communist Party and held 1943 Communist Party membership card #36151 under the name of GEORGE LASTREE. On April 14, 1947, [Source T-88 stated that LUSHER was a member at that time of the EVA SHAFFRON Club, 16th Congressional District Section, Los Angeles County Communist Party and held 1947 Communist Party membership card #48425.] and BERNARD GORDON, who, according to [Source T-2] on August 31, 1944, was Labor Chairman of Branch H of the Northwest Section of the Los Angeles County Communist Political Association and held 1944 Communist Political Association membership card #44239. [On January 20, 1947, Source T-97] (S)(u) stated that then there were seven unions affiliated with the Conference of Studio Unions which belonged to the Council and that there were two I.A.T.S.E. locals, two independent unions, and one A.F.L. Union, which comprised the membership of the Council at that time. These were: (u)

- Screen Story Analysis Guild
 - Screen Cartoonist Guild
 - Screen Costumers Guild
 - Film Technicians
 - Film Electricians, Local 40
 - Machinists Guild
 - Musicians Local 767 (This is not the musicians union to which musicians in the studios belong.)
 - Painters Union
 - Screen Publicists Union
 - Screen Supervisors Union
 - Screen Set Decorators
 - Screen Writers Guild.
- 88532

[Source T-97] (S)(u) stated that the Council had lost mainly because of difficulties over the current film strike, The Screen Actors Guild, The Screen Office Employees Guild, a Musicians Local #47, to which all musicians in the motion picture industry belonged. (u)

III. ESTIMATE OF FUNCTION OF COUNCIL OF HOLLYWOOD GUILDS AND UNIONS

[Source T-96] (S)(u) stated that the Council has the support of all "left-wing, radical elements within the labor movement". [Source, who himself is a labor union official,] (S)(u) stated on July 24, 1947, that this "radical element packed the first meeting of the Council and took control". Source expressed the opinion that the council was "strictly Communist dominated" and that although the Council was relatively "dormant" at the present time, it must still be regarded as a "force in the radical labor wing and will probably spring out soon in support of the third party movement". IV. OFFICERS

From a letter on file in the Los Angeles Division, dated July 10, 1944 from the Council of Hollywood Guilds and Unions, it is noted that E. JET LAVERY served as Chairman of that organization from June 28, 1944 to March 2, 1945.

According to an announcement in the HOLLYWOOD REPORTER on March 2, 1945, the following officers of the Council were elected:

Chairman	MARY C. MC CALL, JR.	(Screen Writers Guild)
Vice-Chairman	PAUL HARVEY	(Screen Actors Guild)
Secretary-Treasurer	TED ELLSWORTH	(Motion Picture Costumers)
Board of Directors:
	JOHN R. MARTIN	(Film Technicians)
	BILL BLOWITZ	(Screen Publicists Guild)
	MIN SELVIN ✓	(Screen Office Employees guild)
	HOWARD ESTABROOK	(Screen Writers Guild)
	SIG NESSELROTH	(Moving Picture Painters, AFL, Local 644)

MARGARET BENNETT WILLS accepted in February, 1946 the position of Executive Secretary of the Council, according to [Source T-96] who also stated she was formerly President of the Screen Office Employees Guild and delegate to the Central Labor Council. [Source T-2] advised in July, 1943 that she was a member of Branch N of the Northwest Section of the Los Angeles County Communist Party and that she held 1945 Communist Political Association membership card #45764, according to information furnished by Source on February 26, 1945. CONFERENCE OF STUDIO UNIONS

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

[Source T-52 who has been active in the trade union movement in Hollywood for a number of years and who is familiar with the activities of the Communist Party members in connection with labor groups in the motion picture industry furnished the following information concerning the background development and subsequent resulting controversies within labor groups in the motion picture industry. (u)]

[Source T-52] explained that the motion picture industry is not important in the industrial life of the nation in the same sense that communications, transportation and heavy goods industries are, but in the propaganda sense Hollywood and its motion picture industry is in a class by itself. It is the propaganda value of the motion picture industry that is the prime objective of the Communist infiltration. This propaganda is handled in a subtle and clever manner and is intended not to convert the American at this stage to Communism or to participate in a Soviet world but rather to fertilize the soil so that when the propaganda seed is planted it will find a fertile field in which to grow. (u)

[According to Source T-52] the Communist penetration of the motion picture unions began in 1934 and 1935 when a meeting was held in Carmel, California at which the principal figure, a Mr. MICHAEL EISEN, then attached to the AMTORG and bearing the title of Commissar of Heavy Industries of the U.S.S.R. was present as well as a number of Hollywood personalities. Arrangements were made at this meeting to finance the program of infiltration into the Hollywood Studio Enterprise and these arrangements later resulted in the establishment of Mr. JEFF KIBRE as the individual chosen by the Communist organization to carry out its designs. KIBRE began to appear as an important figure in Hollywood during 1937. (u)

In 1937 after the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees had re-established themselves following a disastrous strike in 1933, one large local union emerged covering what is known as the back yard crafts which crafts are normally identified with stage and theater workers such as grips and electricians. This union had a membership of approximately 10,000 workers and was known as Local #37. As a result of controversy among these crafts prior to 1937, the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees restored local autonomy to the newly established Local #37. While this controversy in the trade union movement was continuing in the motion picture studios, a new attack was attempted on the established unions by an organization which was known as the United Studio Technicians Guild.

This guild was headed by JEFF KIBRE and made an attempt which is to set up an over all industrial union. Before the establishment of the United Studio Technicians Guild, numerous smaller fronts such as the Federation of Motion Picture Crafts and an organization known as COMPAC (COMPAC is Committee of Motion Picture Arts and Crafts), as well as an Unemployed Conference, all of which were obviously Communist front organizations, were used to agitate in an effort to destroy the unions which were organized under the AFL.

Outside of the agitation and propaganda which these organizations spread, no significant developments resulted. While the United Studio Technicians Guild denied any direct connection with the CIO, it was later established that KIBRE was reporting on the activities and progress of this group to HARRY BRIDGES in San Francisco and ROY HUDSON, a National Labor functionary of the Communist Party, in New York. The real financing of the United Studio Technicians Guild came from these two sources.

[According to Source T-52] the struggle for domination within the Labor Movement in the motion picture studios did not develop into a major controversy until 1936, when the principal factor in establishing the importance of the United Studio Technicians Guild fight was a decision of the National Relations Labor Board which challenged the validity of the contract which the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees had entered into in 1936 and laid the ground work for an election which was subsequently held. This election was granted as a result of a petition filed by the United Studio Technicians Guild. (u)

When this election took place the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees supported by most of the AFL unions won the election by a substantial majority, [Source T-52] explained that it is significant to note, however, that Local 644 of the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees and HERBERT K. SORRELL who had only recently come into power in this union did not support the other AFL unions, but actively campaigned on the side of the United Studio Technicians Guild. SORRELL's affiliation with the Communist Party and his association with Communist Party members has previously been commented on in this report.

Following the defeat of the United Studio Technicians Guild, this organization dissolved and KIBRE disappeared from the Hollywood Motion Picture Studio labor picture.

[According to Source T-52] the Conference of Studio Unions was formed by very nearly the same group of unions that had formed the COM-PAC, the unemployed conference, and several other Communist labor front groups that had sprung up in Hollywood during the late 30s. One significant addition which had been made to this group was Local 683 of the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees which is a union composed of studio technicians. (u)

The control of this union was, [According to Source T-52,] captured by the Communists in 1940 when RUSSELL MCNIGHT was elected President, NORVAL CRUTCHER was elected Secretary and JOHN MARTIN was selected as Business Manager. From the time these three men were elected in Local 683 they followed the Communist Party line insofar as it was possible for them to do so and continue to be affiliated with the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees. (u)

[Source T-52] asserted that the Conference of Studio Unions took up the Communist fight where the United Studio Technicians Guild had left off only utilizing a different tactical approach. The Conference of Studio Unions was designed to form a wedge between the membership of the AFL and the international unions of the AFL and at the same time to establish a solid front of those unions which the Communists had been able to bring under their orbit. (u)

As the Conference of Studio Unions organization developed HERBERT SORRELL began to emerge as the over all leader of the Communist Party faction in the Hollywood Motion Picture Studio Unions, [According to Source T-52,] In 1941 when the Conference of Studio Unions was officially organized, the activities of the organization were outlined as follows: To organize all unorganized groups in the studios into unions which the Communists could control and, in the absence of any union to suit a particular craft, place workers in the Painters Union which was headed by SORRELL. (u)

This resulted in the organization of some 3500 office workers into this union while between 500 and 600 screen cartoonists, 300 screen publicists, 200 screen story analysts and between 700 and 800 set directors also became affiliated with this union. Despite the fact that these groups had no craft they all were placed within the Painters organization.

[Source T-52] declared that the Conference of Studio Unions following its organization in 1941 supported the Communist Party line, completely carrying on a program of agitation in which they cried for local autonomy and democratic unionism and generally advocated contempt and disregard for the authority of officers within the union above the local level. The Conference of Studio Unions supported the National Service Act in 1941 which [according to Source T-52] indicated that this union was controlled by the Communists. During this period the Conference of Studio Unions became very militant in handling economic and jurisdictional problems within the studios and at the least provocation the Painters Union would go on strike to support the jurisdictional grievances on the part of a member union of the conference. (u)

As these unions began to negotiate contracts, [Source T-52] pointed out that it was significant to note that a clause was inserted in the contracts of the Conference of Studio Union unions which provided for the changing of the bargaining agency of the union at any time that the union voted for such a change. In addition to the activities of the Conference itself, there were factions from the other International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees unions operating in Hollywood which were coordinated and tied into the Conference Program. (u)

During the period of this struggle several active International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employee locals came under the dominance of the Conference of Studio Unions; these included Film Technicians Local 683, the Film Costumers Local 705, the Studio Electricians Union Local 728 and the Property Crafts Local 44. In addition to these locals, two others were isolated from the International, namely, the Sound and Camera Locals.

[During the period of the Conference of Studio Unions' development Source T-52] explained that the Communist propaganda machine was making full use of the war and the period of cooperation with Russia in order to strengthen its position in Hollywood. The Communists during this period established several political front groups and made successful penetrations into several of the active crafts and guilds within the motion picture industry. (u)

This struggle for power within Hollywood Studio Motion Picture unions was climaxed by the 1945 jurisdictional strike. [According to Source T-52,] a number of influential International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees unions had been infiltrated by the Communist Party and a number of industry members in Hollywood had been effectively silenced by smear campaigns, such as those conducted against CECIL B. DE MILLE, JAMES MCGUINNESS, and SAM WOOD. The only effective force which remained to combat the Conference of Studio Unions was the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees and those local unions which still followed its directives. On March 12, 1945 HERBERT K. SORRELL, head of the Conference of Studios unions called a strike of the Conference members in order to obtain recognition for 77 set decorators. [Source T-52] asserted that the jurisdictional dispute of the set decorators was in itself not important because had the strike not been called on that issue it would have been called on some other issue. (u)

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees officers realized at this time that they must make a definite stand against the Conference of Studio Unions, otherwise the program of SORRELL would surely be successful and would subsequently result in the destruction of the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees organization.

[According to Source T-52,] the strike was rather untimely from the Communist standpoint inasmuch as the Communist Party line at that time was to support the "no strike pledge" in industry. [Source T-52] stated that the strike was called at this time for two reasons: (1), The success of the European campaign against Germany had been assured and undoubtedly the Communist Party higher-ups anticipated a change in the Party line concerning labor controversies, (2), While the Communists probably did not desire the strike to come at that moment the stand which the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees was making would have jeopardized all their efforts if they had not chosen to stand firmer. They were thus obliged to support this strike or else sacrifice their program throughout. (u)

With regard to this motion picture strike which was called on March 12, 1945, it is of interest to note that the Communist policy was at first unsettled and was not crystallized until March 15, 1945 when an editorial appeared in the Daily PEOPLE'S WORLD, official organ of the Communist Party on the West Coast, captioned "End the Movie Strike at Once." This editorial pointed out that strikers in war time were not under any circumstances permissible and further went on to discuss at length the fact that there is no excuse for any kind of strike when the nation is at war. [In this regard Source T-2] made available a memorandum which adopted certain conclusions of the Los Angeles County Communist Board which had been arrived at during a meeting held April 11, 1945. This memorandum reflected that there was considerable confusion among the Communists at the time this strike was called, but that after it had been in progress for a month they were all agreed that the strike should be terminated at once. An editorial appeared in the July 24, 1945 issue of the Daily PEOPLE'S WORLD captioned "Support the Strike of the Film Unions," which editorial declared that this strike of motion picture studio employees was no longer a jurisdictional dispute as it had originally been represented to be by the producers, but that it has now been revealed to be a strike of union vs. anti union forces.

Editorial further stated that "Since the strike began there have been developments which make it clear that the studios and the reactionary banking interests which financed the studios are making this strike a spearhead for a general anti-labor drive." The editorial concluded by stating that every effort should be made by all conscientious workers to support the strike in every way.

It is also significant to note that Source T-28 reported on March 13, 1945 that JOHN HOWARD LAWSON, a writer who has been described previously in this report as being an active Communist Party member, was exceedingly upset over the developments in the motion picture studio labor controversy. This source stated that LAWSON did not know whether the Party members employed in the motion picture studios in Hollywood should recognize the Conference of Studio Union picket lines or not. (S)(u)

LAWSON informed Source T-28 that it would be necessary for the Communists to reach a definite decision concerning the support of this controversy immediately in order that their assistance might be made available to the strikers in the event the Communist leaders concluded that the strike merited support. (S)(u)

A news article appearing in the August 21, 1945 issue of the Daily PEOPLE'S WORLD quoted PHILIP H. CONNELLY, Los Angeles CIO Industrial Union Council Secretary-Treasurer, as urging support for the Conference of Studio Unions in its controversy against the motion picture producers. CONNELLY stated that the CIO support comes from the recognition that the "Producer-International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees fight" against the progressive AFL Studio Unions is the opening gun in an open shop inspired campaign to destroy all legitimate trade unions. This news article also quoted CONNELLY as urging CIO members to boycott theaters in Los Angeles which are showing films made by studios involved in this strike.

Source T-52 further explained that the 1945 strike as called on March 12th by SORRELL would have ended within a period of two weeks had it not been for the association with the Conference of Studio Unions and SORRELL of WILLIAM L. HUTCHESON, anti-Communist head of the Carpenters Union who entertained an old jurisdictional grievance against the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees. In order to obtain this support from the Carpenters Union, SORRELL had according to Source T-52 assured HUTCHESON that if the latter would support him in this strike the Conference of Studio Unions would not go back to work until the Carpenters jurisdictional difficulties were settled. (u)

Prior to this time the Carpenters, according to Source T-52, had never belonged to the Conference of Studio Unions but they had been the hub of the jurisdictional difficulties between the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees and the building crafts in the studios. When it appeared that the studios were not going to shut down but that a prolonged struggle would ensue, a commitment was made by all parties involved to the effect that they would abide by the final decisions of the National Labor Relations Board in the matter which was currently hearing the dispute. (u)

However, according to Source T-52, SORRELL demanded that before the Conference of Studio Unions went back to work it would be necessary that a few of the jurisdictional problems of the Carpenters be settled, and in this respect HUTCHESON of the Carpenters Union adopted such an unreasonable position that it was impossible for those unions affiliated with the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees to accept the settlement. (u)

As the controversy continued to extend itself from a period of weeks into a period of months, SORRELL, according to Source T-52, began to realize the possibility of the complete elimination of the Conference of Studio Unions from the Motion Picture Union scene. Therefore, in October, 1945 he attempted a desperate move by throwing mass picket lines around the Warner Brothers Motion Picture Studios in Burbank, California. (u)

According to Source T-52, virtually every Communist in the city that could be commanded was brought to the picket lines to support the strikers, including JOHN HOWARD LAYSON and BEN MARGOLIS whose Communist activities have previously been mentioned in this report. Likewise, the picket lines were supported by members of the American Youth for Democracy. (u)

[In this regard it is significant to note that during the course of the Studio Employees Strike, T-28 advised that JOHN HOWARD LAWSON and several others in the motion picture industry, including HENRY KEEPER, BEN BARZMAN and FRANK TUTTLE formed what LAWSON described to T-28 as a private strike fund. The collection of this fund was, according to T-28, to be given no publicity and its proceedings were to be used for the benefit of the striking white collar workers within the studios, i.e., members of the:]

[Screen Office Employees Guild
Screen Publicists Guild]

In connection with the Communist activities in support of the striking Conference of Studio Unions unions it is significant to note that MORGAN HULL, Los Angeles County Communist Party Labor Chairman, on October 8, 1945 addressed a memorandum to all club presidents and labor chairmen, requesting that these club representatives attend a meeting to discuss the various problems arising in connection with the Hollywood Studio Strike on Tuesday evening, October 9, 1945 at the East Hollywood Communist Party Club Headquarters, 4660 Melrose Avenue.

On October 9, 1945 Source T-100 made information available to Special Agents JACK S. MERTON and JAMES E. MASON concerning the proceedings of the Communist Party meeting being held at 4660 Melrose Avenue. According to this information GEORGE SANDY, a Los Angeles County Communist Party functionary, presided at this meeting and introduced as the first speaker MATTY MATTISON, Business Agent of the striking local 644 of the Painters Union, who was Chairman of the Speakers Committee of the Hollywood Strike Strategy Committee. MATTISON outlined the background of the strike, stating that at first the main activity of the striking union was to bring the matter to a head through legal methods and through exertion of political pressure and that the only other action that had been taken was through maintenance of legal picket lines. He explained that the rank and file members of the striking unions were more progressive and general head of the strike leadership, therefore, they demanded a more demonstrative action in connection with picketing. As a result, mass picketing was undertaken at Warner Brothers Studios in Burbank which subsequently resulted in the peaceful pickets being beaten and dispersed by the Studio and the Burbank City Police.

MATTISON further outlined the results of picketing activity on [redacted] days and stated that the union had found it necessary to employ mass picketing tactics in order to bring about a successful climax to the controversy. MATTISON declared, according to Source T-100, that this present strike is not a jurisdictional dispute but a dispute upon the successful outcome of which depends the very existence of all unions. (S) (u)

According to Source T-100, MATTISON declared that if this reactionary pattern against unions is not broken Fascism will exist in some form or another and progressive unionism is going to die. A movement will begin on this basis to smash labor and all progressive forces, therefore, we must organize all progressive forces so that we can be an example for the company which has its eye on the film industry strike. (S) (u)

According to Source T-100, one MIN SELVIN declared at this meeting, "The success of the strike depends upon the Communists. We must all mobilize first to picket the studios and next the theaters. The picketing of the theaters is an economic weapon which is a real threat to the incomes of these establishments." (S) (u)

According to T-100, SELVIN pointed out that the individual Communist clubs were not to conduct picket lines of their own but it was their duty to augment the lines already established. In this connection she distributed cards to the individuals present at the meeting which reflected the theaters now being picketed and specifically informed comrades present that these were to be the only theaters picketed at the present time. SELVIN, according to Source T-100, stated that the American Youth for Democracy has to date been of great service in augmenting picket lines and if the members of the American Youth for Democracy were of the older group, this should be continued but she indicated that it was not advisable to have minors picketing. (S) (u)

Following SELVIN's remarks, KENNETH Mac CLELLAND, a member of the striking Conference of Studio Unions union was introduced. Mac CLELLAND briefly outlined the progress of the strike and reiterated a few strike incidents wherein violence had been practiced against the picketers. He then announced that it would be necessary to distribute 150,000 leaflets advertising a meeting of the Citizens Committee to Aid the Strikers, of which he is a member. This meeting was scheduled to take place at the Olympic Auditorium on the evening of October 13, 1945, and it is sponsored by a number of groups who were supporting the strike. He urged that as many Communists as possible attend this meeting. (S) (u)

According to Source T-100 GEORGE SANDY, a functionary of the Los Angeles County Communist Party, addressed the group after MacCLELLAND stated that "The principal part the Communist Party is to play in the strike is to keep the ball rolling and in that manner help the morale of the strikers." SANDY emphatically stated that the trade union members of the Communist Party must demand of their unions that they support this strike. He stated that the Communist Party must distribute thousands of leaflets on behalf of the strikers and in addition to distributing leaflets which are to be prepared by the Party, SANDY explained that 500 copies of the DAILY WORKER have been ordered for distribution on the picket lines daily and stated that various Communists clubs in the Hollywood area must furnish members to distribute these papers. (S) (u)

[Source T-52] explained that a great many of the actions which took place in the strike might not have taken place had the Communists been free to pursue their fight without being obliged to consider HUTCHESON and the support given the Conference of Studio Unions by the Carpenters Union. This source furnished that it is probably true that HUTCHESON's participation was undoubtedly a source of strength to the Communist cause in the Hollywood controversy, but that his alliance with SORRELL also cramped their style in many ways, particularly in regard to an early settlement. (u)

The effect of the strike was to materially weaken the Communist force in studio unions, according to [Source T-52] the openly rebellious attitude of the Communist fractions made it possible to remove several of these fractions from the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees unions and expel their leaders. (u)

According to a newspaper article appearing in the November 2, 1945 issue of the LABOR HERALD, official publication of the CIO on the West Coast entitled "Film Strikers Back at Work," the striking Hollywood studio employees returned to work on that day after having been on picket lines for eight months.

[Source T-52] advised that the period intervening between the October settlement of the 1945 strike and the subsequent strike of September, 1946, was a period of chaos insofar as the studios were concerned. During this period HERBERT SORRELL created numerous incidents which resulted in strike threats and in a short strike which took place in July, 1946. This strike lasted but two days and served to assist SORRELL to bolster to a small degree his waning prestige. (u)

During this period [Source T-52] explained the machinery which had been set up in Washington had been at work which resulted in a decision being handed down from a three man committee appointed by an Executive Council awarding jurisdiction to the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees over 300 full time jobs which had previously been under the jurisdiction of the Carpenters Union. (u)

HUTCHESON, therefore, [according to Source T-52] never fully accepted the decision and while he permitted his men to be under this decision he exerted all possible political pressure to have the decision modified. As a result of this pressure, a so-called clarification of the directive by the Carpenters demanding that 300 jobs which they had lost control of be turned back to them. Both the studios and the International Association of Theatrical and Stage Employees refused to honor such a claim, with the result that on September 26, 1945, a strike was called by the Conference of Studio Unions to assist the Carpenters in their demands. (u)

Apparently, [according to Source T-52] the Conference of Studio Unions group believed that they could proceed with this strike from where the 1945 strike had left off and immediately mass picket lines were thrown around major studios, violence was perpetrated and every conceivable effort was made to forceably prevent the non striking workers from carrying out their duties. (u)

In this controversy, [according to Source T-52] the Communists activity supported the striking unions. After several incidents of mass violence and disturbance, the studios resumed normal operations and the strike settled into a long drawn out controversy which at the present time is still unsettled. The Conference of Studio Unions for the most part is virtually destroyed, despite the efforts of the Communist organization in Hollywood to keep it alive. (u)

With regard to the violence [mentioned by T-52] it is to be noted that on November 18, 1946, fourteen leaders of the striking motion picture studio unions were arrested for violating a court order against mass picketing and rioting at major motion picture studios in Hollywood. Following the arrest of these individuals, the Los Angeles County Grand Jury returned indictments against all of these fourteen individuals on November 22, 1946, charging them individually with violations of Section 166, 182, 245 and 409 of the Penal Code of California in that they did conspire, combine, confederate and agree together to commit acts to pervert and obstruct the due administration of the laws and further wilfully disobeyed the Superior Court order. They are charged with unlawful assembly after having been (u)

THOMAS UNIT SEEKS REDS IN HOLLYWOOD

Los Angeles, May 8 (A. P.).—A House sub-committee on Un-American Activities came here today for a fact-finding investigation of Hans Eisler, music movie composer, and Communist influences in the film capital.

Ronald Reagan, president of the Screen Actors Guild, said he would be glad to co-operate with the committee, if asked, and "point out the real Communists in the industry."

"We have a few Communists in the Guild," said Reagan. "They are about 1 per cent of our membership. We know who they are. They are very active, but the real Communists are not in the movie industry."

Representative J. Parnell Thomas (R.-N. J.), chairman of the full and the sub-committee on Un-American Activities, said the meetings were to build up a possible case for possible full-dress public hearings later, but that public hearings were not planned now.

Representatives McDowell (R.-Pa.) and Wood (D.-Ga.) complete the sub-committee.

Thomas's committee described Eisler as a brother of Gerhart Eisler, who is under indictment for contempt of Congress.

Communist Probers— Arrive in Hollywood

By the Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, May 8.—A House Subcommittee on Un-American Activities came here today for a fact-finding investigation of Movie Music Composer Hans Eisler and Communist influences in the film capital.

Ronald Reagan, president of the Screen Actors' Guild, said he would be glad to co-operate with the committee, if asked, and "point out the real Communists in the industry."

"We have a few Communists in the guild," Mr. Reagan said. "They are about 1 per cent of our membership. We know who they are. They are very active, but the real Communists are not in the movie industry."

Representative Thomas, Republican, of New Jersey, committee chairman, who also heads the subcommittee, said the meetings were to build up a possible case for possible full-dress public hearings later, but that public hearings were not planned now. Representatives McDowell, Republican, of Pennsylvania, and Wood, Democrat, of Georgia, complete the subcommittee.

An inquiry into Communist influences in Hollywood was put on the committee program at the start of this Congress. Mr. Thomas' committee described Eisler as a brother of Gerhart Eisler, who is under indictment for contempt of Congress and as the "supreme" Communist authority in America.

Ruth Eisler, testifying before the committee, said her brother Hans was a "Communist in the philosophical sense."

Film Front

Film Magnates Jig to State Dep't Tune

By David Platt

The Council for Canadian-Soviet Friendship has wired a strong protest to Darryl F. Zanuck, 20th Century Fox production chief in Hollywood for his proposed anti-Soviet film The Iron Curtain.

The film "could only embitter needlessly relations with the USSR and hinder the work of the United Nations, the Council wired Zanuck.

The Iron Curtain is based in part on the report of the Royal Canadian Commission "This report is a discredited document unworthy of serious treatment," the wire stated. "Seven of those accused have been acquitted at court and other cases are pending."

Zanuck's Iron Curtain is only one of many anti-Soviet, anti-labor films in preparation or production in Hollywood.

Warners' entry is Up Until Now with Ronald Reagan as the 'disillusioned' member of the American Communist Party.

Columbia is toying with The Big Two, the anti-Soviet Bus-Kekete play that flopped on Broadway last year.

Universal - International is considering John Roy Carlsen's The Plotters which links Communists with fascists.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is already shooting The Red Danube and is discussing the revival of Ninotchka and Comrade X, those two Hitlerian films which did so much damage before we joined the war on the side of our gallant ally.

The independents are jumping on the bandwagon too according to a story by Vann Ludwig in People's World.

Andrew Stone, for example (he produced Hi Diddle Diddle in 1943) has registered the title Soviet Spy and is "competing with 20th Century Fox for the purchase of spy material delivered to the Canadian Government" by the renegade Guzenko.

Jack Moffitt, a screen writer is trying to peddle Prisoners of the Kremlin "which sets forth his private theory that Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun are being secretly held as hostages by the Kremlin."

The anti-Soviet movie trend is serious and should be aggressively combatted by all groups opposed to the doctrine of America "uber alles." It should be stated however that the picture in Hollywood is not all dark. There are some magnates left who are not altogether convinced that anti-labor films will pay off at the box-office. A recent poll of the studios under taken by Variety revealed "conservatives" who said:

"We hope 20th Century Fox does not set a precedent that will cause Washington to call on us every time it has a special viewpoint to sell, or which will put a propaganda label on other pictures and result in their ban in some countries."

Anti-Commie Policy Adopted by Guild

Top officers of the Screen Actors Guild began new terms today under an anti-Communist policy adopted by the general membership at a regular meeting last night in Hollywood Legion Stadium.

Non-Communist affidavits must be signed by all persons holding responsible positions in the guild before they may represent it, the members decreed by terms of a resolution adopted.

The resolution recognized the "civil right of any person to be a member of the Communist Party" but held that such membership transcends other obligations, including those to the guild.

Top officers of the guild were unopposed for re-election. They include Ronald Reagan, president; Gene Kelly, William Holden and Walter Pidgeon, vice presidents, and Olivia de Havilland, treasurer.

Leon Ames defeated Marsha Hunt for the office of recording secretary.

Of 31 candidates, 11 were elected for three-year terms on the board of directors. They were Dana Andrews, Edward Arnold, Charles Bickford, Lee Bowman, Hume Cronyn, Dan Duryea, Van Heflin, William Lundigan, Larry Parks, Tyrone Power and Anne Revere. Dick Gordon and Jeffrey Sayre were chosen for three-year terms as representatives of A-Junior members. There are 17 hold-over members on the board.

Elected to five-year terms on the directorate were Richard Carlson, Paul Harvey, Cliff Lyons, Lloyd Nolan and Regis Toomey.

The anti-Communist resolution adopted at the election meeting resolves: "That no person shall be eligible to hold any office or executive position with

4 Movie Stars Tell Of Communist Boring

By ROSE McKEE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (INS).—Screen star Gary Cooper revealed today he rejected a number of movie scripts because they were "tinged with Communist ideas."

The tall, tanned movie hero brushed off as "untrue" a Communist pamphlet distributed in Italy quoting him as telling 90,000 Philadelphians that it was the "greatest honor to be a Communist."

He said this and another document produced by House Un-American Committee appeared to show "a definite connection" between U. S. Communists and foreign agents.

Three other film stars took the stand—Robert Montgomery, Ronald Reagan and George Murphy—as the committee continued its investigation of Communism in Hollywood.

Montgomery declared he considers the Communist Party "just as subversive as the German-American Bund" and he said he would quit his job again "to fight Communism."

Montgomery said he fought totalitarianism "called Fascism" during World War II and he indicated he sees no difference between it and a "totalitarianism called Communism."

Murphy testified:

"Comrade" Cooper was among those who "carried the coffin at this funeral."

The exhibit pictured Cooper, Alan Ladd and Tyrone Power as "imprisoned because they are marked as leftists." It described Spencer Tracy as a "well known leftist."

A committee member asked amid laughter if "Crabbe were alive. Cooper interjected:

"Mr. Crabbe is a very healthy specimen."

Foreign Connection

Robert E. Stripling, committee investigator, asked Cooper if he considers U. S. Communists as agents of a foreign government. He star replied:

"The documents I have been shown are pretty good evidence that there is a direct connection between those here and foreign governments."

Thomas asked: "Is Communism on the increase in Hollywood?"

Cooper: It is difficult to say. The last few months it has become unpopular."

Thomas: "They're getting religion?"

Cooper: "I don't know."

Thomas: "Should the Communist Party be outlawed?"

Cooper: "I think it would be a good idea."

The star declared he has heard mazing talk at social affairs, uch as "the government would e a lot better off if there wasn't nl Congress" and "the U. S. Constitution is about 150 years out f date."

Cooper said he rejected "quite few scripts because they were inged with Communist ideas." He explained:

"One had the leading character organize an army in the U. S. of men who would never fight to defend the country. I don't remember the other details, but that was enough for me. I sent it back."

McCarey Follows

Producer-director Leo McCarey followed Cooper on the stand.

He testified he directed "Bells of St. Mary" and "Going My Way," starring Bing Crosby.

Stripling asked:

"How did those pictures do in Russia?"

McCarey replied:

"We haven't received a ruble. There was a character in them they didn't like—God."

McCarey said Communist influences are felt in the movies "in the suppression of scripts which are pro-American and in casting certain characters in a bad light." He added:

"They've been successful in injecting propaganda, but fortunately very few pictures with Communist propaganda have made any money. As an American, I'm very pleased with that."

Thomas asked McCarey whether the industry should produce anti-Communist pictures. McCarey replied:

"I think the screen basically is an art. I don't think pictures should be made that much more than the medium stands for. The picture should be entertainment and, because of the number of people in all lands who see our pictures, it tends only to cause more trouble if we take sides."

Garfield Protests

After the day's session, actor John Garfield held an impromptu news conference outside the hearing room and issued a statement signed by a long list of Hollywood actors denouncing the inquiry.

The statement declared these actors "are disgusted and outraged by the continuing attempts to smear the motion picture industry."

Signers included Paulette Goddard, Henry Fonda, Gregory Peck, Van Heflin, Myrna Loy, Katharine Hepburn, Burgess Meredith, Ava Gardner, Eddie Cantor, Norwan Corwin, Cornel Wilde, Dorothy McGuire, Marsha Hunt, Paul Henreld, Barry Sullivan, John Huston and Garfield.

With Garfield as he read the statement were Canada Lee, Negro stage star, and Paul Draper, Broadway dancer.

Another witness, Fred Niblo, Jr., a screen writer, said he is "morally certain 28 Hollywood persons, mostly writers, are Communists or party-liners." He listed:

Alvah Bessie, Lester Cole, Gordon Kahn, Howard Koch, Ring Lardner, Jr., John Howard Lawson, Albert Maltz, Sam Ornitz, Waldo Salt, Robert Rossen, Dalton Trumbo, Guy Endore, Richard Collins, Marian Spitzer, Hugo Butler, Donald Ogden Stewart, Paul Trivers, Maurice Rapt, Henry Meyers, John Wexley, Ronald McDougall, John Collier, Abraham Polensky, William Pomerance, Harold Buckman, Melwyn Levy, Clifford Odets and Michael Blankfort.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The mother of screen star Ginger Rogers—Mrs. Lela Rogers—who played a leading role herself in the battle against Communist penetration of Hollywood—and Walt Disney, famous cartoonist, will testify today before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Mrs. Rogers helped organize the Motion Picture Alliance to perpetuate American ideals in the counter movement against the red infiltration of various studio guilds.

Her outspoken attacks on Communists and fellow travelers in the film colony has caused leftist leaders in Hollywood to attribute to Mrs. Rogers the responsibility for the current Congressional probe of Red influence in the motion picture industry.

WILL GIVE DETAILS.

Mrs. Rogers is due to cite "chapter and verse" before the committee regarding subversive activities in Hollywood, with the experiences of her famous daughter, Ginger, frequently referred to in her testimony.

Similarly, the name of "Donald Duck," "Mickey Mouse," and their lovable colleagues in the green's animated kingdom will decorate the testimony of their creator, Disney, who will follow Mrs. Rogers as a witness.

The thwarted ambition of left-screen writers to put Communist messages in the mouths of animal characters will be touched upon during Disney's testimony.

STRIKE - DISNEY NEXT.

Moving away from testimony of Communism in the acting and screen writing branches of the film industry, the committee will then enter the fertile field of Red control or influence in labor unions in Hollywood.

Ray E. Brewer, official of the International Alliance of Theatrical State Employees and Motion Picture Machine Operators, AFL, will testify regarding Red influence in Hollywood strikes.

His testimony is considered to be so important the House Labor Committee has requested a transcript.

Another witness to be heard today will be Oliver Carlson, who was secretary to former Gov. Culbert L. Olson of California and a professor at the University of California.

Carlson has written several books on Communism.

Next Monday, before the long list of alleged Leftist Hollywood writers and directors is called to testify, the committee will hear a surprise witness" regarding Communist espionage activities on the West Coast.

Brie Johnston, head of the Motion Pictures Association, also will be heard Monday.

The House committee's sessions are scheduled to be picketed by a delegation from the newly formed front called "The Committee for the First Amendment of the Constitution."

HEARING DENOUNCED.

A group from the new "United Front," as they called it, including numerous stage and film figures who have records of Communist front affiliations, held a press conference in the committee room after the regular sessions were concluded yesterday.

Actor John Garfield whose name has figured in the testimony concerning alleged Communist activities, mounted a chair and denounced the hearings as a waste to a free screen.

Garfield charged the committee investigation was inspired by Roosevelt haters on the West coast.

The "united front" committee promised to supply "surprise" stars on Hollywood each day next week for press conferences.

LAW OWN "TRIALS."

The plans of the group call for using the anti-Communist witnesses heard by the House committee "on trial" before their own committee.

Gary Cooper, who rose to stardom from cowboy roles, yesterday decried on Communists inside and outside the Hollywood corral.

"I never read Karl Marx and therefore don't know so much about Communism except what picked up from hearsay," said Cooper.

"But from what I heard I don't like it because it's not of the Lord."

When he had any suggestions about subversive activities, Cooper said:

"It might not be a bad idea to make more films re-educating people on what we have in this country, which is the finest thing in the world."

TESTED RED SCRIPTS.

The ex-bronco buster testified he had turned thumbs down on quite a few scripts because I thought they were tinged with communism.

Cooper said it was difficult to tell whether Communism was on the increase in Hollywood "because it is now unpopular and harder dangerous to be tethered

Robert Montgomery, George Murphy and Ronald Reagan.

A touch of grim humor was inserted in the testimony when samples of highly distorted Communist propaganda regarding Hollywood personalities was put in the record. The exhibits were checked by the State Department.

One piece of Communist propaganda, circulated in Yugoslavia, declared that "in the middle of June, in Hollywood, Gary Cooper, Tyrone Power and Alan Ladd, well-known film stars, were imprisoned because they were marked as 'leftists' and denounced as un-Americans."

PHONEY PAMPHLETS.

The Communist propaganda pamphlet went on to "reveal" Buster Crabbe, film actor, was machine-gunned to death on Broadway and Seventh ave. in New York on June 3 because he had "organized a movement in the Army to protest against investigation of un-American activities against Cooper, Chaplin and other film stars."

The article continued: "At the funeral of Buster Crabbe 100,000 men were present and the coffin was carried by comrades Gary Cooper, Tyrone Power, George Brent and Al St. John."

"It is quite possible that this crime was committed by the KKK. This case is very characteristic of the conditions now prevailing in the United States."

Rep. McDowell (R.-Pa.) pointed out Crabbe is "in the very best of health" and that with the exception of Charlie Chaplin all the film actors named were noted for their anti-Communist attitude.

Robert E. Stripling, committee investigator, said Chairman Thomas (R.-N. J.), might set a date soon for the appearance of Charles Chaplin, who already is under subpoena.

Another Communist propaganda piece distributed throughout Italy was put in the committee record.

It read in part:

"Gary Cooper, who took part in the fight for the independence of Spain, held a speech before a crowd of 55,000 in Philadelphia on the occasion of the consecration of the banner of the Philadelphia Communist Federation."

"RIGHT BIG AUDIENCE."

"Between other things, he said: 'In our days it is the greatest honor to be a Communist. I wish the whole world would understand what we Communists really are.'"

Cooper tapped the witness table while the thing was being read.

"I've never been to Philadelphia but that's a right big audience — 55,000 people," he drawled.

In a more serious tone, he added that this grotesque sample of Communist propaganda abroad was paralleled in much of the Red distortions of facts being circulated in the United States.

Leo McCarey, director of the Academy Award Picture "Going My Way," "The Bells of St. Mary" and other productions with a religious theme, testified the Soviet Union had not paid a ruble for any of his pictures.

"I think I had a character in those pictures they didn't like," he said.

"Who?" he was asked.

"God," the witness replied.

McCarey said he thought the Communist party should be outlawed because "it is not an American party but an agent of a foreign power."

McCarey said the Communist influence in Hollywood appeared to be receding because of the rising public tide of sentiment against the Reds.

Ronald Reagan, youthful movie star and former Navy officer, testified he was president of the Screen Actors Guild, succeeding Robert Montgomery.

Reagan told of finding himself listed in Hollywood as a sponsor of the notorious Communist front, the joint Anti-Fascist Refutation Committee, when he believed he was permitting his name to be used for a hospital drive.

ACTORS FOUGHT REDS.

He said the members of the Screen Actors Guild had done "a pretty good job" in fighting the Communists inside the organization.

He suggested the most construc-

...step that might be taken to make democracy work. Robert Montgomery, 42, the ex-bronco, pictured a small, militant minority group of well-disciplined leftists vainly trying to take over the Screen Actors Guild since 1933.

Montgomery, former Navy officer, recorded his own detestation of Communism as follows:

"The millions of other Americans I gave up my job to fight against totalitarian Fascism and I am ready to give up my job again to fight against totalitarian Communism."

"I have heard these leftists described as the lunatic fringe but I don't think they're crazy enough to try to get Communist propaganda in any picture in which I was in."

He expressed his opinion that "the Communist party is a subversive group and not a political party, just as the German Bund was a subversive group."

GOT PAPER FREE.

Montgomery, listed typical left-wing tactics practiced in the Screen Actors Guild as including character assassination of opponents to the Red party line, protracted discussion at meetings in order to cloud the issue, and creation of confusion and discord.

George Murphy, another former President of the Screen Actors Guild, testified that when he first joined the guild he found a free copy of the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper, under his door each morning for a year.

The witness estimated there is less than one per cent Communists in the guild although their well-organized disruptive tactics had some influence.

Murphy said there were Communists in the Hollywood studios and at work throughout the picture industry even as they were in every phase of American life.

He said that if he were called on to read any Communist propaganda in a film role "I would 'dry up,' as they say in the theatre, or I would refuse to play the part."

Murphy suggested the following steps might be taken to meet the Communist problem:

Recognition of the fact that the Communist Party is not a political party.

Making public specific information on Communist activities by Government investigative agencies so that Congress can take action.

Telling the American story truthfully in foreign countries with the cooperation of the motion picture industry.

Murphy referred to one instance of the Communist "smear campaign" waged against anti-Communist actors.

Throwaway literature was circulated through the studios in which "Eddie-R o n n i e - and-George" were caricatured as "stooges of the producers."

"It was aimed at Edward Arnold, Ronald Reagan and myself," Murphy explained.

Hollywood Communists 'Militant,' But Small in Number, Stars Testify

By SAMUEL A. TOWER
Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—Three Hollywood stars, leaders in the Screen Actors Guild, stated today that their profession contained a "militant, well-organized, well-disciplined minority" of Communist leanings. They declared that the group was tiny and had made no headway.

The three actors, Robert Montgomery, George Murphy and Ronald Reagan, joined another stellar figure, Gary Cooper, in giving their views on communism in Hollywood before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, conducting an inquiry into the degree of Communist infiltration in the film industry.

Another group of Broadway and Hollywood artists, professing their belief "in constitutional democratic government," disclosed after the hearing that its members had banded together to form the Committee for the First Amendment of the Constitution, to oppose the inquiry on the grounds that it "stifled" the "free spirit of creativeness" and violated the constitutional right of free expression by investigating individual political beliefs.

In an informal news conference in the hearing chamber, John Garfield, actor, and Paul Draper, dancer, acting as spokesmen, listed among the Hollywood members of the new committee Paulette Goddard, Henry Fonda, Gregory Peck, Van Heflin, Myrna Loy and Burgess Meredith; and among the members from Broadway George S. Kaufman, Moss Hart, Olin Downes, music critic of THE NEW YORK TIMES, Minerva Pious, the Mrs. Nussbaum of Fred Allen's radio show, and Louis Calhern, actor.

A Letter to J. Parnell Thomas

Dear Un-American:

As an alert citizen four square behind your desire to protect democracy wherever it rears its head, may I inquire why you don't investigate the California redwoods? I mean no disrespect, Sir, but my recent trip to Hollywood enables me to give first-hand testimony that the redwoods have deep roots in California. I am concerned.

But I am also concerned at the manner in which some of our best friends have been forced to enact movie roles about sports figures, some of whom had definite leftist leanings.

Our good friend Ronald Reagan portrayed the part of George Gipp, Notre Dame football hero, in Warner's story of Knute Rockne. Now Gipp was a good football player but that doesn't break any ice with me because I am told he was just an average person who never expressed interest in outlawing the

And that isn't all, Chairman Thomas. I saw Robert Taylor in "A Yank at Oxford." He was a star in that one. Now everybody knows track is dominated by Communist Negroes. But somebody took advantage of Taylor's lack of sports knowledge to get him into the picture. I've no doubt there was a Communist con behind the scenes who wanted Taylor to look like a Yank at Oxford.

Yes, Chairman Thomas, a full-scale investigation of these sports movies should uncover more than a few skeletons in Hollywood. As a matter of fact, I believe such an investigation is imperative because the Reds are using the sports movie as their latest medium. Hollywood's filming the Life Of Jackie Robinson on the screen. Everybody knows that getting guys like Robinson into the majors was a rotten Daily Worker plot which started years ago.

I understand another Red, John Garfield, used a movie named "Body and Soul" to get across some ideas about the Jews. And he even plays a Jewish character. What I mean?

Boy, I'd like to see Rankin get Garfield on the chair. He'd tell him a thing or two!

Well, I hope this has been some help to you, Chairman Thomas. Keep up the good work.

... And don't forget those redwoods!

communists. How come Reagan got the part? And Gary Cooper, another sweet guy who's on our side and the side of the American Constitution which I've never read (oops!) but will as soon as I finish The Untainhead. What Communist in the film industry, I'd like to know, was responsible for compelling Gary Cooper to portray Lou Gehrig in the "Pride of The Yankees?" Lou Gehrig, beside batting lefty, was interested in such Communist programs like building more playgrounds, combatting juvenile delinquency and ending discrimination. The head of our great Committee, Representative Rankin, opposed to such things. So like I said, who forced Gary Cooper to embarrass himself with the role of Lou Gehrig? I am concerned.

Until that proof is forthcoming those of us who make the Bill of Rights our Bible are compelled to treat the Communist Party as we treat any other minority. It must be recalled that the American Communist Party is an organization that has been banned on the ballots of only 10 states. It is perfectly legal in the others.

Intolerable Conditions

A great many of us who worked as correspondents in Russia during the war found working conditions there intolerable; we discovered that Russia was by no means a democracy. We were appalled by the regimented writing done by Russian colleagues in the Moscow press; we were shocked to find that there was no such thing as a writ-

The fact that we cannot understand how any American (especially one who earns his living writing) can, in good conscience, find the Communist way of life more desirable than our own, does not mean that we feel we have the right to deny such a man his convictions.

Next week a great many writers and directors who have been named as Communists will be before the committee. From a very reliable source I have learned that the FBI has proof that some fourteen of these men are members of the American Communist Party. This proof will be put in evidence.

Then what? If the Committee will then prove that these men actually take orders from Moscow and that they are engaged in a scheme to overthrow our type of government by force no one can quarrel with it.

Entitled To Protection

But there are no indications that the committee (or the FBI) has any such proof. In the absence of such evidence these writers, actors and directors are most certainly entitled to the protection of the Bill of Rights, a document which Chairman Thomas really should read some day.

Some members of the Committee were shocked when they read the brilliant and sound editorial published on Wednesday in the New York Herald Tribune.

The editorial stressed the fact that not even the Committee's witnesses were willing to make the fantastic charge that motion pictures were undermining the American form of government or menacing it by their content.

They believe—some of these men are conservative corporation lawyers—that the committee is attempting to do the thinking for the writers, actors, directors and producers of Hollywood.

A Welcome Idea

The Committee has asked several witnesses why Hollywood does not make anti-Communist films as it once made anti-Nazi films. It showed quite clearly that it would welcome the making of such films. Newspaper men covering the hearings are wondering if their turn will come next; will the Committee get around to suggesting what the American press should write?

Yes the Committee is putting on a show which is being enjoyed hugely by the spectators but it is a show that is not so enjoyable to lovers of civil liberties. It is using tactics which are very familiar to those of us who worked in Berlin or Moscow.

Hatred of Non-Conformity

The whole spirit which so obviously activates the committee is one of hatred for non-conformity. The Committee members seem very suspicious of any one who does not conform to their own brand of Americanism. They seem to believe that non-conformity means disloyalty.

There was once a gentleman named Thomas Jefferson operating around these parts. It is too bad he isn't around today. He would certainly have a few words to say. Yes indeed.

In Russia non-conformance with governmental ideology is a crime. But Russia has no Bill of Rights. We have.

Ronald Reagan-3847

Coercing Hollywood

A bit belatedly, Mr. Paul McNutt, president of the Motion Picture Association, has grasped the central issue of the movie probe now in progress under the auspices of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. He was, he declared on Wednesday, "shocked to see the violence done to the principle of free speech during the hearings this morning. It became apparent . . . that the purpose was to try to dictate and control, through the device of the hearings, what goes on the screens of America. This is no concern of any congressional committee. It is the concern solely of those who produce motion pictures." Some of the more recent Hollywood witnesses have shown similar dismay.

What aroused Mr. McNutt was a line of questioning addressed to several witnesses suggesting that the motion picture industry ought to produce anti-Communist films. This is, of course, an offensive suggestion on at least two counts. It implies that Hollywood ought to be turning out propaganda tracts a la Russes, when the allegation that it has been guilty of doing so in the past is precisely what the industry is trying to refute. Far worse, however, it implies that the industry can escape legislative restriction—or at least the continuance of unfavorable publicity as the result of congressional investigation—only if it produces the kind of propaganda approved by Representative J. Parnell Thomas.

Mr. McNutt is quite right in observing that "you don't need a law to impair the constitutional rights of free speech. It can be done by intimidation and coercion. That is the way of totalitarian regimes which we all hate." The danger, it might be added, is particularly acute in view of the susceptibility to intimidation and coercion demonstrated recently by a couple of his own clients. Movie producers ought to be as allergic to congressional dictation, or even suggestion, as newspaper editors. In a free society, they are, as individuals, the responsible managers of an immensely influential medium of communication. In such a society their management, however faulty, must remain free from governmental interference; it is, indeed, like the freedom of the press (of which it is a part) an essential check upon governmental tyranny. Governmental interference of any sort with the content of films is, therefore, a fatal impairment of fundamental freedom.

Representative Thomas and his colleagues, despite tedious protests to the contrary, have engaged in still another form of attempted intimidation of the motion picture industry. They have permitted witnesses after witnesses to accuse individuals in the industry of Communist sympathies, but, in the process, to ignore the principle of free speech.

supporting evidence. The actors and actresses, script writers, directors and other so accused may or may not be Communist or Communist sympathizers; in the absence of evidence we have no way to judge. The effect of the unsupported allegations, however, is to impose upon the industry powerful pressure to purge them from the pay-rolls. Interference with the personnel policies of a segment of the press does no less violence to freedom of expression than interference with its editorial policies. Finally, Mr. Thomas and his colleagues have been guilty, as their predecessors on this congressional committee have been since the time of its inception, of blasting individual reputations without regard for individual rights. This is, of course, peculiarly damaging to actors and actresses whose stock in trade is their popularity. However innocent they may be, they will find it hard to refute accusations which, for all that the committee has taken the trouble to determine, may amount to no more than vulgar gossip grounded in malice or misconception. Their careers may be ruined by slanders in respect of which they have no remedy. The spectacle of Hollywood writers and players denouncing their colleagues in an orgy of self-righteousness has been only slightly less degrading than the spectacle of a congressional committee fostering this brutal contempt for the elementary principles of fair play. As Mr. Ronald Reagan, president of the Screen Actors' Guild, remarked somewhat wistfully: "I hope that we never are prompted by fear or resentment of communism into compromising any of our democratic principles in order to fight it." Yet it is precisely to this sort of compromise that our current commiphobia is leading.

Films Told to Clean House

Responsibility for the elimination of Communist influences in Hollywood now rests entirely with the motion picture industry itself in the opinion of Representative Richard M. Nixon. Representative said without giving details.

Discussing the current hearings of the House Un-American Activities Committee, of which he is a member, the Republican Congressman from Whittier said yesterday:

"The hearings have established that the Communists constitute a small, extremely active and potentially dangerous element in the motion picture industry.

HOUSE CLEANING

"They must be watched but Hollywood must do its own house-cleaning. I believe we will see that house-cleaning in the next few months."

Nixon expressed agreement with Actors Robert Montgomery and Ronald Reagan that "Communism has not been successful in winning over any substantial proportion of the movie colony."

"But it has been successful," he said, "in a certain segment in Hollywood, notably in the Screen Writers Guild which has steadily followed the party line."

ANSWER

All persons and groups who have been labeled Communist or Communist sympathizers by witnesses will have an opportunity to testify themselves, Nixon stressed.

Recent developments in Europe, such as the setting up again of the Comintern, make it likely that his committee will recommend certain anti-Rail legislation to Congress, the Producers meet with Studio Guild heads over Red policy

Hollywood producers and the actors, writers and directors who make the pictures for the bosses, got together last night to talk over this business of subversiveness in films.

The meeting, held at MGM studio, was for the purpose of giving the creative workers of the industry a first-hand idea of the Red policy adopted at the producers' recent New York conference.

That conference resulted in the dismissal of a number of writers and directors cited for contempt of Congress when they refused to answer the Senate Un-Americanism Committee's question whether they were Communists.

Last night a five-man producers' policy committee explained to seventy-odd representatives of the Actors, Writers and Directors Guilds that in taking such action they had feared they might create a wave of fear in the studio ranks.

There was no cause for such a feeling among the workers, said the committee, and the Guild representatives were asked to assure their membership that no Hollywood witch-hunt impended.

The meeting was presided over by Louis B. Mayer, with Joseph M. Schenck, Dore Schary, Henry Ginsberg and Walter Wanger as the four other members of the committee.

Ronald Reagan, president of the Actors' Guild; Sheridan Gibney, president of the Writers' Guild, and George Stevens, president of the Directors' Guild, headed the union delegations.

Parade of Stars Continues Today In Movie Probe

Witnesses Include
Cooper, Montgomery,
Reagan and Murphy

The House Committee on Un-American Activities today co-starred Gary Cooper, Ronald Reagan, Robert Montgomery and George Murphy as its investigation of Communist infiltration in the movie capital entered the fourth day.

Mr. Reagan, sandy-haired president of the Screen Actors' Guild, was expected to open the performance. Mr. Reagan's efforts to settle the prolonged Hollywood jurisdictional strike were described to the committee earlier in the week by Adolphe Menjou.

Several screen writers also were scheduled to take the witness stand today. They included Oliver Carlson, Richard Macaulay, Fred Nible Jr., and Ayn Rand.

Large Crowds Expected.

The all-star cast was expected to attract even larger crowds than yesterday, when police struggled to hold back hundreds of spectators trying in vain to gain admittance to the packed caucus room of the old House Office Building. Even Chairman Thomas had trouble getting through the crowds into the committee room. He asked for additional police to handle the crowd today.

Stellar attraction yesterday was Robert Taylor, who drew prolonged applause from the audience when he said if he had his way all Communists in Hollywood would "be sent back to Russia or some other unpleasant place."

In other developments yesterday afternoon:

1. Mr. Thomas emerged from a between-hearings executive session to announce that a secret witness would appear Monday to present evidence of espionage involving the Communists. He promised further amplification of a charge made to the committee that confidential information on an Army supersonic plane fell into the hands of the Communist Party via a Hollywood literary agent.

2. Screen Writer Morrie Ryskind, who collaborated on the Pulitzer prize-winning "Of Thee I Sing," testified that the Screen Writers Guild is now "completely controlled by Communists."

Ronald Reagan-3851

Two Called "Sacred Cows."

3. Howard Rushmore, former Communist Party card-holder and now a New York newspaperman, described Cha. Chaplin and Edward G. Robinson as "sacred Red cows" of the Daily Worker, who always were given "favorable publicity and a lot of it" in the Communist newspaper.

Paul V. McNutt, special counsel for the Motion Picture Association and the Association of Motion Picture Producers, amplified his view about the committee hearings last night in a radio talk here.

The rights of the press and radio are jeopardized if the "screen's rights of free speech are trampled on," he declared.

"It doesn't require a law to cripple the right of free speech," he said. "Intimidation and coercion will do it. Fear will do it. The motion picture industry cannot be a free medium of expression if it must live in fear of the damning epithet 'un-American' whenever it elects to introduce a new idea, produce a picture critical of the status quo, or point up through a picture some phase of our way of life which needs improving."

Proof of Subversion Denied.

Mr. McNutt said testimony at the current hearings has not produced "one shred of evidence" that the motion picture industry puts subversive propaganda on the screen.

Hollywood, he said, has some Communists who have tried to control labor unions and talent guilds.

"Hollywood is neither unique nor original in these respects," he added. "Communists operate in many communities and many industries and labor organizations and should be exposed."

The president and Board of Directors of the Screen Directors' Guild announced in Culver City, Calif., they are telegraphing House Speaker Martin and Chairman Thomas denying testimony of Producer Sam Wood last Monday. Mr. Wood told the committee that Communists tried to control the guild and that John Cromwell, a director, "tried to steer the guild into the Red river."

Among signers of the telegram were George Stevens, guild president; John Ford, William Wyler, King Vidor and Billy Wilder.

Hughes' Statement Challenged.

Many other denials or comments came from Hollywood today. Producer Sol Lesser said he was not intimidated by distributing an anti-Russian documentary film about 10 years ago. He said Author Rupert Hughes was mistaken in telling the committee Tuesday that the picture "The Truth About Russia" had encountered difficulties.

A group of Hollywood personages including Eddie Cantor, Henry Fonda, Benny Goodman, Myrna Loy, Gregory Peck and others termed themselves "The Committee for the First Amendment" and published an advertisement in screen trade publications. They declared they were "disgusted and outraged" by the Washington hearing which they described as "an attempt to curb freedom of expression and to set arbitrary standards of Americanism."

Mr. Taylor began his testimony yesterday by observing he had noticed an increase in Communist activity in the movie industry in the past four or five years. He had seen movie scripts, he said, "that appeared to me slightly on the inside."

"Are there any elements in the Screen Actors' Guild that you consider follow the Communist Party line?" he was asked.

Acted Like Communists.

He replied that at general meetings of the guild he had seen actors who, if they're not Communists, work awfully hard at being one. He named Actor Howard D. Silva and Karen Morley, the screen actress, as two who "seem to disrupt things."

His much-discussed appearance in "Song of Russia" was injected into the questioning when he was asked if he had ever appeared in a picture which he considered Communist propaganda.

He responded that he "objected strenuously" to appearing in "Song of Russia." He said he thought it contained Communist propaganda, although some of his friends didn't agree with him. He said he objected the original script and was as-

There was no indication when minutes Chairman Charles Luckman would announce a final decision either.

Appeals for Support

He appealed, meanwhile, for the support of every American in the campaign to save 100,000,000 bushels of grain for Western Europe.

In a Nation-wide broadcast yesterday to the Mayors of cities all over the country, asking them to set up local conservation committees, Mr. Luckman declared:

"The people of Western Europe face a winter of want and hunger which it is almost impossible for most Americans to visualize. . . . The people of key countries of Western Europe are in desperate need of wheat for bread to take them through this coming winter."

That wheat can come only if American agriculture, industry and the consumers generally give their "full co-operation" to the drive, he said.

As he made that appeal, the food drive chairman was confronted by a new demand from the distillery workers to consider postponement of the liquor making holiday, designed to save from 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 bushels of grain.

His aides said that while Mr.

sured the propaganda would be eliminated. A "great many things" were eliminated, he added.

"Do you know if the picture was made at the suggestion of a Government representative?" Committee Investigator Robert E. Stripling asked the actor.

"No, I don't think so," Mr. Taylor answered. "I think the script was prepared before the Government became involved."

Picture Discussed Briefly

After the committee he met with Bennett one day in the office of John B. Mayer, head of M-G-M. Bennett, now a Star columnist, was then chief of the Bureau of Motion Pictures of the Office of War Information.

The picture, he said, was discussed briefly and he gathered that the Government was interested in that film as well as other pictures being made to strengthen the feeling of the American people toward their ally.

Then Mr. Taylor added:

"If I ever gave the impression that I was forced into making 'Song of Russia,' I'd like to say in my own defense and in case I would look silly that I wasn't forced because an actor can't be forced to make any picture. I objected but I made the picture."

Later, Mr. Taylor told the committee he would refuse to work in any picture with a Communist or any one whom he suspected of being Communist.

"Life is too short," he observed, "to be annoyed by people who annoy me as much as they do."

Lester Cole Mentioned

In answer to a request that he name writers he considered to be Communists, Mr. Taylor said Lester Cole was reputedly a Communist but "I wouldn't know personally."

At that point, Robert E. Stripling suggested that the Communists send out more Communist writers to Hollywood and "room could be made for them."

The party line, Mr. Rushmore said, was that the movie stars are "99 per cent political morons" and their only use to the party was their bank accounts.

He said he heard Mr. Lawson mention Actor Lionel Stander as "a perfect example of how a Communist shouldn't act in Hollywood."

Garfield Refused Money

He also recalled hearing Joe North, editor of the New Masses at the time, complain that Actor John Garfield had refused to give him any money and "Joe said that's what happens to the comrades when they go to Hollywood."

After calling Actors Chaplin and Robinson "sacred Red cows," Mr. Rushmore said of Mr. Robinson:

"I don't know if Robinson is a Communist, but 10 years or more ago he started joining one Communist front after another and he's still doing it."

Mr. Kenny, counsel for 19 so-called hostile witnesses, heard his own name mentioned by Mr. Rushmore. In listing sponsors of a recent meeting of the American Committee for the Protection of the Foreign Born, which he called Communist, Mr. Rushmore included Mr. Kenny, Writer Albert Maltz, Mr. De Sylva and Herbert K. Sorrell, Head of the Conference of Studio Unions.

Mr. Ryskind devoted most of his satirical testimony to showing how a man who considers himself a liberal is led into Communist-front organizations and into contributing to the Communists.

Ryskind said that under any or-obtaining money under false pretenses, everyone cheers.

But if a Communist raises money and doesn't deliver it to the pur-

"civil rights."

"If you complain about it when a Communist is involved," Ryskind declared, "The Daily Worker and Senator Pepper will howl that you are interfering with civil liberties."

Ryskind said he had been a member of the Screen Writers' Guild and was for some time on its board of directors.

"Under the present leadership of Emmett Lavery," Ryskind declared, "I would say the Screen Writers' Guild is completely under

Ryskind said that with the ex-

Communist writers in Hollywood are under orders from Moscow not only to glorify Russia but "to distort the American way of life."

He named a number of writers as Communists and declared his to feel that they will go along with anyone who prefers the American system," Taylor said.

They brought the audience up cheering with cries of "Hurrah for Robert Taylor."

A few minutes later the screen star touched off another demonstration when he called for the outlawing of the Communist Party and added:

"If I had my way about the Communists they'd all be sent back to Russia or some other unpleasant place."

Thomas rapped for order and cautioned the audience against demonstrations.

Actor and Actress Named

Earlier, Taylor named actress Karen Morley and actor Howard De Silva as "disruptive influences" within the Screen Actor's Guild.

"Does any element in the Screen Actors Guild follow the Communist Party line?" Taylor was asked.

"Yes, sir, I must confess that I have seen this. I am a member of the board of directors and it seems that at general membership meetings some persons act in such a way as to indicate that if they are not Communists they are working awfully hard to be ones."

"Do they have a disruptive influence?"

"It seems so to me. On issues in which there is considerable agreement certain persons start seeming not to understand. They ask questions, raise points of order, and so forth and keep the meetings running until 1 or 2 in the morning."

It was then that Taylor said that Howard De Silva and Karen Morley always seemed to be in that group.

Script Writer Named

The screen star said he had never knowingly played on a set

Patti standing with her mother outside the House Office Building and asked Taylor to pose with her.

Patti and her mother, Mrs. William Borgiasz, are in Washington visiting Patti's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Janson, 3888 Porter st. nw.

Taylor was followed to the stand by Morris Ryskind, co-author with George S. Kaufman of the Pulitzer prize winning "Of Thee I Sing."

"You'd have to be deaf, dumb and blind" not to know there are Communists in Hollywood, Ryskind said.

"And even then," he quipped, "if you used your nose you'd know the odor was still there."

Ryskind attacked the Communists for obtaining money under false pretenses.

He told of giving money for the defense of the Scottsboro boys some years ago, because as a liberal he feared "the colored boys were not getting a square deal."

Later, Ryskind said, he learned that a good part of the money collected for the defense of the Scottsboro defendants went to the Daily Worker, Communist Party publication instead.

His information came, he said, from Morris Ernst, New York attorney, and Roger Baldwin of the American Civil Liberties Union.

On another occasion, he told the committee, he raised several hundred dollars for the defense of Tom Mooney and turned it over to a group, apparently authorized to collect.

But Mooney's attorney told him, he said, "My God! You've just given that money to the Communists. They don't really want to get Mooney out of jail. They want to keep him in."

(The Scottsboro and Tom Mooney cases were used for years by the Communists for agitational purposes.)

ample of how the Communist Party operated in Bulgaria, Korea and other countries he did not see how it was possible to regard Communists as anything but "quislings."

Communists should be dealt with as quislings, Ryskind insisted, and added that the Bill of Rights was never designed to protect such quislings.

Ryskind said he regards his next-door neighbor, Gordon Kahn, editor of the Screen Writers' Guild paper, as a Communist.

"We don't talk," he chuckled. "But he's kind to my children and I am kind to his, and our dogs are very good friends."

"This will not increase our neighborly relations, but that's my opinion."

Under questioning he said that if Scenarist Lester Cole "is not a Communist I'll deny that Mahatma Ghandi is an Indian."

Ryskind detailed the long series of name changes adopted for one of the prime "commie" fronts which started in Hollywood as the "League Against War and Fascism."

"I don't know what it is now," he quipped, "It's probably the League to Get America Out of Greece and Henry Wallace Into the White House."

First witness of the day was James K. McGuinness, vice president of M.G.M. The 52-year-old screen executive, who was born in Ireland, pulled no punches as he slammed away at Hollywood Communists.

Whether they know it or not, he declared, they are agents of a foreign power.

If Congress determines that the Communist Party in this country is the agent of a foreign government, McGuinness said, Congress should recognize it as such and outlaw it.

For his part, declared the anti-Communist pictures.

He said he thought more such pictures would soon reach the screen.

This line of questioning was vehemently objected to by Paul V. McNutt, counsel for the Motion Picture Association of America.

"It became apparent, during the chairman's questioning of McGuinness," McNutt complained, "that the purpose was to try to dictate and control, through the device of the hearings, what goes on the screens of America."

"This is no concern of any congressional committee. It is the concern of those who produce motion pictures."

"You don't need a law to impair the constitutional rights of free speech. It can be done by intimidation and coercion. That is the way of totalitarian regimes which we all hate."

However, Rushmore of the New York Journal American, who broke

The wire protested foreign policies "which are sowing the seeds of a third world war."

The committee was established "to investigate, assemble and publicize the true facts" in regard to affairs in Asia, an official announcement from David Sarvis, executive director, said.

THESE DAYS

By George Sokolsky

THE aftermath of the war has produced a struggle among various types of socialism. But these doctrinal quarrels are merely schismatic.

It matters little, in the long run, whether socialism is accomplished by the totalitarian methods of the Bolsheviks as practiced by Stalin or by the go-slow Fabian methods of Cripps as employed in England.

The Marxism of Tito is of the same brand as the Marxism of Stalin; their differences are in the realm of human ambition. It is interesting that in the United States, opportunists are already leaping on the Tito bandwagon, as they piled on the Stalinist bandwagon when to be a fellow traveller was advantageous and profitable.

IN the United States, the principal vehicle for go-slow socialism is the A.D.A., a new, but effective organization, which is already represented in Congress, in the Administration and in various State governments. The following are the officers of the A.D.A.:

Hubert H. Humphrey, acting national chairman; Joseph H. Rauh, chairman, executive committee; Paul A. Porter, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., George Edwards, Hugo Ernst, Emil Rieve, vice chairmen; Louis H. Harris, treasurer; David Ginsburg, secretary, national board; Ethel S. Epstein, national finance chairman; James Loeb Jr., national executive secretary.

National board: William Batt Jr., Chester Bowles, Harvey W. Brown, L. S. Buckmaster, James B. Carey, David Dubinsky, Arthur Elder, Frank P. Graham, Lester B. Granger, John Green, Allan Maywood.

Also Leon Henderson, Sal B. Hoffman, James S. Killen, Herbert H. Lehman, Howard Lindsay, Frank W. McCulloch, B. F. McLaurin, Reinhold Niebuhr, Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, Ronald Reagan, Walter F. Reuther, Rt. Rev. William Scarlett, Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., Boris Shishkin, Lillian Smith, Monroe Sweetland, Samuel Wolchok, Wilson W. Wyatt, Max Yaritsky.

THE A.D.A. does not run as a political party. That would, of course, expose them. They invade both the major parties, seeking strength and converts where they can.

They are now violently anti-Communist, but many of their adherents were among the most active fellow-travellers when the Communists were part of the New Deal apparatus.

Lacking political integrity and responsibility, they float along on other men's political activities, gaining strength where they can and deserting a cause and a group when the advantages of association are no longer available.

MANY of the A.D.A. leaders have built reputations for themselves as liberals, often utilizing the Communist apparatus to achieve a success. Now that the Communists have a bad name and a bad press, these men and women have turned on them. Their defense is that what is true today was not true in 1938 or 1934.

That, of course, is nonsense. Karl Marx began to write in 1842, the Communist Manifesto was published in 1848; "Das Kapital" in 1867. The Bolshevik group was organized in 1903.

The Russian revolution occurred in 1917; the Third International was organized in 1919. The line of Socialist conquest has been clear, decisive, and unmistakable. Only cowards use alibis.

The A.D.A. are a greater menace to the United States than the Communists, for they masquerade as gentle folk who wish to do good, while, in reality, they are Socialists. Karl Marx abhorred the type. He called them "bourgeois Socialists." He described them thus:

"The socialistic bourgeois want all the advantages of modern social conditions without the struggles and dangers necessarily resulting therefrom. They desire the existing state of society minus its revolutionary and disintegrating elements."

"They wish for a bourgeoisie without a proletariat. The bourgeoisie naturally conceives the world in which it is supreme to be the best; and bourgeois socialism develops this comfortable conception into various more or less complete systems.

"In requiring the proletariat to carry out such a system, and thereby to march straightway into the social New Jerusalem, it but requires in reality that the proletariat should remain within the bounds of existing society, but should cast away all its hateful ideas concerning the bourgeoisie."

This is the A.D.A. It wants socialism without revolution—a pleasant, easy-going socialism, something nice, like an intellectual jam session in Park avenue.

THE SHARON STATEMENT

Adopted by the Young Americans for Freedom in conference at Sharon, Conn., September 9-11, 1960

In This Time of moral and political crisis, it is the responsibility of the youth of America to affirm certain eternal truths.

We as young conservatives, believe:

That foremost among the transcendent values is the individual's use of his God-given free will, whence derives his right to be free from the restrictions of arbitrary force;

That liberty is indivisible, and that political freedom cannot long exist without economic freedom;

That the purposes of government are to protect these freedoms through the preservation of internal order, the provision of national defense, and the administration of justice;

That when government ventures beyond these rightful functions, it accumulates power which tends to diminish order and liberty;

That the Constitution of the United States is the best arrangement yet devised for empowering government to fulfill its proper role, while restraining it from the concentration and abuse of power;

That the genius of the Constitution—the division of powers—is summed up in the clause which reserves primacy to the several states, or to the people, in those spheres not specifically delegated to the Federal Government;

That the market economy, allocating resources by the free play of supply and demand, is the single economic system compatible with the requirements of personal freedom and constitutional government, and that it is at the same time the most productive supplier of human needs;

That when government interferes with the work of the market economy, it tends to reduce the moral and physical strength of the nation; that when it takes from one man to bestow on another, it diminishes the incentive of the first, the integrity of the second, and the moral autonomy of both;

That we will be free only so long as the national sovereignty of the United States is secure; that history shows periods of freedom are rare, and can exist only when free citizens concertedly defend their rights against all enemies;

That the forces of international Communism are, at present, the greatest single threat to these liberties;

That the United States should stress victory over, rather than coexistence with, this menace; and

That American foreign policy must be judged by this criterion: does it serve the just interests of the United States?

Conventions, Rallies, and Motorcades Spark YAF

Activity Across The Nation

Michigan College YRs Elect YAF Member

Detroit's Sheraton Cadillac Hotel was the site of the 5th Annual Convention of the Michigan College Republicans over the weekend of February 28-29. Some 475 delegates from 31 campuses elected an outspoken Goldwater Conservative to the Chairmanship, Dale Warner of the University of Michigan Law School.

Warner, a member of Young Americans for Freedom, won handily over his two opponents, James Broad of the University of Detroit and James DeFrancis of Albion College, both avid supporters of the junior Senator from Arizona and both members of YAF.

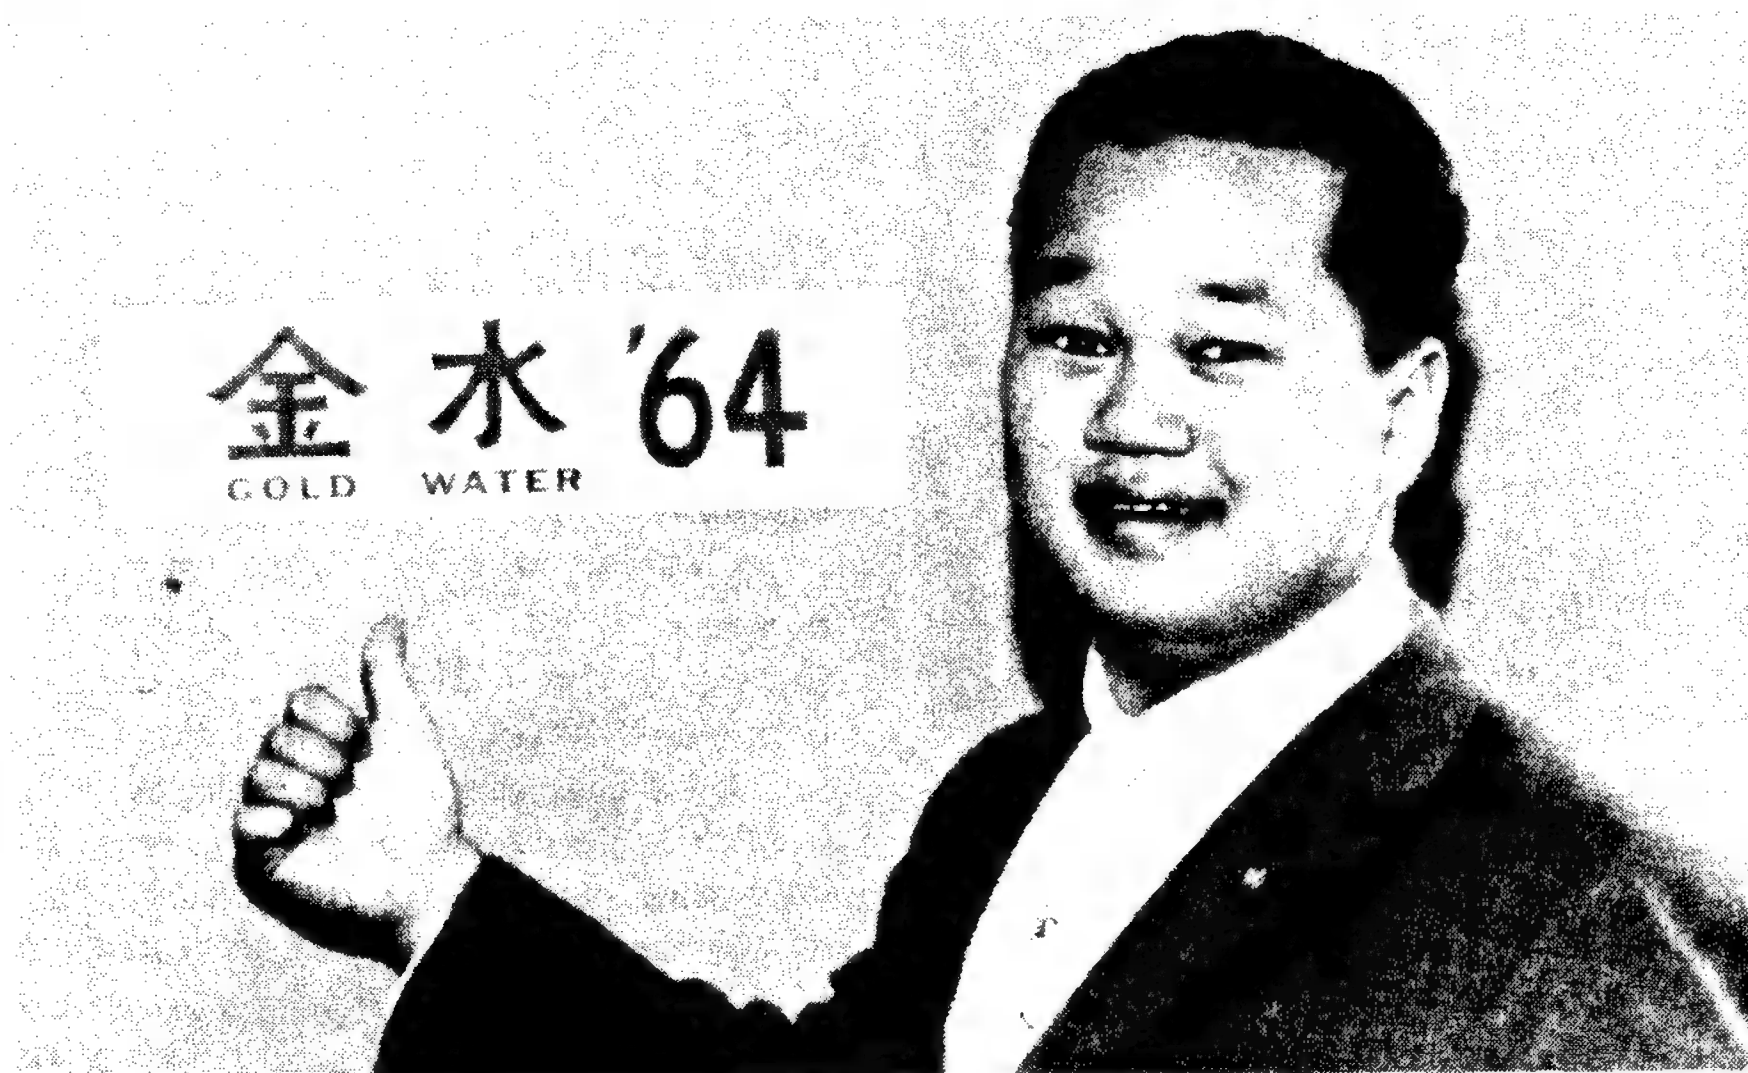

The convention not only proved, again, that among College Republicans Barry Goldwater is the man to back, but also that the Conservative movement is making inroads, for this was the largest state college political convention ever held in the United States.

North Carolina YAF Holds State Convention

North Carolina YAF recently held their first Annual State Convention at the King Cotton Hotel in Greensboro. John R. Patton of Winston-Salem was elected State Chairman. The keynote address was given by National Chairman Bob Bauman.

Less than one week later John and the entire State YAF organization actively worked in and helped organize a giant Goldwater rally of more than 4,000 Carolinians. On the same day the State GOP Convention elected 24 delegates pledged to Senator Goldwater for the July Convention in San Francisco. YAF members were very instrumental in turning out huge crowds of young people to greet the Senator at the airport, along the motorcade, and at the rally.

Plans are in progress to defeat NSA

"There's more than one way to symbolize Goldwater," says Alvin Hirano, Membership Chairman of Honolulu YAF. The local YAF Chapter way out there in the middle of the Pacific is distributing the new-style bumper stickers, whose characters symbolize the concepts of gold and water, as do the now-familiar chemical symbols AuH₂O. Hirano said that the local YAF chapter will airmail the bumper stickers anywhere in the U. S. for 25¢ apiece, or five for $1.00. The address of the Honolulu Chapter is P.O. Box 1199, Honolulu, Hawaii.

when that issue comes up at several North Carolina Colleges. Carolina YAF has scheduled to bring in NSA-expert and National YAF Vice Chairman Tom Huston.

Dullenty Tours West

Rocky Mountain Regional Chairman Jim Dullenty is undertaking an extensive trip throughout his region during the month of March—meeting with YAF State Chairmen, Chapter Chairmen, and YAF members. Jim is now sending every YAF chapter in his region a lengthy memo about YAF activities throughout the region. He has scheduled a Regional Conference in Helena, Montana for April 4. National Chairman Bob Bauman is scheduled to speak. Meanwhile, Jim has just finished staging an exhaustive tour of speaking engagements by Barry Goldwater, Jr. and Fulton Lewis, III. Barry, Jr. was a huge success at Montana State University and Montana State College. Nearly 700 persons jammed the auditorium in Missoula on the MSU campus to hear the young, goodlooking Goldwater. Over 500 heard him in Bozeman, and another 450 at a Lincoln Day Dinner that night. Buddy Lewis made five major appearances, four half hour TV programs, 10 radio programs, and about 10 minor appearances. All in all he covered over 1,000 miles in just three days.

The Montana YAF Newsletter now reaches 10,000 Montanans every month!

Greater Chicago Expanding Fast

Greater Chicago YAF is growing at a tremendous rate. And it just may turn out to be the most dynamic conservative organization in the mid-west. At a recent March meeting YAF members saw themselves on film giving Barry Goldwater an enthusiastic and prolonged welcome during his recent visit to the Windy City. GCYAF is now operating branch chapters for those members who live too far outside Chicago to attend regular meetings. Plans are now in the works for a full-time office in Chicago; a new fund raising campaign; and, most importantly, a mammoth membership drive throughout the city. Chicago YAF member, Maurice Coburn, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Auditor.

Richmond YAF

Richmond County YAF of Georgia has been performing excellently during the past few months, and may become the spearheading movement for young conservatives in the Peach State.

It has organized a new YAF chapter at Langford Junior High, where the principal, J. T. Hains, has enthusiastically endorsed YAF. The YAF film "A Generation Awakes" will be shown to the students at their next meeting.

Richmond County YAF has been meeting regularly in Augusta, holding monthly rallies with prominent conservative speakers. YAF members are busily at work on a future publication, finances, and membership. Richmond YAF sponsored a showing of the anti-socialist film, "The Welfare State" in several high school history classes. The film features YAF Advisory Board member Ronald Reagan, and concerns "the great threat to the American people by the federal government's assumption of unconstitutional powers."

Lewistown YAF Hits Wheat Sale

In Lewistown, Montana YAF members unanimously passed a resolution condemning the sale of U.S. wheat to the Soviet Union, terming it an "un-Christian and immoral act." The resolution read in part:

"Whereas, there are starving nations in the world which still live under free governments and which need American wheat badly,

"Whereas, the governments of Russia and Eastern Europe are Communist ruled, and have never had any regard for the welfare of their people, but will use the wheat to more strongly enforce their rule,

"Whereas, American taxpayers, because of subsidy laws, will end up subsidizing the sale of wheat to the communists,

"And whereas, this sale will help the forces of international communism subvert other nations of the world by providing them with export wheat,

"We, Young Americans for Freedom, believe our national policy should be one of victory over Communism and we therefore oppose the sale of wheat or any commodity or material to Communists countries."

Ronald Reagan-3683

Baltimore Bustles With Activity

Baltimore YAF Chapter Chairman Randy Grindle reports a very busy February with March looking twice as hectic. Their activities run something like this: Debate at Goucher College before 250 students on topic of the abolition of HUAC. Feb. 7—Buddy Lewis speaks to Johns Hopkins students on "Bankruptcy of American Liberalism." Feb. 13—Regular monthly meeting features film "Crisis for Americans." Feb. 20—Chairman Grindle debates 7 Liberals single-handedly on topic of American Aid before high school student seminar. Grindle paries, thrusts, and wins the debate by four lengths. March 10—Dr. Gottfried Dietze speaks at monthly meeting on topic of "Property, The Foundation of Human Rights." Socialist revolutionaries from Goucher and Johns Hopkins colleges are disturbed at growing conservative sentiment among students. CORE, SNCC, NSM, and SPU are becoming frightened. Six Great Decisions groups have been infiltrated by YAF members, publication of comprehensive conservative reading list is being planned, and a debate on the U.N. is scheduled.

Stephen Soule, member of Phillips Exeter Academy YAF and co-chairman of the Academy's Youth for Goldwater Chapter, speaking to Sen. Goldwater during his recent visit to Exeter, N. H.

On Wisconsin!

You'll be hearing a whole lot more about Wisconsin YAF in the next few months. The state is being organized under recently appointed State Chairman Alfred Regnery and Vice Chairman John Savage. Grover Cleveland YAF in Milwaukee has been meeting frequently and has gained many new members in the past few months. Chapters are now being formed in five other areas of the state, including Beloit, Stevens Point, and Madison. The yet unofficial Beloit Chapter started off the year organizing an NSA referendum, resulting in another loss for NSA by a nearly 2-1 margin.

Handwriting on the Wall

An editorial in The Parthenon, the university newspaper at Marshall University in West Virginia, called attention to the work of some vandals who defaced the University's student union building by painting on its walls, "Young Americans for Freedom - Communist Front Organization," along with a hammer and sickle, and "YAF-USSR." The editorial stated: "The fact remains that some of us are being rather childish. When we disapprove, we, like children with a new box of crayons, rush to the nearest wall and work our vengeance in words and pictures. Unlike children, however, we lack a disciplinary influence to force us to correct our error. And more pathetic, we lack backbone of our own which should either restrain us from such actions or prompt us to accept our punishment."

Tennessee YAF Stocks Library

Tennessee YAF in association with the Hayes Memorial Cumberland Presbyterian Church of Chattanooga has begun the stocking of a Freedom Library. Named the George Burnham Memorial Library of Freedom, the library is to be a monument to one of the outstanding patriots of Chattanooga. Burnham, who worked as a reporter and columnist for the Chattanooga News-Free Press, published a newsletter attacking the leftist slant of school textbooks, and was among the first in the country to expose the Great Decisions study materials as pro-communist. His "Open Letter to Americans" went to every State and many foreign countries. Also, one of his regular activities was buying several thousand copies of J. Edgar Hoover's Master's of Deceit, giving a free copy to every high school graduate. Tennessee YAF State Chairman Jon Mack stated: "George Burnham was a fighter—a fighter for God and for Truth and for Freedom. It is very significant that we have chosen another weapon in this fight to stand as a monument to a great man."

Donations to this fund are tax deductible. Make checks payable to Hayes Memorial Cumberland Presbyterian Church, 507 Carolina Avenue, Signal Mountain, Tennessee.

Arlington Reaches New Heights

Northwest Suburban YAF in Arlington Heights, Illinois was principally organized late last fall for the high school students of Chicago's northwest suburbs. It is now actively working on a giant membership drive and arranging for several conservative speakers for the coming months. Officers of the chapter are: Chairman, Bob Roth; Vice Chairman, Randy Blaisdell; Treasurer, Rick Hula; Recording Secretary, Harley Gates; and Corresponding Secretary, Tina Hunter. Their most successful project to date was the Chicago welcome for Sen. Goldwater at O'Hare International Airport in February.

Alabama Holds State Convention

Alabama YAF held its first State Convention recently on Howard College campus in Birmingham. The state's three chartered chapters, Spring Hill, Auburn, and Vulcan Chapter of Howard College were represented as well as the University of Alabama Conservatives Club. After a welcome by the Vulcan Chapter advisor, Dr.

Left to Right—Randal Teague, Dr. Jean M. Dunbar, Judy Whorton, Dr. Leslie Wright, and Jamer M. Graham III.

Jean M. Dunbar, State Chairman Judy Whorton conducted nominations and elections. The results were: Ed Rose, Executive Secretary; Ray Ledbetter, Vice Chairman; and Lewis Callaway, Treasurer.

Later in the evening YAF members met at a banquet at which Dr. Leslie S. Wright, President of Howard College, spoke.

West Virginia YAF has begun a state-wide speaking tour, headed by State Chairman John L. Jones. At

Montana YAF Hits Wheat Deal

Always prepared to go into instant action, Montana YAF under the chairmanship of Rocky Mountain Chairman, Jim Dullenty, swung into action in immediate response to National YAF's Hot Line on the Administration's Wheat Deal with the Soviets in the cold, cutting light of the recent murder of three American pilots over East Germany.

Dullenty activated his chapters with telegrams going to President Johnson, all Montana U.S. Senators and Congressmen.

In his telegram to the President, Dullenty asked that the Johnson Administration end its policy of trade with the Communists and adopt instead a "hard line" aimed at winning eventual victory over the Reds.

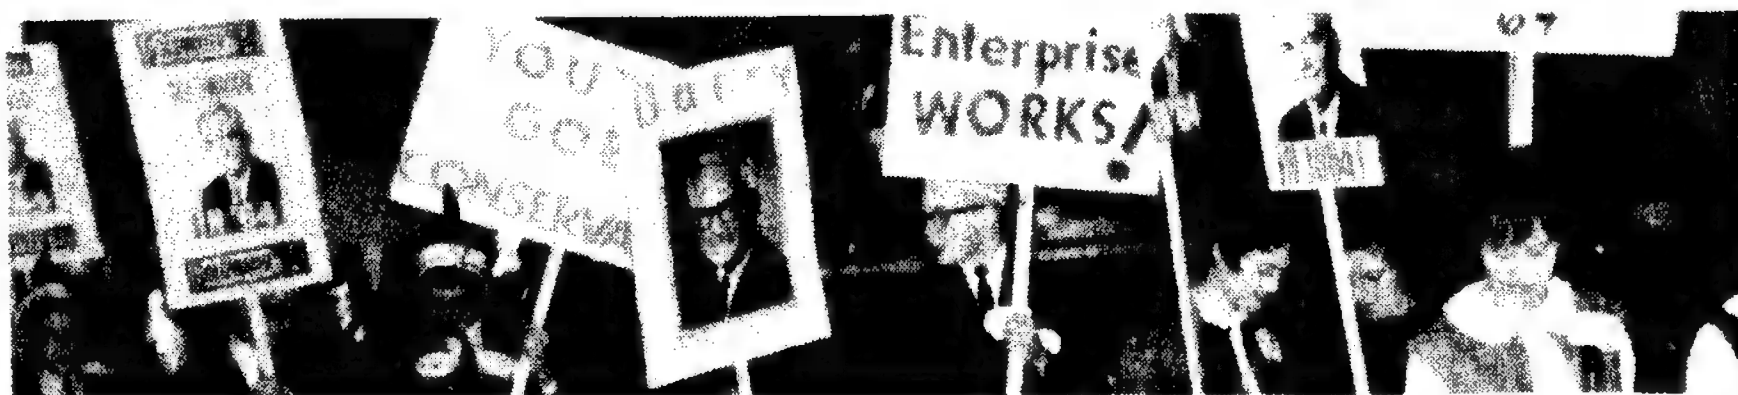

Dullenty, who is also national co-chairman of the Committee to Combat Aid to Communism, a group formed last summer to oppose the sale of wheat to Communist countries, said it "is clearly against the best interests of the United States for our government to aid the Russians while they murder our young men in cold blood. All the talk about 'co-existence' and 'easing of world tensions' will not erase the fact that President Johnson has the direct responsibility to uphold American interests first and to do that he must now stop the wheat deal."

Montana YAF is bringing Barry Goldwater, Jr. to the Montana State University campus, and is sponsoring a tour by Fulton Lewis III in Montana, February 26, 27 and 28.

Barry Backers Beaming

More and more as the months progress YAF members have been and will be participating in Mock Political Conventions throughout the country. Recently, a Republican Mock National Convention held in Davenport, Iowa, nominated Senator Barry Goldwater on the second ballot with 809 votes.

Sponsored by the Scott County (Iowa) YRs, every state in the Midwest was represented by a delegation, and all major candidates, announced and unannounced, were represented. It was evident as soon as the delegates started arriving Friday night at the Hotel Blackhawk that the choice of the individuals participating was Barry Goldwater.

U.S. Senator James Pearson of Kansas gave the keynote address, following which came the nomination for Mr. Conservative. A massive and enthusiastic demonstration broke loose with a barrage of signs, hats, banners, buttons and bunting literally charging into convention hall.

The demonstrations for Nixon,

Rocky, and Romney were small and lackluster, with the same people providing each demonstration. Senator Goldwater was contacted on the phone and expressed his gratitude to the 800 delegates at the convention. He concluded, "I can recall no time in the history of our country when an election depended so much on the integrity of our young people."

Ron Zobel, Iowa State Chairman, reported that YAF members were very active in organizing the support shown for Barry, and that many people attending the Mock Convention who had not known about YAF "showed great interest in an organization designed to promote bi-partisan conservatism."

Indiana YAF Forms Citizens for B.G.

Fort Wayne-Allen County YAF of Indiana has just formed "Citizens for Goldwater."

"The general purposes of this organization," said David Walker, YAF President, "are to line up workers for Senator Goldwater in the primary, and to inform the public on the Goldwater conservative philosophy."

Thomas Baldwin, newly appointed committee chairman, issued the following statement, "The ultimate goal is to see to it that Indiana sends 30 delegates to the Republican National Convention, who are solidly pledged to Senator Goldwater. We cannot assure this from our work in Allen County alone. We must, however, do our part, and that is to work to insure all delegates to the State Republican Convention from Allen County are solidly for Senator Goldwater. Knowing that other YAF Chapters in all parts of the state are likewise working to send 'Goldwater delegates' to the State Convention, we strongly feel our ultimate goal can be realized."

Boston U. YAF Active on Campus

Boston University YAF, under President Richard Adair, has had a busy year thus far, and their future looks even busier. Starting off the year with a giant booth operated for one full week during registration, the officers of the chapter had an opportunity to talk to hundreds of students, as well as teachers. They have sponsored numerous student debates, shown films, debated on radio, and sponsored many guest lecturers. Thus far, B.U. YAF has sponsored lectures by Russell Kirk, William F. Buckley, Jr., and Brent Bosel. Most recently, they brought Fulton Lewis, III on campus. A new conservative campus publication is now planned.

Boom in California YAF

California YAF is burgeoning forth in activity almost as fast as the population of the state. Western Regional

Chairman Jack Cox has opened Regional offices, appointed George Burgess Assistant Regional Chairman, and conducted two YAF-sponsored ter of Young Americans for Freedom strongly recommends that our foreign policy must be one that we would deem desirable for other free dinners starring National Review publisher William A. Rusher, and is planning a three-day Western Regional Conference in San Francisco.

A YAF Research Bureau, Materials Supply Service, Library Service, and a monthly bulletin are also being planned. The Western Region shows great potential for YAF and it appears that California intends to lead the mainstream of young conservative activity.

Clearwater on Wheat

Clearwater YAF, that dynamic little chapter over there on the west coast of Florida, has recently reaffirmed its belief that trade with Communist countries is wrong. Their resolution read in part:

AND THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That the Clearwater Chap-nations to follow rather than one that leads to condemnation of our Free World allies for following our precedents.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That the Clearwater Chapter of Young Americans for Freedom reaffirms its belief that trade with Communist countries is unwise and contrary to a desirable national policy over communism.

In a lengthy letter to the editor of the Clearwater Sun, Clearwater YAF President William Neville said: "Is a free world alliance, that has lost its moorings, going to be guided by the moral leadership of a nation that was once moved by the words, 'that government of the people, by the people, for people shall not perish from the earth?' Is that too much for my generation to ask, until we can assume that leadership?"

it's too late to change!
You're political by trade.
You've decided that by talking it is the only way to make the grade.

You're Republican 'n the winter time;
part of the summer, too.
And the many, many times that you've helped the other side, is because you have such foggy, foggy views.
When you heard about Frisco you whined "sour grapes," went into a tirade.
You said that the extremists,
and all the racists, too,
were the reasons that you were betrayed.
Your boys, the aisles, they cluttered up.
Jammed all the microphones, too.
But the reason you were beaten when all is said and done is because you have such foggy, foggy views.

"LIVE FREE OR DIE"

YOUNG AMERICANS FOR FREEDOM

Objectives:

Young Americans for Freedom was founded to stimulate Conservative political education and action among the youth of our nation. To further this goal, local and state chapters of Y.A.F. are to be formed, to provide an organized, nationwide force of effective young Conservative leaders. Y.A.F. will promote the traditional American values of freedom, liberty, and the free-enterprise system. On the campus, it aims to combat the entrenched Liberalism of the academic world. In the community, it provides an active program of anti-Communism, opposition to Socialistic legislation, and promotion of Conservative principles and candidates in elections.

Past:

Since its formation in September of 1960, membership in National Y.A.F. has climbed to over 20,000, with 250 chapters across the country. It publishes its own monthly magazine, the NEW GUARD, has organized two National Awards Rallies for Conservatism, has testified before Congress, and has stimulated local Conservative political action. New Hampshire Y.A.F., organized in 1962, has already built several chapters in the state, publishes its own monthly newsletter, maintains a headquarters in Hanover, and has held many public meetings on both Conservative philosophy and political action.

Future:

National Y.A.F. will continue to grow to become an even more effective political force across the nation. In New Hampshire, N.H.Y.A.F. plans organization of local chapters on every college campus in the state by the end of 1964. We shall also build additional community chapters, work with other Conservative groups in the state, and stimulate Conservative action at the local level. We plan for expansion of our newsletter, presentation of Conservative speakers and programs, leadership and educational activities, and political action in upcoming elections. This ambitious program can succeed only with YOUR support. Our entire future depends upon YOU! Please fill out the attached coupon to support and join with us in our work.

SENATOR BARRY GOLDWATER:

"Young Americans for Freedom is serving a vital need in this country by providing a medium through which our young people can express their devotion to the sound principles of Constitutional Government and individual freedom."

Young Americans For Freedom was founded at a conference in Sharon, Connecticut on September 9-11, 1960.

The purposes of the organization are expressed in the Sharon Statement, which was adopted at the conference.

THE SHARON STATEMENT

IN THIS TIME of moral and political crisis, it is the responsibility of the youth of America to affirm certain eternal truths.

We, as young conservatives, believe:

That foremost among the transcendent values is the individual's use of his God-given free will, whence derives his right to be free from the restrictions of arbitrary force;

That liberty is indivisible, and that political freedom cannot long exist without economic freedom;

That the purposes of government are to protect these freedoms through the preservation of internal order, the provision of national defense, and the administration of justice;

That when government ventures beyond these rightful functions, it accumulates power which tends to diminish order and liberty;

That the Constitution of the United States is the best arrangement yet devised for empowering government to fulfill its proper role, while restraining it from the concentration and abuse of power;

That the genius of the Constitution — the division of powers — is summed up in the clause which reserves primacy to the several states, or to the people, in those spheres not specifically delegated to the Federal Government;

That the market economy, allocating resources by the free play of supply and demand, is the single economic system compatible with the requirements of personal freedom and constitutional government, and that it is at the same time the most productive supplier of human needs;

That when government interferes with the work of the market economy, it tends to reduce the moral and physical strength of the nation; that when it takes from one man to bestow on another, it diminishes the incentive of the first, the integrity of the second, and the moral autonomy of both;

That we will be free only so long as the national sovereignty of the United States is secure; that history shows periods of freedom are rare, and can exist only when free citizens concertedly defend their rights against all enemies;

That the forces of international Communism are, at present, the greatest single threat to these liberties;

That the United States should stress victory over, rather than coexistence with, this menace; and

That American foreign policy must be judged by this criterion: does it serve the just interests of the United States?

The future of the young conservative movement depends in a large part on Young Americans for Freedom."

Young Americans for Freedom

*This

and all young Americans who want to know: What can I do to help preserve freedom for my country, and extend freedom to peoples everywhere?

Freedom has been prized throughout history as the ultimate political goal. But history also shows that periods of true freedom are rare, and usually short-lived. Those of us who are privileged to be Americans cannot depend upon perpetuation of U.S. freedom unless we are willing to defend it against all onslaughts—domestic and foreign.

Young Americans for Freedom was born because enough young men and women cared about the future of their nation to work for a common aim—freedom, balanced by a government of just law.

Despite three decades of growing centralization of power, accompanied by the disintegration of local and individual rights; America's steady retreat in the face of Communist determination to dominate the world; and a decline in patriotism and moral standards, these young people rediscovered Constitutional principles of government and the natural rights of man.

And they are determined to restore those principles!

Since the founding meeting at Sharon, Connecticut in September, 1960, the organization has grown from a handful to tens of thousands of members on college campuses and in communities in nearly every state. High school students have also joined YAF in increasing numbers, forming a vanguard of young people with a purpose.

YAF's credo is the Sharon Statement (opposite page) which concisely restates authentic Constitutional principles. While strongly conservative, YAF's credo is broad enough to include young people of both political parties, and of varying philosophical emphases.

The watchword of YAF is action! Believing that the need is imperative, YAF members are working now on all levels of political endeavor for a free America and a stronger free world!

Join with us today!

Young Americans for Freedom

The Nation's Leading Conservative Organization for Young Americans

Each YAF member receives

THE NEW GUARD—Each YAF member receives the official magazine of Young Americans for Freedom, the NEW GUARD. The NEW GUARD is staffed and written by leading young conservative authors and carries stimulating articles on politics, philosophy, and news of the young conservative movement. News of activities by YAF chapters is a monthly feature.

THE WASHINGTON REPORT—an on-the-spot report of developments in the Nation's Capital, capsulized from a young conservative viewpoint, is sent each month to YAF members. The report features progress reports on important legislation, and items of interest that cannot be found in daily newspapers. The report also includes a special digest and tally of the voting records of every Senator and Representatives in Congress.

REPORT ON THE LEFT—is the newest YAF publication, edited by a young but eminently qualified, expert on the "far left." No where else can you find such an up-to-the-minute digest of what's going on in the Communist Party, and in the myriad Marxist groups on campus and in the anti-anti-communist movement in the U.S.

YAF ORGANIZATION MANUAL—Every member who requests it will be sent a copy of the "College and Community Organization Manual," a compilation of the best, proven methods of organizing a YAF chapter, including tips on programming, speakers, special projects, and fund-raising.

SENATOR BARRY GOLDWATER:
"I consider Young Americans for Freedom and the excellent work it has been doing to be of great importance to the future of our country. I am particularly gratified that YAF has been one of the most responsible political action groups in the nation."

SENATOR STROM THURMOND:
"Young Americans for Freedom is the most responsible, effective, energetic conservative youth group in the United States. The vital work that these young people are doing is without a doubt the most encouraging sign on the American political scene today."

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR.:
"YAF just possibly, will influence the political future of this country, as why should it not, considering that its membership is young, intelligent, articulate and determined, its principles enduring, its aim to translate these principles into political action in the world which has lost its moorings and is looking about for them desperately."

SENATOR JOHN G. TOWER:
"Young Americans for Freedom is one of the most responsible young people's group in the country today and is doing an excellent job of spearheading the young conservative movement."

RONALD REAGAN:
"I know of nothing more encouraging for the future of our Nation than the appearance on the political horizon of intelligent, young people determined not to trade their heritage of freedom for the 'soup kitchen' of the welfare state. These young people are united in their common cause in the organization appropriately called—'Young Americans for Freedom.'"

J. EDGAR HOOVER
tells American youth:

"CHALLENGE not compromise"

Printed and distributed by:

YOUNG AMERICANS FOR FREEDOM

Yours is a generation of great challenge. Through no choice of your own, you have entered the world at a time when deadly forces challenge your right, and the right of every American, to live in freedom under God.

Young people in postwar America have grown up with the disillusioning knowledge that the world is no longer safe for democracy.

High ideals are the birthright of youth, but the youth of postwar America must face, also, the chaos which present-day society presents, and bring about order through the realization of those high ideals.

We are at war with communism, in different ways on different fronts around the world. The Communist ideology is born in hate, but our philosophy of life is the practice of love and faith.

Just as freedom is your right, so challenge is your heritage — for freedom, once won, must constantly be defended.

America's Lifeline

Today, our country faces the most severe test ever to confront a free people. Here and abroad, mortal enemies of freedom and deniers of God Himself conspire to undermine the fundamental forces which are the lifeline of our country's vitality and greatness—our most formidable weapons, in peace and in war.

What are these forces? They are:

Faith: faith in a Supreme Being: God, the author of liberty.

Individualism: inherent dignity and worth of every sovereign individual with his personal rights and responsibilities.

Courage: the courage of a free people firmly dedicated to the noblest cause.

Integrity: that quality of trustworthiness which is essential in dealings between men, and between countries.

Discipline: and self-discipline, which are vital in a nation governed by laws rather than by men.

Vision: such as led our Founding Fathers into the perilous dangers of a hostile wilderness that was to become the proud American Republic in which we live today.

These are America's great bulwarks. They are under savage attack today, just as they were so severely tested nearly 200 years ago at Bunker Hill and at Valley Forge.

Daniel Webster, that brilliant early American statesman, eloquently declared, "God grants liberty only to those who love it, and are always ready to guard and defend it."

Daniel Webster knew the heavy price America had paid for her liberty. And he knew also the disintegrating effect of self-indulgence, neglect of duty and public lethargy in a nation of free men.

These lethal influences are at work, constantly undermining the sense of personal responsibility and self-discipline so essential to our Nation's welfare. They form a common denominator with the aggressive enemies of our Republic in assaulting the cause of decency and justice across the length and breadth of the land.

These Are Our Enemies

Who are these enemies of our Republic? They are the crime syndicates, the narcotics peddlers, the labor racketeers, the unscrupulous businessmen, the corrupt politicians and all others who blatantly defy the laws of the land.

They are the hatemongers and the false liberals who would subvert our Constitution and undermine our democratic processes in furtherance of their selfish ends.

They are the Communists and other subversive elements who wave false banners of legitimacy and patriotism while relentlessly plotting to destroy our heritage of freedom.

Communism — in all its forms and in all its variations — is the avowed enemy of liberty and of justice and of God. The Communists fear free and independent thought. They fear truth. They fear God even though they deny Him. They fear the inherent courage and dignity of man created in His image.

Today, the Communists are engaged in an intensive campaign to control the minds and win the allegiance of American youth. Toward this end, a National Youth Commission has been established within the Communist Party, U.S.A.; special publications have been issued; front groups have been organized; and an ambitious speech program has been directed against our colleges and universities.

During the past 2 years, Communist spokesmen have appeared on nearly 100 campuses from coast to coast. Their purpose: To create confusion, raise questions and spread doubt among our young people concerning the American way of life.

If their constitutional right to free speech allows them to use the public school forum to promote the secular creed of Marxism-Leninism which openly and avowedly denies God, does their constitutional freedom of religion also prohibit the rest of us from using the same public school forum to express our faith that God does exist?

It is indeed ironic that Communist Party speakers — whose minds and thoughts and actions are in no manner free — should demand the opportunity to parrot the Moscow line to young Americans under the guise of academic freedom.

Academic Freedom Is No License

Academic freedom is not an instrument for the perpetuation of conspiratorial ideologies. Nor is it an agent of self-destruction — a freedom to destroy freedom. As a free-flowing channel of truth and knowledge, academic freedom is not obligated to carry along the silted tributaries of lies and distortions of known Communists.

The Communists look upon students as potential sympathizers, supporters, and contributors to the party's cause. Nor are they unmindful of the rich opportunity for infiltration presented by unwary racial and nationality groups.

This is especially true of the intense civil rights movement within the United States — for America's 20 million Negroes and the countless other citizens who share their objectives in the current struggle are a priority target for Communist propaganda and exploitation. Every organization engaged in this struggle must constantly remain alert to this vital fact, for, once under Communist domination, all freedoms and rights are lost.

The Communists are eager to capitalize upon all areas of misunderstanding and unrest. Their cause is the cause of Soviet Russia, for the Communist Party, U.S.A., is an inseparable part of the sinister international conspiracy which is financed and directed by the Kremlin. No amount of lies and duplicity can conceal this carefully documented fact.

Today, the godless Communist conspiracy controls more than one-third of the earth's people and a fourth of her land surface. In Europe, in Asia, and here in our own Western Hemisphere, we witness the stark tragedy of souls, chained to the yoke of communism, clamoring to be free again.

The Communists in This Country

The Khrushchevs, the Castros, and the Mao Tse-tungs are faced with an eternal dilemma: The human spirit in bondage — no matter how heavy the chains — struggles relentlessly to break free. Witness the Hungarian revolution; the boatloads of Marxist victims who continue to pour out of Cuba; the Poznan riots in Poland; the heroic dashes of subjugated people through the Iron and Bamboo Curtains.

Make no mistake about the Communists in this country. Whether they are members of Soviet-bloc diplomatic establishments in New York and Washington — or whether they are fanatical adherents of the Communist Party, U.S.A. — all represent the same ideology of treachery, deceit, and subversion.

From the immunity which they enjoy as foreign diplomats on American soil, Soviet and satellite officials continue to carry out espionage assignments against the United States. That some American citizens, including concealed adherents to the Communist Party, have knowingly and willingly assisted these Iron Curtain intelligence networks is a criminal disgrace and a blight not only upon our Nation, but upon the entire free world. And it is equally disgraceful that well-meaning but uninformed citizens have permitted themselves to be duped by sympathy campaigns on behalf of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, Morton Sobell, and other traitors.

Nowhere is the hope for peace more sincere than in the hearts of all true Americans. But in our quest for peace, we must never lose sight of the well-documented fact that every Red leader from Marx and Engels through Khrushchev, Mao, and the American Communist spokesman, Gus Hall, is dedicated to an ideology which upholds world conquest as its ultimate goal.

The Communists have never deviated from this objective. Despite the high-pressure campaign they have mounted behind Khrushchev's phrase of "peaceful coexistence," the Communists know that this is simply a propaganda slogan — one devised to further their own ends by stirring the hopes and emotions of those who seek an end to the turmoil, fear, and sorrow that world communism itself created.

Judge Communists by Their Actions

Actions continue to speak louder than words, and certainly the Communists have shown no indication of a sincere quest for peace.

The takeover of Cuba and effort to convert it into an island fortress against democracy; the ever-constant infiltration of Red Fascists into countries of Central and South America to create a Sovietized Latin America; the increase of espionage activities by Soviet and satellite agents in our country, particularly those who strive to penetrate our Government processes from the protection afforded them by diplomatic assignments in New York and Washington; the frantic efforts of the Communist Party, U.S.A., to subvert our youth; and the intense drive of the Communists operating from concealed positions to wrest control of the movement for Negro rights — does all this indicate a real and sincere desire to live in peaceful coexistence?

In recent years, the Communists have demonstrated an attitude of open defiance and contempt for our laws — an attitude which is fortified by their repeated ability to invoke loopholes, technicalities, and delays in the law to thwart justice. One former judge found cause to warn last summer not only of inexcusable delays in the courts, but also of what he considered to be a "trend of decisions in the last 10 years . . . favorable to extreme leftwingers, Communists, and subversives in general."

Another student of court rulings in the internal security field was prompted to observe, "Unfortunately, subversive activities are well on the way to becoming a no-man's land in the law."

In 1957, a Federal judge in the Nation's Capital assailed what he considered to be "an unfortunate trend of judicial decisions . . . which strain and stretch to give the guilty, not the same, but vastly more protection than the law-abiding citizen." There has been no reversal of this alarming trend — a trend which is felt in our steadily rising national crime problem.

Justice in a free nation means protection for society as a whole, rather than leniency for the individual to the detriment of society.

Since 1957, when the Federal judge issued his warning, crime has increased nearly 40 percent. Its victims continue to mount at a relentless rate. Four serious crimes are committed every minute; there is a crime of violence every 3 minutes; and property crimes — robberies, burglaries, larcenies, and automobile thefts — occur within seconds.

Americans, in growing numbers, are developing a dangerously indulgent attitude toward crime, filth, and corruption. No one can deny that motion pictures are deliberately and defiantly pursuing an increasingly bold courtship with obscenity. No one can deny the role of the television industry in bringing lurid portrayals of violence and sadism into the living rooms — and even the nurseries — of our homes. No one can deny that sensual trash is moving closer and closer to the children's books on the shelves of our newsstands and magazine stores.

Youth Needs Strength, Not Weakness

Our youth do not need weakness; they need strength. They do not need indulgence; they need the guidance and the discipline which can best be provided by a decent home.

Above all, they need the benefit of religion — in church, at home, and in the atmosphere of our classrooms.

Despite the dedicated efforts of church and civic leaders and others who have a sincere interest in the proper development of our young people, the failures continue to mount. Each year, persons under 18 years of age are involved in nearly two-thirds of the arrests for automobile thefts, and approximately one-half of the burglary and larceny arrests. The newspapers of our major cities recount incidents of senseless murders, violent assaults, and brutal beatings inflicted upon innocent victims by arrogant gangs of teenagers and young adults.

Courts are influenced too much by the age — rather than the record — of the young hoodlum who stands before the bar of justice.

The bleeding hearts, some actually sworn to administer the law either as judges or social workers, are so concerned for young criminals and terrorists that they are indifferent to the rights of law-abiding members of society.

We have mollycoddled young criminals, lightly tapped hardened offenders on the wrists, and released some unreformed and unrepentant hoodlums to prey anew on society.

The time is long overdue for us to adopt a more realistic attitude toward this critical problem. We have tried the charitable approach toward young hoodlums and it has failed.

We are paying dearly for these failures. They represent a tragic waste of America's most valuable resource — the moral, mental, and physical health of her young citizens.

The crime problem costs the American people some $22 billion a year — nine times the amount contributed to our churches. For every $1 spent on educating our children, $1.11 goes to crime.

Needed: Temperance, Logic, Decency

Nowhere in recent months have our people faced a more explosive condition of shame and violence than among the hatemongers, the moral degenerates, the lunatic fringe, and the other irrational fanatics who preach a doctrine of hostility toward their fellow man. This rabble has sown the dragons' teeth of malice and intimidation, and from the ground has sprung a series of hate-driven riots, bombings, and desecrations.

The voices of temperance, logic and decency must speak out more effectively and make their influence felt. No problem is so acute, no crisis so severe, that terrorism can be tolerated in a society of free men. Hate, terror, lawlessness are not the American way of accomplishing any objective that is truly worthwhile. In meeting the tense crises which confront the United States in this nuclear age, we must look to God for guidance and inspiration.

Challenge, Not Compromise

This country has never run from its enemies. Challenge, not compromise — bravery, not cowardice — are integral parts of our heritage. Since that critical hour in 1777 when General Washington ordered his Revolutionary Army to "Put none but Americans on guard tonight," it has been the tradition of our proud Nation to rise to its greatest heights in the face of adversity.

There are important lessons to be learned in the pages of American history. From Faneuil Hall to Cape Canaveral, our greatest patriots have been men and women of deep religious conviction: Men like Thomas Jefferson, the principal author of our Declaration of Independence, who told his fellow colonists, "The God who gave us life, gave us liberty at the same time."

In the eyes of a later-day hero, "Freedom, devotion to God and country are not things of the past. They will never become old fashioned." These words were spoken by Astronaut John H. Glenn.

America remains free because men of faith, men of individualism, men of courage, men of integrity, men of discipline and men of vision have patrolled her most vital outposts for 187 years.

These strong qualities — faith, individualism, courage, integrity, discipline, and vision — are the keys to freedom.

When the United States has lost its youthful outlook, it will have lost its vitality and its capacity for progress. That is why I charge the young people assembled here tonight to preserve the pioneer spirit which has been the soul of America since her birth.

Meet Challenge With Confidence

Meet every new challenge with confidence and determination. As you look to the future, do not lose sight of the important lessons of the past. History, all too often, repeats itself. The freedoms you enjoy today will be lost, as they have been destroyed at other times and in other nations, through neglect and abuse.

Do not hesitate to speak out and bring public pressure to bear upon negative influences within your communities. We must never become so accustomed to filth or so intimidated by the advocates of so-called worldly reality that we fail to revolt against corruption and decay.

May you always protect America's heritage of freedom. May you, with God's holy guidance, preserve and strengthen that priceless heritage for the generations yet to come.

Let us protect and defend the real meaning of America. This is the debt we owe to the brave legions of the past who laid down their lives to safeguard the great truths which guide our destiny today.

RONALD REAGAN:
"I know of nothing more encouraging for the future of our Nation than the appearance on the political horizon of intelligent, young people determined not to trade their heritage of freedom for the "soup kitchen" of the welfare state. These young people are united in their common cause in the organization appropriately called—"Young Americans for Freedom."
